DELAYS $14,000,000.

The Vessels Already at the Sault Disaster Valued at About $14,000,000.

Expected That Passage of Ships Will be Resumed Tomorrow With a Rush.

List of Down Bound Boats, Ore and Wheat Laden, Waiting For Passage.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 14.—The blockade continues. The fleet tied up here is increasing. About 140 vessels are in Lake Superior and the river above the Peck, most of them are now at or below the canal. Dredges are hard at work, but are not properly equipped for the soft bottom where the channel is being made.

It appears now that it will require longer to dredge around the wreck than at first thought, and the indications lead to the belief that navigation cannot be resumed before Thursday.

The situation at the scene of the blockade this morning is practically unchanged. The work of dredging the new channel is progressing with all possible speed, the work going on night and day. It is almost certain navigation will reopen Thursday night.

There is a break in the bow of the Peck extending down to the bilge. Her deck is bulged, an opening of a couple of inches amidships, from the after hatch to the forward one. The 60,000 bushels of wheat is not yet swelled enough to injure her.

Competent judges say that unless strict regulation regarding the passage of vessels is adhered to serious damage will be done. The following is a list of down bound vessels: Gilcher, Moran, Nimick, Weed, Constitution, Magee, Neosho, Frontenac, Tacoma, Colonial, Castalia, King, Bissel, Young, Marina, Pope, Northern Light, Gilchrist, Colgate Hoyt, India, Manola, Empire State, Matoa, Mariska, Owen, Maruba, Adams, Spokane, Manitoba, Everett, Minch, Vienna, Paige, Constitution, Harper, Wawatam, Gould, City of London, Massasoit, Yakima, barge 111, Iron Cliff, Iron Chief, Panther, Germanic, Hutchinson, Hackett, Brown, Aurora, Minch, Pease, Planet.

About as many more are waiting to get up. The fleets make an imposing sight and represent in money value, without cargo, a total of about $14,000,000. The cargo value of the down-bound fleet may safely be estimated at $1,500,000.

RUSSIA'S GREAT HEAD.

She Would Anger English Defendants in Asia so as to be on the Defensive.

MOSCOW, Oct. 14.—The Russians are massing troops toward the Afghan frontier, and Russia, it is stated, is rather anxious for a pretext to make war on the Afghans. With this view Russian emissaries in Afghanistan are endeavoring to stimulate the people to an aggressive course toward the Tuscomans and others under Russian protection, and thus give Russia the excuse of beginning war on the defensive. The ameer of Afghanistan is said to be fully aware of Russian's intentions.

Shawneetown, Ill.—Fire yesterday destroyed the law office of Bartley & Son, who lost a portion of their library; two frame business houses owned by Mr. Adams of Kansas City; the stables and outhouses of the Germania house, Sherer's mercantile tailoring house and Pruett's livery stable. The body was cut into pieces, and an examination showed that the skull had been crushed. Whalen was intimate with Mrs. Coy and this was the probable cause of the murder. Coy is about 35 years old, and from the time of Whalen's disappearance until his arrest, drove a street car at Westfield.

IS TASCOTT DEAD?

A Crazy Baltimore Woman Says Her Husband Helped Murder Snell.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Sophia E. Ordway, widow of the late Albert K. Ordway, a clothing cutter, who suicided here last March, makes some queer statements about the Snell murder in Chicago. She says her husband was a companion of Tascott, and told her he was going to have some of old Snell's money or die in the attempt. She also declares that Tascott was strangled and his body made away with by his pals.

Chicago—Albert J. Stone, son-in-law of the murdered millionaire Snell, says he takes no stock in the sensational story from Baltimore. It is false and without foundation. Ira J. Ordway, father of Albert K., said that his son married a Mrs. Beckman, who lived on Morgan street. Soon after the marriage they went to Baltimore. The Tascott story he had never heard of before, he said, and he could give no opinion in regard to it.

SCHOOLS IN STILLWATER.

That City Follows Faribault's Example as to Parochial Schools.

STILLWATER, Minn,, Oct. 14.—At the regular meeting of the school board last evening it was decided to accept the proposition of St. Michaels Roman catholic parish to turn over the parochial schools to the city. The buildings will be leased for one year for the nominal rental of $1. The present teachers will be retained if found competent.

CARNEGIE CUTS.

He Will Save Enough to Build Another Public Library.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—Yesterday the Carnegie firm presented a preliminary scale to a portion of their employes at the Edgar Thomson Steel works, but which virtually referred to all. Representatives, it is said, were summoned to the office from all departments of the converting mills and were presented with copies of the new wage scale.

The temporary scale, as it is called, cuts down the tonnage men in the converting mill to a great extent, the reduction in many instances being $2.20 to $2.50 a day. In some instances the reduction reaches 60 per cent. The greater reduction affects the better paid men. The men who have been making $150 per month will hereafter make $90 per month under the new scale.

On the whole 3000 men employed at the plant the reduction will be an average of only about 10 per cent. It is claimed that the cut is counteracted by increased capacity.

IT IS CRITICAL.

Nancy's Substitute.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 14.—The announcement made from the stand yesterday that Nancy Hanks would be unable to start in her match with Allerton Thursday caused no little disappointment, but the substitution of Delmarch, by Budd Doble of the little mare, met with general approval. Delmarch is in one respect like Nancy Hanks, he is unbeaten, and his race record of 2:12, made at Cambridge City, Ind., last month, has never been approached by any other stallion.

Local Politics Don't Count.

LARGEST IN THE WORLD.

Engines to be Built for the Erie at the Baldwin Works.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—The Baldwin Locomotive works is building five engines for the Erie that will be the largest ever constructed. They will weigh 88 tons and will be used for hauling heavy freight over the mountains.

There has just been completed at the works the largest compound locomotive ever built. It is for the fast freight service of the Erie. The company built the engine as a sample, along with 44 single expansion engines. A careful test will be made of its workings, for comparison with those of the single expansion type. The ordinary engines have cylinders 21 by 26 inches. The compound engine in question has cylinders 14 and 24 by 26 inches. The big compound engine is in other respects similar to ordinary engines. It is expected that this engine can be run at a saving of from 35 to 40 per cent.

The Baldwin company is now building 10 engines of a similar type for the Reading, five for the Pennsylvania and two for the Lehigh Valley.

WHAT FARMERS SAY.

The Wheat Damage Has Been Somewhat Overestimated They Think.

Chief State Grain Inspector A. C. Clausen is in town today. "I have not been out in the country to see for myself," said he, "and so I know nothing about the damage to wheat, except what I see in the papers. I am inclined to believe that the situation is not so bad as reports make out. In localities I sup the wheat is considerably damaged and the news about these localities is made to apply to the whole Northwest."

F. B. Swift, a farmer of Otter Tail county, is here attending the United States court. He says that he believes the reports in regard to damage from rain are greatly exaggerated for the purpose of allowing the Minneapolis peo to unload a large quantity of their wheat at high prices. There are thousands of acres of wheat in Otter Tail county in shock and he has not yet discovered an instance where the wheat is sprouting. The wheat is damaged a little by bleaching, but that is all.

The number of those participating in the uprising was about 600. It had been planned to assassinate President Obes but the plot was discovered in time.

The government supporters declare that the catholic clergy are largely responsible and urged the junta on in its outbreak. Montevideo has been placed under martial law. It has leaked out that $300,000 was offered the colonel of artillery to turn over the town to the rebels, but that he refused.

AS TO THE BLOCKADE.

The blockade of marine traffic between Lake Superior and the lower lakes is of course a serious matter, but the attendant loss will reach no such figures as the loss consequent upon the breaking of a lock in the Sault canal a little over a year ago. The fleet of vessels now engaged in the Lake Superior trade is very much smaller than the fleet which was blockaded in 1890, and the movement of iron ore and coal is today less urgent; but the amount of grain to go forward from Duluth is very large, and the loss from the existing blockade will fall upon the grain interest principally. Last year the blockade lasted only four days, but in that short time the loss as computed from the expense accounts of the blockaded vessels and the estimates of the value of the time to shippers reached imposing figures. The present blockade will probably last a trifle longer.

Accidents such as that which caused the blockade now in existence are unavoidable, and therefore liable to occur at any time. And as the traffic through the Sault and the channels connecting Lake Superior with the lower lakes is rapidly increasing, the problem of making these important waterways as secure as possible against such contingencies is worthy of careful and patient attention by the government engineers and by vessel men. These interests are, indeed, carefully considering the subject, and will do the best possible work in the most practicable way. It is needless for us to call meetings, pass resolutions and stew about like a small toad in a very large puddle over the occurrence. Just as decided steps will be taken to obviate the cause of the difficulty whether we do or not. Half the states in the Union are interested in the matter.

TO BUSINESS AT HOME.

Minneapolis furnished Duluth an object lesson yesterday which The Herald wants to emphasize for the benefit of citizens in general. The Typothetæ, an association of job printers, held a meeting and passed resolutions roundly censuring a prominent business firm in that city for having gone to Milwaukee to secure the printing of a catalogue, instead of having the work done at home, though the home bids were a trifle higher than the Milwaukee prices.

It is a course similar to that indicated by these resolutions, persistently pursued, that has helped in no small degree to make Minneapolis what it is today. The wholesale house which went east for its printing job was an exception to the rule, and attracted this attention and censure. As a rule Minneapolis people give preference to anything Minneapolis can produce. The result is that a Minneapolis workman or manufacturer is sure of the home market as far as there is any demand for his line of goods.

In Duluth, as in most other cities, the case is different. Not only do our business men send outside for goods they could get here, but our groceries dry goods, books and the necessities of life which can better be bought here than anywhere else, and imported in quantities that would be alarming if realized. It is, indeed, no wonder that private individuals do this when the very institutions which we support by our taxes, our county government, departments of our city administration, set the pernicious example.

Out upon a country board that has so little idea of its duties; out upon a city officer whose sense of honor and justice is so perverted, and out on the citizen who will injure and decry the home market except in cases of arrant injustice done him.

RECIPROCITY WITH GERMANY.

The reciprocity scheme of the present administration has been called a one-horse affair, but events do not prove it so. Some people condemn it because it does not go far enough. As to that it need only be said that it was not intended to be of universal application. It was intended only to be put in use where the condition would give the United States an advantage over other nations selling the same things we sell, and where a country has for export articles that come into general use in this country and which do not compete with domestic productions. In other words, it is a purely business scheme, as all tariff schemes should be. The treaties with Brazil and Spain are already bearing effect, as is seen in the increased exports to those countries.

The latest reciprocity treaty and the one which probably means more than all others is with the great German empire. Germany today puts a tariff on wheat and rye of 32 cents a bushel, nearly prohibitory. While the details of the treaty are not known it will be very beneficial to us. The tariffs will hardly be taken off, but will be largely reduced, so the Germans will come here largely for their wheat, especially for their low grades to take the place of rye. Heretofore we have had nothing to trade Germany for coucessions for our breadstuffs. Now the clause permitting the President to reimpose on German sugar (beet) the former tariff, the kaiser's government readily sees the advantage of a new treaty. Last year Germany imported $42,658,015 worth of breadstuffs, of which we shipped only $4,824,091. Under the new arrangement we ought to send $20,000,000 worth, if the German demand keeps up to the same point it was in 1890.

DULUTH AND CONVENTIONS.

Duluth is acquiring something of a reputation as a convention city. We are not large enough to take care of such great national bodies as the republican convention, which our Minneapolis neighbors are after, but the splendid climate, the numerous attractions of the city and the hospitality of our people are making Duluth a favorite meeting place for all state conventions. This year several large state conventions have been held within our borders. Next year the number will be still larger. The methodists last week selected Duluth as the meeting place of the next conference, the presbyterians had previously selected this city, and this week the baptists will resolve to come here. The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the latter body voted yesterday for Duluth and it always meets where the general convention is held. Both these great bodies have met in Duluth in recent years and know from experience how good a welcome they will get by the Cliff Dwellers. When we grow a little larger we shall reach out after the great national bodies and will get our share of them.

Monday's Chicago Herald contained an abstract of a sermon on Grant's life said to have been delivered the night before by Rev. O. E. Murray, of Wabash avenue methodist church. Among other things he is reported as saying that "the school fund has been divided in Duluth, New Haven and several other places," meaning that some of the public money was used in aid of the parochial schools. So far as Duluth is concerned Mr. Murray is mistaken. Private schools in Duluth must support themselves or go to the wall. The people of Duluth are of the opinion that the public schools are good enough for anybody and there has never been any attempt to have school funds diverted from their ordinary channel. The statement alleged to have been made by the Chicago divine does this city a great injustice.

Prospects begin to look brighter for Minneapolis as the convention city of the national republicans next year. For some reason there appears a disposition to give Chicago the go-by, and if this feeling should continue the struggle will be between Minneapolis and Cincinnati. If McKinley should win by a great majority in Ohio, Cincinnati will probably be put aside. On the other hand a May date is favorable to that city, while a later meeting would help Minneapolis. Senator Washburn is now in the East booming the Flour city. Committeeman and Senator Squire of Washington has announced his intention of voting for Minneapolis and his belief that most of the Western men would vote with him. Julius C. Burrows, of Michigan joins the boomers for our big city.

A West Superior man has discovered silver within seven miles of the town, and a dispatch from that place says there is a great exodus of old miners from there to the new eldorado. They must have some excitement over there to keep the blood flowing in the veins of the real estate agents. These "old miners" are probaly the men who excavated for that great sewer.

With three great religious denominations voting to meet in Duluth next year and within a few days of each other, it begins to look as if they premeditated a general onslaught upon the wickedness of our fair city. Sinners will be getting out of the way in droves when the dominies begin so arrive.

Boston has discovered that the prices of beans are now only 9 to 12 cents a quart against 10 to 15 cents before the McKinley law was passed and the Bostonese will at once take measures to have the statue of the Ohio Napoleon placed on Fanniel hall.

It's a queer way they have up in Tower of celebrating weddings—cutting off the head of one of the celebrants. However, this is the great Northwest and a free country.

SEEN AND HEARD.

They were talking about the jokes perpetrated upon the legal fraternity when Mayor Martin, of West Duluth, who is a member of the profession told about a law that was enacted in Montana that related to "lawyers and all other cattle." That, Mr. Martin considered, was the unkindest cut he had ever known as being given the members of the bar in any state. The act was shortly after changed so as to read "lawyers and all other professional men." Bad writing assisted by a blacksmith typesetter and a very dull proof reader had done the work.

A good joke is being told on one of the reporters on the News. Sunday morning he was detailed to write up the lecture, sermon or whatever we may call it given by Moses Hull, the spiritualist. The reporter was somewhat late in arriving at the hall and a short time before he entered the lecturer had paid his respects to the News because it would not insert his notice among the notes of Sunday services. Mr. Hull used the words "one-horse editor of a one-horse newspaper" in the course of his remarks. Some people were expecting that the News would have a delicious roast for Mr. Hull yesterday morning, but the reporter had not been apprised of Mr. Hull's prelude and so they were disappointed.

My friend Hansen, the deputy sheriff, is seriously considering the advisability of changing his name. Hansen is somewhat of a Swedish name and when one sees it following something that looks "Swan" it is a matter of course to decide that the deputy sheriff's name is "Swan Hansen." However, the "Swan" is not "Swan" but "Iwan." Those who have business to transact with the ample proportioned official should be very careful not to get the "Iwan" and "Swan" confused hereafter, as he is in a desperate condition.

W. M. Deary, a lumberman operating in the Rainy river country, last week made a trip through the district struck by a cyclone or tornado about two weeks ago, and reported the damage as much worse than reported. "The cyclone," he said, "started on the Red Lake reservation about 10 miles from Rainy river, and pursued a southeastern course ending near Swan lake. It fairly mowed down the timber on a strip from three to 14 miles in width and 60 miles in length. Trees three feet in thickness were snapped off near the ground. The state lost considerable timber, but the government much more on land unsurveyed. Private parties, too, lost a little. It was the worst blowdown I have ever seen."

Frank B. Clarke, manager of the Consolidated Land company of Old Superior, has just returned from a four moths' trip to Europe for the benefit of his health, and looks much improved by the trip. In talking of the trip Mr. Clarke said to a St. Paul reporter that all that had "been said concerning the cramped condition in these countries is true. There is a great shortage of crops, and the supply must necessarily come from the American markets. I did not visit Russia, but I came in close contact with many who did, and from them learned that a most deplorable condition exists in that country. I believe affairs are such that the American farmer can dictate the prices of breadstuffs in the foreign markets. All foreign nations, with the exception of Russia, have money in abundant amounts to pay for our wheat and other products. The large number of men forced into service annually is depleting the agricultural ranks, and most of the work is now done by women. I saw ten women at work in the fields to one man in many localities. I also saw, what would never be for a moment tolerated in America, women laying tracks and rails in building a railway. I want none of that country where they employ women to lay railroad tracks, and women and cows to plow the fields."

The short line train for West Duluth and Oneota, leaving Union depot at 3:55 in the afternoon, is getting to be quite a school train. Some of its cars are literally possessed by high school boys and girls just over the day's study and as full of spirits as they can be packed. Perhaps those young people don't have a good time on that train. The chatter of the girls drowns alf other conversation, while the boys pelt each other with all the loose copies of the "Short Line," which is, indeed, far the best use that circumscribed sheet can have. They joke and fool away the time of the speeding train, and the other passengers have pleasure in watching them. I imagine, however, that if the boys realized how closely they were noticed many of them would be a deal more gentlemanly and polite than they now are, not only to their girl school friends, but to women on the cars.

It's all well enough to talk economy in the abstract, but in order to make arrangement effective with the average individual, some real example of the benefits that have been derived from the practice of economy should be given him. While I was talking the other day with Secretary Chan Smith, of the Union Building & Loan association, a member of the association dropped in to pay his dues of $50. He has had his shares since the association was organized, four years ago, and every time he makes a deposit of $50 now his earnings amounts to $40. That young man sees the fruits of being economical and he accordingly has over $3000 laid by, which might have gone to the winds were it not for the association. "I feel," said he, "as if I had contracted a debt of $50 every month and I am uneasy until the instalment is paid up."

Love's Visitor.

[Atlanta Constitution.]

I see her in the near light, in the far light
At dawn when flowers are fragrant with the dew;
At twilight when the shimmer of the starlight
The tangle of the vines comes peeping through;

Her eyes, as in the fair and far-away time,
Are beautiful and tender, and her cheek
Is rosy with the richness of the May-time,
But the loving lips are silent when I speak.

Perhaps the woven love-words that I bring her
She treasures in silence—little worth;
She'd rather hear the songs the angels sing her
Than listen to the lowlier songs of earth.

Yet, wherefore from the seraph-guarded portal—
Beyond, where glooms the dark, dividing sea
Whose waters love the shining shore immortal,
In light and night comes back my child to me?

Forever comes! O doubting heart, no heaven—
Howe'er its walls may tower the stars above,
With gates that look down on the unforgiven,
Can stay the hands that love holds out to love!

$800—Wanted, to borrow that amount six months; good security, will pay to per cent; no commission. Address A. B. M., care of Herald.

LISTEN TO REASON AND MAKE MONEY.

Splendid Opportunities.

The Way to Get a Start in Life And an Easy Road to Travel.

It is a fact that many people of moderate means have bought and paid for lots in Crosley Park, in the last two years, and have made money.

Every person who bought a lot on the installment plan has made his payments without any special trouble or inconvenience to himself, and every such person is from $100 to $300 better off for doing so. Many people have got their start in life in this way, however small that start may be. The payments were light and easy, and were made with money that would have been frittered away had they not been put into this property. Then, what is still better, every lot has made from 25 to 100 per cent advance, and that is all clear gain, and is a saving of that amount of hard labor on the part of many of our patrons.

There is no better or cheaper property today at the Head of the Lake, and none that will make a better percentage of advance in the next two years than Crosley Park lots. Many who were skeptical two years ago are thoroughly convinced now. It is standard property, and will continue to advance in price for years to come.

Real Estate is the safest possible investment, as everyone knows, and when you can get a PERFECTLY safe investment that will make such large profits and can pay for them at your leisure, and in such small payments that you don't feel them, isn't it an opportunity? Of course it is, and you may not see such chances again to get a start in life if you were to live a hundred years. Splendid Duluth property like this will not always be cheap, and you will soon find that there is none within the reach of poor people or petsons of moderate means.

While you are in health, and can save money, why not put it into good property like this?

PUTTING IN NEW MILLS.

Duluth to be Made a Center For Hardwood Lumber Dealing and the First Large Mill Now Being Built.

Another Operator Buys a Small Sawmill on the Eastern Minnesota and Locates In This City.

Notes of Fresh News Gathered of One of Duluth's Greatest and Fast Growing Industries.

Manager Stevens, of the Cranberry Lumber company, informs The Herald that he has entered into a contract with his brother, J. B. Stevens, whereby the latter is to cut all the oak, basswood, birch and other hardwoods on the company's lands. Of the oak there is over 10,000,000 feet. For this purpose a mill is being erected at the mouth of the Cranberry river. The machinery is now on the ground and will be in operation in about two weeks. The daily capacity will be 30,000 feet. The hardwoods are to be sawed at the mouth of the river because it is practically impossible to raft them to the company's Duluth mill on account of their lack of buoyancy.

It is the intention to make Duluth the market for the lumber and it will be brought here on a scow to be built for the company at Saginaw this winter. This scow will be 125 feet long and have 32 feet beam. The company has a great demand for hardwood at this point for local consumption and for shipment.

During the past 60 days it has shipped 114 cars of pine lumber to the West and had many orders that it could not fill on account of the greenness of the lumber.

During the coming winter the company's dock at the mouth of the river, which is now 128 feet long, will be run out 500 feet into the lake and the logging railroad will be run on it so that logs can be rolled off the cars direct into the rafting booms when there is not enough water in the pond to sluice the logs out. The tug Bennett has had 23 tows this season and has not had an accident. There are enough of the company's logs now in the Gray mill boom at Rices Point to last until December 1. The company will have cut about 16,000,000 feet of logs here before the close of this season. About the same amount will be sawed at Ashland and Washburn. One hundred men are in the woods now. Fifty will be added to get out the full cut.

Mathews Comes to Duluth.

Sam Mathews, of Stillwater, yesterday bought the Rhodes sawmill on the Eastern Minnesota, just inside the Carlton county line and will run it summer and winter, making his headquarters in Duluth. It will cut 25,000 feet a day. He can probably cut about 5,000,000 by running summer and winter. He has for some time owned considerable timber in the vicinity of the mill and a few days ago purchased several million at the state sale of stumpage. Rhodes, who is a Superior contractor, has had poor success in running the mill, but Mathews is known as a successful manufacturer and with his ample capital will undoubtedly make a good thing of his venture.

Lumber Notes.

Ben F. Howard has 20 men in the woods in 51-14.

Peyton, Kimball & Barber have just sent a few men to Foxboro to lay their plans for the winter's work. They intend to run a short spur track off from the Eastern Minnesota, on which they will haul some of their logs to the mill. The rest will come down the Nemadji.

Lumbermen say that woodsmen are now beginning to show up in good shape and no trouble is anticipated from a lack of help. Many of them are drifting in here from the country mills, which are shutting down for the year. Going wages are about the same as last year, $24 to $30.

Mitchell & McClure now have 150 men logging in the woods one mile south of Barker. They have two logging engines and are about to purchase a third. The tug Savidge commenced work yesterday morning for the firm and is under contract to tow 3,000,000 feet of logs from the end of the logging road across to the mill at West Duluth. The mill is cutting steady now something like 220,000 feet or more a day. No attempt has been made to show what can be done with the saws. Very large piles of lumber are accumulating on the company's dock and dredging is so nearly finished that boats will be able to get there in a very short time.

Williston, Charnley & Co. intend to cut only about 8,000,000 this winter as they will be able to continue logging next summer. A short branch will be built by the Duluth & Iron Range to accommodate them.

C. S. Murray & Co. has decided to largely increase their cut during the coming winter.

William Campbell, while coupling cars yesterday on the Nelson Lumber company's railroad, above Cloquet, had his head crushed by a projecting log. He was killed instantly.

Duncan, Brewer & Co. have cut since they started their new mill, May 20, 13,000,000 feet, and are now running overtime to get what logs they have cut before cold weather. They expect to get out 15,500,000 before the close of the season. The mill, which has a circular and an 8-inch band, is averaging 90,000 feet in 10 hours. It is a very satisfactory mill and doing excellent work. The firm will put in 15,000,000 feet of logs this winter, and already has two contractors at work. About 11,000,000 feet will be chopped by contract.

R. A. Gray has averaged all season 110,000 feet daily with a circular and gang. He cut last Saturday 137,000 feet, the best record he ever made. For the year he will get in about 16,000,000 feet. He will get out on his own account 8,000,000 feet during the winter.

Recent rains have not brought down any of the hung up logs on the Nemadji, and about 4,500,000 feet are still back. Duncan, Brewer & Co., have just finished cleaning up the stream and it is now in better shape for driving than it has ever been.

The statement that the big lumber firm of the Wentworths, of Bay City, would build a mill at Cloquet is denied by S. R. Wentworth, who is interested in the firm.

Kate Claxton.

Kate Claxton, with her company of distinguished players, will soon be with us in her revival of the "Two Orphans." With its many attractive features, elaborate scenery and accessories, it will without doubt fill the spacious Lyceum. It would be a difficult matter to find a more thoroughly popular artist than Kate Claxton. Her excellent rendition of Louise and the world-wide success she has achieved have been a source of delight. Claxton has never appeared in a part so well adapted to her peculiar style as Louise, which gives her full scope for the display of genuine pathos. The sale opened this morning and is very large.

SAYS IT'S A GO.

President Truelsen Thinks the Sliding Bridge a Solution.

"The person who informed you that Mr. Melber's proposed sliding draw bridge over the canal would cost about $200,000 got his figures too high," said President Truelsen, of the board of works this morning. His estimate is $100,000. I am highly pleased with the scheme and think it is far superior to anything that has yet been proposed. You see we would save by it $150,000 on the approaches, over $100,000 on the pier that the ordinary draw would demand and I don't know how much damages to property. This bridge is level with the street and consequently does not damage anyone's property.

"But there is another point that brings the project into favor. The cost is so small that the owners of Park Point property will be able to bear the whole expense and will gladly take it up to get connection with the city. You see the rest of the city could not kick in such a case. Mr. Melber thinks he ought to have a month in which to perfect plans, and that it would take only six months to build it. The bridge would probably be worked from the Park Point side.

"Why did not the other engineers propose such a bridge? Because its a bridge that isn't often seen. It's a first-class kind of bridge, but the conditions for it are not often to be found. You see ordinarily where a bridge spans a narrow river the topography of the ground in the immediate vicinity is not such as would make such a bridge as his of advantage. Here the conditions are all in favor of it. Mr. Melber was engineer for Carnegie six years and ought to understand his business. He says he is able to give bonds that the bridge will prove highly satisfactory. His plans would embrace a bridge that would do the same work as those proposed by other engineers."

Mr. Truelsen has talked with some of the alderman about the bridge and they are favorably impressed. So are the mayor and other members of the board of works.

CHARTS OF THE LAKES.

Government Officials to Make Hydrographic Surveys at Once.

The government is about to begin the work of hydrographic surveys for the preparation of charts of the great lakes. While the hydrographic office of the navy department is constantly studying and making charts of the sea, nothing of the sort has been done in connection with the lake navigation, the reason being that the treaty which prohibits a naval establishment on the lakes deprives the navy department of any active interest in the lake navigation.

In view of the importance of the commerce it has become very desirable to have charts showing the currents, shoals and location of wrecks on the great lakes, and the weather bureau has sent Dr. H. C. Penrod to Cleveland to establish a hydrographic office for this work.

LOOKING FOR A SITE.

A Very Prominent New York Manufacturer Sends Out Its Finance Committee to Some Western Cities.

Directors of the Walter A. Wood Harvester Works Look at Duluth as a Branch Location.

They Will Employ Five Hundred Men Wherever They Open Their Northwestern Shops.

A party of officers and stockholders, representing the Walter A. Wood Harvester company, of New York, arrived in the city on a special car over the Omaha this morning for the purpose of looking over the field, with a view to locating a branch of their works in this city. One of the gentlemen said this afternoon:

"We cannot now state what we shall do. A large plant in Minneapolis has been offered us, and we will inspect it. We have looked at considerable territory, but I hardly think we have yet seen any which would suit our company. We have visited Milwaukee and one or two other Western cities and shall go from here tomorrow to Minneapolis. From there we go home. When we get home, the party, which comprises the finance committee of the company, will make a report and on this report the directors will act in securing a new location in the West."

The Walter A. Wood company is one of the oldest and most powerful manufacturers of agricultural machinery in the world. Its capital is $5,000,000, and at its works at Hoosick Falls, N. Y., it employs 3000 men. It has long wanted to come West, and the present move is in fulfillment of this desire. In its Western plant it will expect to employ, at first, 500 men, the number to be gradually increased. It will be a valued addition to whatever city gets it. It is understood that the company does not desire a bonus, but wants Western people to become interested with it in its Western plant.

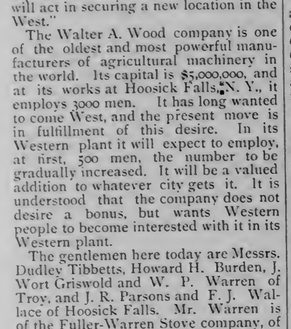

The gentlemen here today are Messrs. Dudley Tibbetts, Howard H. Burden, J. Wort Griswold and W. P. Warren of Troy, and J. R. Parsons and F. J. Wallace of Hoosick Falls. Mr. Warren is of the Fuller-Warren Stove company, of Troy, which has lately put in a branch plant at Milwaukee. They comprise the finance committee of the company. While here they are the guests of the New Duluth Land company and they went to New Duluth this afternoon.

TOMORROW'S CONCERT.

A Treat at Temple Opera for all Lovers of Music.

The concert to be given tomorrow night will be by Miss Augusta Ohrstrom, prima donna soprano, who is already well known, assisted by J. C. Abdill, tenor, formerly with Emma Abbott; N. Basil Pretson, basso, formerly with the Bostonians; Miss Alice Watson, pianist, and Violet Phelps, impersonator and violinist. Mme Ohrstrom writes from Minneapolis, where she now is, that the company will be joined here by Mr. Donald Balfe, basso. He is an excellent addition to the company, and has sung in Covent Garden theater, the London Crystal palace, before Wales and his wife, the duke of Edinburgh and others.

Miss Ohrstrom herself has sung in the leading cities of France and was a few years ago leading soprano in the Madeline. She went to France with personal letters of introduction from the King of Sweden to Prince Eugene Bernardotto, the American and Swedish ministers and many others. She is not only an artist but a musician at heart, full of music to her finger tips, and she is an independent, capable woman.

Beauty With Utility.

The science of optics has advanced wonderfully in the last few years. The "spec peddler" is rapidly disappearing and will soon be a thing of the past. The optician who would seek public patronage today must not only be qualified to prescribe perfect fitting lenses, but must also mount them in a perfect fitting frame. Another very important point is the selection of a spectacle becoming to the wearer. A style that would add beauty and character to one face, would detract from another. J. H. Ostrander, the expert optician, is an artist in his profession and may be seen all this week at F. D. Day's jewelry store, 315 West Superior street, Duluth. Examinations free.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat is Not so Strong as Yesterday, Though it Ought to Be.

Wheat couldn't stand the pressure today of a lot of long stuff in most markets and a very small short interest, and the boom of yesterday was lost. All indications were that there would be another stiff market, but today was another time when expectations were wrong. The reports from North Dakota were still of rains and big damage to crops. Cables were generally higher, the advance in wheat on passage being from 3@9d. There were further reports of the great Russian famine, and the New York Herald had an article that the government was negotiating for wheat of this country. Cables brought buying orders and some export business was done at New York and other ports, and the movement of wheat to market was much smaller. There were also war rumors. In spite of all these bull features the market, which opened ¼c to ⅜c higher, broke and ruled for most of the day weak and dull, with prices at a considerably lower level than last night's close. The bullish situation was brought about chiefly by the lack of buyers among the shorts at Chicago and New York and the selling of longs. There was a general disposition to look upon much of the news from North Dakota as greatly exaggerated, and a belief that while the grade of the wheat would suffer the wheat would still be there and for sale.

The board dispatch from Fargo said: "Cloudy and cold, northwest wind, 36 above. Heavy rains yesterday. No indications of clearing up." All the Chicago and New York papers were full of dispatches this morning detailing the serious injury of the wheat in Minnesota and Dakota. Here no further news of importance was received of the condition of affairs, Clearances from the seaboard were 259,168 bu wheat and 24,684 packages of flour. Reeceipts at the Atlantic ports were 363,770 bu against 19,638 bu. Exports last year were but 26,157 bu. Duluth and Minneapolis together got 743 cars against 688 yesterday. Receipts here are still declining, and will hardly pick up any until the weather in the West clears up. Shipments now from the country are mostly from the stocks of country elevators.

Cash No. 1 hard opened at ½ advance, at 98¾, declined and closed at 97½. No. 1 northern opened at 97¾, sold down to 96½ and closed at that, sellers. No. 2 northern opened at 92¾ and closed at 91½. No 3 closed at 86½ and rejected at 75.

October No. 1 hard did not sell. It closed at 99¾. No. 1 northern opened ⅛ up at 97⅞, broke, selling down to 96½ and closed at that bid.

December No. 1 hard closed at 98 bid. No. 1 northern opened at 97¼ and closed 1¼ lower at 96 sellers.

May was neglected. No. 1 hard closed at 105¾ and No. 1 northern at 103¾ sellers.

Receipts: Wheat, 288,107 bu; barley, 2851 bu; flax, 6925 bu; flour, 29,170 bbls. Shipments: Wheat, 337,183 bu; flour, 950 bbls. Cars on track: Northern Pacific, 57; Great Northern, 172; Omaha, 30; St. Paul & Duluth, 23; total, 280. Last year, 259.

The Black Hawk War.

The sturdy pioncers who occupied Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin for civilization 60 years ago often had the monotony of frontier life broken by conflicts with the Indians. The last struggle of any importance in this section occurred in 1832, and is known to history as the Black Hawk War, the moving spirit of the savage outbreak being the noted Black Hawk, chief of the Sacs and Foxes. Gen. Henry Dodge, afterwards senator from Wisconsin, was the leader in the hot pursuit which finally brought Black Hawk, with his warriors, women and children, to bay near the mouth of the Bad Axe river, on the east bank of the Mississippi, in what is now Nernon county, Wisconsin. The sun of that second day of August, 1832, set upon a bloody field, and the result was the death of nearly all the braves and the abrupt close of the campaign. The chief himself escaped and died years after at his home near Rock Island, Ill. The locality of the battle is now marked by the village of Victory, so named from this engagement, situated on and reached only by the Chicago, Burlington & Northern R. R., the "Scenic line," which touches most of the historic spots in the upper Mississippi valley. For further information as to the attractions of the line, tickets, rates and maps call on your local agent or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

HAS BEARING ON MANY.

The Notorious Naddo Title Sharp Case, Involving Titles to West End Lands Knocked Out.

In Line With Every Decision on Duluth Lands Ever Made, For Never Has a Contestant Won.

Judge Mills Makes an Important Decision as to the Rights of Street Railways.

The notorious Naddo land contest was knocked out this forenoon before United States Judge Thomas. The history of the case and the arguments are about as follows:

The complainant in 1863 obtained a patent from the government. Naddo, the day he recorded it, gave a warranty deed to his nephew Etu, which was recorded July 7, 1864, to enable Etu to manage the property. On July 7, 1854, Etu made a deed in the French language reconveying the property to Naddo. September 24, 1870, Naddo gave a power of attorney with power of substitution to Richard G. Coburn, authorizing the latter to sell and convey the land. Naddo left St. Louis county Sept. 24, 1870, and has since resided in Marquette and in Canada. In 1872 J. D. Ensign began suit against Naddo by attachment and levied on the property in suit. Judgment was entered and the property sold for $400. Purchase was made by James Bardon from Ensign in 1875. Then, and subsequent years taxes became delinquent and the property was sold for taxes and bid in by Bardon. After the equity of redemption had expired under the execution sale, Bardon gave a quit claim to one Hubbard for $100. Hubbard on the next day for $100 re-conveyed the property to Bardon. Deeds were all properly recorded.

Naddo claims that in all these proceedings Bardon was acting as trustee and agent for him. Bardon sold the land in 1880 to Henry W. Sage for $2250. In 1886 the defendant, Frederick W. Paine became the owner. He then platted it as West Park division of Duluth. The position taken by complainant's counsel on the argument was that the conveyance from Bardon to Hubbard, and the reconveyance from Hubbard to Bardon was a fraud on the rights of complainant, and it was contended that all the subsequent dealings of Bardon was for the benefit of complainant. It was argued on the other side that Naddo had abandoned the land, that the title to the land in suit passed from Naddo, and at the time Bardon made the conveyance to Hubbard there was no title whatever to convey, and that Bardon, for more thad ten years openly asserted his tile free from any claim of Naddo, and that during all this time Naddo offered no word of complaint, and at this late day he cannot open transactions so stale. These positions were argued at great length and authorities fully cited.

The court, after having the matter under advisement for several weeks, sustained the position taken by defendant's counsel, and held that Naddo had acquiesced in whatever was done by Bardon and Naddo is now barred. There were many other questions argued, but Judge Thomas determined the case entirely on the laches of the complainant.

The opinion of Judge Thomas is very strong, and indicates decidedly that in this era of great transactions following one another in rapid succession, the changes that occur in a vigorous and growing city like Duluth are so numerous and attended by such important consequences that a man must not be allowed to sleep on his rights, whatever they may be, for 10 years, and without doing the first thing to know what his rights are, and then come into a court of equity and seek to overturn all that has occurred. In this case Naddo confessed that he knew of all these transactions for more than 10 years and sought to excuse himself by reason of his poverty to employ counsel and otherwise investigate the case.

CAN CONDEMN.

Street Railway Company Can Condemn Private Property for Tracks.

Judge Ira Mills, of Moorhead has dissolved the injunction to restrain the Duluth Street Railway company from surveying and building a line through certain east end acre property owned by W. E. Richardson, et al., and has fixed the bonds on an appeal at $7500. The following little note that was added to the order makes interesting reading:

Note: There are no facts given in the affidavits and papers used on this motion to show the court just what the amount of a supercedeas bond on appeal should be fixed at. If the amount fixed by this order is too small the supreme court on proper showing will undoubtedly increase it. I regard the questions presented in this case very doubtful, such that a court could without difficulty take either view of and find authority to support it.

An appeal was at once taken to the supreme court and a bond filed by Mr. Richardson.

The trial of Nolan, the letter carrier, is on this afternoon. Postmaster Howard was the first witness. He testified that on a certain day when Nolan took out 22 letters on which $2.15 postage was due he followed Nolan from house to house and obtaindd seven of the envelopes showing that the proper stamp had not been affixed. He placed these letters in his desk but they were abstracted. He and Assistant Postmaster Henry were the only ones who had keys to the desk.

ALLERTON WON ALL

The Williams Stallion Wins the Kentucky Race Over Before Unconquered Delmarch.

The Race Takes Place Before Great Crowds and Amid Intense Enthusiasm.

Kentuckians Pluckily Hold Up Their Horse but Come Out the Small End.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 15.—The morning broke bright and cool and it is an ideal October day. The race track has been carefully prepared and the great stallion race between Allerton (2:09¼), and Delmarch (2:11½), is the all-absorbing topic among the thousands of horsemen here. The betting on this noted contest is fast and furious, and at noon is nearly equal, 50 for Allerton and 45 for Delmarch. The small end is eagerly taken by the nervy Kentuckians, who know the merits of the sire Mambrino and the concensus of opinion at noon was that if Delmarch does not beat the stallion king he will make him trot faster than he ever did in a race before. All the morning and noon trains were loaded to the guards with horsemen from all over the Union to see the two best racing stallions of the year. At 9 o'clock Budd Doble appeared behind Delmarch. A half hour later C. F. Williams drove Allerton to the track. Two days ago, however, he did his mile in 2:16, making the last quarter in 31 seconds.

The public has at last dropped onto the fact that Williams will be the winner if he loses, as the conditions of the race are that should Delmarch win he must trot Allerton for $5000 at Independence week after next.

First heat, Allerton won; time, 2:13¼.

Second heat, Allerton won; time, 2:15. Third heat, Allerton wins third heat and race. Time, 2:15¼.

ENGLAND'S STORM.

The Reports More Appalling, Shown to Have Been Terrible.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The reports from the late storm are more and more appalling. It appears to have raged with as much destructiveness in the western islands as at Dover and the public are fearful of the news that may be on its way from those humble and thinly inhabited islets. The fierceness of the gale at the Isle of Man is said to have have been without example in the history of that little home ruled island, and nearly the whole population turned out to succor the shipwrecked.

Along the southern and Eastern English coasts the storm seems to have done its worst.

The Great Gale in France Also.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The gale which has been raging over the British isles has also traversed France, but in much milder form. In Paris trees and chimneys were damaged, and rivers, particularly in the south of France, overflowed their banks, doing considerable damage.

Another City of Rome.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14.—The iron steamship Citta di Roma, reported wrecked off New Foundland, left this port Sept. 23 for Bordeaux via Norfolk. She had a cargo of 103,000 bushels of grain, and was in command of Capt. Bartolatto and a crew of 40. The steamer was worth $200,000. The officers were drunk.

Floaters by That Storm.

CHATHAM, Mass., Oct. 15.—In the storm beginning on Monday Pollock Pip lightship parted her moorings and has not been heard of. Wreckers picked up an abandoned sloop named Gracie Belle off this coast.

ROSE TO THE PARTY.

Minnesota Murderer Arrives at the Scene of Tomorrow's Necktie Party.

REDWOOD FALLS, Minn., Oct. 15.—Wm. Rose, the condemed murderer, attended by Sheriff Mead and a strong guard of eight men, arrived here this morning on the Northwestern train. As he stepped from the car to the platform he appeared much more calm and collected than did the sheriff, who looks haggard, careworn and weary. Rose's step was firm and his mien confident.

A large crowd had collected at the depot to get a glimpse of the prisoner, but he deigns to notice anybody. The only time when he has weakened at all was when his mother called on him before leaving New Ulm. He will be hanged some time between 1 and 4 a. m. tomorrow.

CALL IT VALUABLE.

Easy to Figure up Great Worth for Silver Prospects.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—The Minneapolis owners of the Palisade silver mine, in the Port Arthur district, claim to have struck it rich. Two samples of ore have shown $218 and $280 a ton against about $80 for the best Nevada and Montana mines. It is claimed the mine is worth about $11,000,000.

Against Sunday Opening.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The ecumenical congress has adopted resolutions addressed to the board of managers of the World's fair asking it to close the exposition on Sundays.

AUDITOR BURNED RECORDS.

A County Auditor Burns the Court House to Destroy Records.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—The most intense excitement prevails in Washington, Davies county, over the arrest of County Auditor Lavelle, Basil Ledgerwood and Harbine on a charge of setting fire to the court house last week and destroying the records. A man named Hawes was also arrested and efforts are being made to arrest Michael Lavelle, a brother of the auditor. Ledgerwood and Harbine have confessed that they fired the building at the instance of Lavelle, who gave Ledgerwood a house and lot and Harbine $1000 cash.

Auditor Lavelle's bondsmen, becoming frightened at the turn affairs were taking, required him to turn all his property over to them yesterday. Experts are now at work on his books. Lavelle and Hawes were held in $5000 bail each and Ledgerwood and Harbine pleaded guilty to the charge of arson. Sentence was suspended as they will be used as witnesses.

HYDE IS THERE.

The Litigant in the Hyde-Macdonald Case is Present in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—[Special to The Herald.]—The hearing in the celebrated Hyde-Macdonald land contest case in the Duluth land district set for 10 o'clock this morning before Secretary Noble, of the interior department, was postponed till Saturday morning, because of a desire of Attorney Reddington, in whose family there has just been a death.

Hyde, of Duluth, one of the original litigants in the premises, and the man who actually discovered iron on the land in the first place, is here to testify, and will be on deck Saturday.

PAYS FIFTY CENTS.

Deacon White and His Friends Put Up for Corn Losses.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—S. V. White & Co. will probably be permitted to settle at 50 cents on the dollar the debts left by the crash that downed the firm. At a meeting of the Chicago creditors the representative of the receiver furnished the following: Actual liabilities to customers, $310,739.69; assets regarded good, $107,163.54; deficit, $203,576.15. Of this showing the representative of the receiver said the firm would be able to pay 27 cents on the dollar. Mr. White's private secretary, who was present, said friends of the house in New York had volunteered to assist the firm and would pay 23 cents more, which would make possible a settlement at half the amount of the debts.

GOOD FOR THE ROAD.

The Northern Pacific Shows an Excellent Increase in Earnings.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The directors of the Northern Pacific railroad were re-elected by the stockholders today. The annual report shows an increase of $2,541,041 in the earnings for the year.

An Educational Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Secretary Rusk is in receipt of a communication from a special agent in Europe on behalf of corn. Col. Murphy proceeded to Berlin a short time ago to present to the Germans the value of corn as a cheap and nutritious cereal. Col. Murphy writes most encouragingly, and states that he has produced highly satisfactory bread composed of rye and corn at a very low price. Should concessions in duties be secured the outlook for a large increase in our exports to Germany would be most promising.

Place Aux Dames.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 15.—The congress of the Association for the Advancement for Women opened this morning. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe presided and the attendance numbered about 100. This afternoon the first open meeting was held. Mrs. J. C. Wenham cordially welcomed the visitors. The response was made by Mrs. Howe. Miss Octavia W. Baker, of Detroit; Mrs. Charlotte Emerson Brown, president of the Federation of Womens clubs; Miss Mary A. Ripley, of Buffalo, read papers. The congress will continue until Saturday morning.

Canada No Refuge Now.

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 15.—Walter J. Cohn, of the firm of Cohn, Colomon & Co., clothing dealers, of New York city, is arrested at Preston, near here, by one of the creditors. Cohn absconded from New York on Sept. 17, to escape arrest on a charge of grand larceny preferred by Hardt & Co. The creditors suspected that the failure was crooked and that the absconder took the money with him. Detectives were put on his track.

Arsenic in Father's Tea.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Pearl I. Decourt, who was indicted in June on 12 counts charging her with attempting to poison her father and mother, today pleaded guilty to the first count, charging an attempt on her father's life. All agreed that the prisoner was not entirely of sound mind, and she was sentenced to five years at the reformatory.

WORK OF DREDGES

The Four at the Sault River Wreck Have Done Big Digging This Week.

In Five Days Cut a Channel Containing 630,000 Cubic Feet of Earth.

Passages for Duluth and Buffalo Begin Tomorrow at Noon Under Careful Regulations.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Oct. 15.—[Special to The Herald.]—Your correspondent returned from the vessel blockade in Lake George this morning. About 70 lake steamers are anchored on the east side of the blockade caused by the sunken Peck, and 60 are on the west side toward the canal. This is an icrease since my last report to The Herald yester for the down fleet of the Seguin, Bradley, Woolson, Brightie, Louisiana, Carpenter, Myles, Spencer, Pennington, Peck and Vulcan.

Arrangements were completed by Superintendent Lynch last night whereby there will be no chance for a jamming of craft at the mouth of the newly dredged channel at either ends. The steam and sail ships will all be towed through the new channel in their turn as they have arrived at the ends and have been given numbers or positions, the same as lockages are made in the canal here. Ten ships will first be passed up then ten down and vice versa until all are cleared.

Four dredges have been at work night and day since last Sunday noon and have accomplished wonderful work. It is expected that by Friday noon, when boats will be able to go through, they will have dug a channel 700 feet long, 60 feet wide and 15 feet deep.

The value of cargoes on the down fleet in my dispatch of yesterday was far too low. Probably there is waiting fully $2,200,000 of cargoes bound down. No estimate can be made of up cargoes, as they are mostly merchandise and may be of immense value.

The steel steamer E. P. Weed was only three hours behind the Peck last Saturday. Her delay through the disaster will prove quite expensive to her owners, because she is under contract to carry wheat from Duluth at four cents freight the rest of the season. An aggravating case is that of the steamer W. H. Gilcher. She allowed the Peck to pass her in the Sault river because her rudder was partly disabled and she wanted the J. C. Gilchrist to come along and accompany her down.

BLAINE BETTER.

He Says He Will Return to Washington Next Month.

AUGUSTA, Me., Oct. 15—If Secretary Blaine continues to improve in health as rapidly as he has since his return to his old home, he will probably leave for Washington the last of this or the first of next month. The date has not yet been definitely settled upon.

Says Blaine is Well.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Senator Hale, of Maine, today said that Secretary Blaine is looking and feeling well. "You would hardly know him," he added, "for the same person that passed through Boston last June. He eats well and sleeps well, and his mind is as active and alert as ever." Referring to the recent reports that Mr. Blaine has sufferred from paralysis, Senator Hale said, "it is all nonsense."

Deposed Mr. Hoey.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—John Hoey, the deposed president of the Adams Express company, had drawn out every dollar's worth of his stock of the corporation some years ago. Clapp Spooner, the ex-vice president, also disposed of his holdings at the same time. The investigating committee and the friends of the deposed officials are thunderstruck at this discovery and much unfavorable comment is heard because the men retained their positions of trust and drew salaries long after their financial interest in the company had ceased.

A New Sugar Trust Opponent.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—J. and F. D. Mollenhauer, who ran a raw sugar factory of 3000 barrels daily capacity in Brooklyn until August, 1890, are about to start a new factory, with a capacity of 1200 barrels refined per day. It will open next July. It will be independent of the trust.

Wants a New Mexican State.

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 15,—The governor's annual report was finished today. Among other recommendations are for the admission of New Mexico as a state. It also deals at length with public schools, irrigation, climate, rainfall, agriculture and stock raising.

An Anti-Infidel.

"Cultivated people, especially those who recall the stirring lectures of Wendell Phillips, Oliver Wendell Holmes Henry Ward Beecher and others, are often heard to deplore the decadence of oratory and the infrequency of really good things in the lecture line. Mr. Hastings is a bright, witty, you and I sort of a man whose deep learning does not present him from being most intensely interesting. It is a great thing to stand the very first of all the world in anything. Dr. Hastings is given that place as an anti-infidel speaker by many of the brightest men of his time." The above quotation from a Minneapolis paper where Dr. Hastings has just completed a course of lectures, will give the Duluth public some idea of the privilege presented to them in the two lectures to be given at Pilgrim congregational church next Monday and Tuesday evenings. Dr. H. L. Hastings is editor of the Christian, of Boston. He has made Bible research a life-long study, and added to this his extended travels in Eastern lands, have enabled him to establish proofs that are incontrovertible, of events in Israelitish history, as recorded in the Old Testament. The proceeds of these lectures, after defraying expenses, will be contributed to John G. Woolley's Rest Island Mission, at Lake City.

Mrs. Hull will speak in the unitarian church tomorrow evening. Subject, "A Review of Some of the Popular Objections to Spiritualism."

MONEY TO BOOM CHICAGO.

Mexico to be Bled to the Tune of $750,000 for Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Within two weeks Director General Davis will start with a special commission for Mexico to help Presidedt Diaz get a appropriation of $750,000 for the fair. Mrs. Potter Palmer has consented to accompany the commission at the request of Mrs. Diaz. Potter Palmer will represent the Chicago board on the commission. Gen. St. Clair and Mr. Massey will also be of the party. The party expects to be gone about three weeks.

Russians and Afghans.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 15.—News of an encounter between Afghans and Russians is awaited with much anxiety, as it is believed that a fight of a serious character cannot long be put off. The viceroy has received profuse assurances of loyalty from a number of the Indian princes. While a Russian attack on India is not expected, the viceregal government anticipate a Russian struggle for a foothold in Afghanistan.

WORST FOR YEARS.

A Wreck in Ohio That is Severe Even for the Baltimore & Ohio.

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Oct. 15.—The latest intelligence from the scene of yesterday's wreck shows it to have been one of the worst accidents that the Baltimore & Ohio has had for years. The citizens at Hicksville have thrown open their houses and are doing all possible to relieve the suffering.

In addition to those already named it is stated that eight other passengers will die in a few hours.

The utmost excitement reigns at Hicksville. A special train was sent down from Garrett with physicians to look after and care for the wounded. Forty rods east of where the wreck occurred is a high trestle, and terrible as the accident has been. the casualty would have been much greater if the train had gone over there.

The track was torn up for nearly 200 yards. Robert Rodgers, a prominent resident of this city, was on the train but was not hurt. Vice President King was badly shaken up, but not seriously hurt. His private coach was torn to pieces.

The train was the fast Eastern express and was running down grade at the rate of 50 miles an hour when it jumped the track. The cars are scattered in the woods adjoining the track. The wreck occurred in a sharp curve, the express, mail, baggage and smoking cars passed the curve in safety but the sleepers and vice president's private car jumped the track, and vere piled up in a mass of ruins.

The killed outright are: T. M. Waterstone, of Montpelier, Ohio; A. G. Mathuse, of Chicago Junction, Ohio; J. W. Grubabaugh and wife, Mansfield, Ohio, and Mrs. Sarah Snyder, of Porter, Ohio, will probably die.

Mr. Crawford and daughter, of Duluth, were hurt on the head, and the lady injured internally. Twenty others were hurt, of whom five may die.

GOT ITS SENSATION.

The Sensation Wasn't a Scoop for the Inter-Ocean, However.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Leonard Washburn, the well-known sporting editor of the Inter-Ocean, and Fred Henry, a reporter, and J. McCafferty, an artist, were killed this morning in an accident to a fast passenger train on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois at Crete, Ill., 30 miles from this city.

The train ran into an open swith and was badly wrecked and the three newspaper men who were riding on the engine, collecting material for a descriptive article for the Inter Ocean, were crushed to death. It is also reported that a number of passengers were seriously injured.

COLLIDE NEAR HOME.

A Serious Accident on the Great Northern at Anoka.

A serious collision occurred at Anoka on the Great Northern road last night. An Eastern Minnesota train, Duluth bound, ran into a Great Northern freight waiting at the depot. About fifteen cars were badly smashed and the road blockaded. The fireman on the Eastern jumped and was badly shaken up, and a passenger in the caboose of the Great Northern train which was smashed into atoms, was hurled through the top of the car over a train on the side track. It was a miraculous escape.

Still Another.

OSTRANDER, Ohio, Oct. 15.—Quite a serious wreck occurred on the Big Four railroad at White Sulphur station. Train No. 66 in charge of Conductor Burns took a siding. Train No. 5, a fast passenger, running at a high rate of speed, going West, struck and wrecked five cars of the freight.

DISUNITED IRELAND.

Orangemen in the North Want no Home Hierarchal Rule.

LONDONDERRY, Ireland, Oct. 15.—The protestant population of the north of Ireland is very much roused on the subject of home rule in view of the liberal confidence of success in the general elections. Orange lodges are thronged with candidates for admission and the amount of drilling going on is greater than in many years.

It is said that the protestant opponents of home rule are organized in associations numbering at least 80,000 men capable of bearing arms. They make no concealment of their intientions to offer violent resistance to the rule of an Irish parliament dominated, as they claim that it would be, by the Roman catholic hierarchy.

A Mill Wheel Kills.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 15.—This morning the flywhcel of No. 7 mill, Amoskeag corporation, burst, tearing through the floors of the first and second stories. Samuel Bunker, the engineer, was killed and 12 girls were badly injured.

'Tis an Awful Disease.

HAMILTON, Ill., Oct. 15.—Many cases of diphtheria are reported. The disease has broken out at Ferris. Nine cases have been reported from this locality, and the schools have been closed.

Good Money or None.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A dispatch from Buenos Ayers says that the Argentine senate yesterday rejected the proposition in regard to an issue of forced currency.

Artist David Ericson has opened a studio in room 408, Woodbridge building.

REASONS FOR SUPREMACY.

The visit of members of the big Walter A. Wood Harvester company in search of a location for a branch establishment, naturally brings up the question of Duluth's advantages as a place for manufacturing agricultural machinery. That the city has advantages is plain to all who have considered the subject. The chief factors to be considered in the location of a manufacturing plant of any kind are the market, the supply of raw material, freight facilities and rates, fuel and labor.

In the matter of labor Duluth claims no advantage over any other northwestern city, for the same class of men live here as in other places and as a rule the same rate of wages rule. In the other things Duluth's advantages are pre-eminent over all of her competitors. Our market for agricultural implements are the great wheat, rye, barley and oat fields of Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska, and the Pacific coast might be added so far as all Eastern cities are concerned. This market belongs to Duluth more than any other place. The people immediately West of us are sending nearly all their grain to Duluth and are rapidly transferring their business of all kinds here. Already they buy their coal and lumber of us, and since jobbing houses have been started here they are coming to us for most of their merchandise. The people of the regions to the southwest of Duluth are also directly connected with us by trade and by the advantages of freight rates. The transportation facilities offered to a big factory here are unequaled anywhere. On one side of the plant can be had water transportation to all points East, for fuel or material; on the other side the tracks of railroads which penetrate all sections of the West and Northwest. This combination gives us advantages in the way of freights that are possessed by no other city in the entire West. Our rates to points west and southwest are nearly all as low as from any other point, and in many cases lower than from competing cities.

The raw material for such work is here in abundance. There are vast forests of hardwood near us, which will furnish an abundant and cheap supply. The woodworking establishments already here have proven the availability of these forests. For the iron and steel needed Duluth surely offers the best inducements. With the richest and greatest deposits of iron ore in America and the opening of furnaces and rolling mills no city is better adapted for any class of manufactures which makes use of much iron and steel. As for the fuel, Duluth has only to point to the lake freights on coal to demonstrate conclusively that here is to be had cheaper fuel than elsewhere in this section of country.

In all these factors which go to insure the success of an agricultural implement factory, cheap fuel, abundant and cheap raw material, excellent transportation facilities with the lowest rates and the market to be supplied, Duluth plainly leads all competitors. Our city is from 200 to 400 miles near the great wheat and oats regions of the West than Milwaukee or Chicago, nearer the hardwood regions, and coal freights from Lake Erie points run from 15 to 25 cents per ton lower. It is just as convenient to the farming regions as Minneapolis and has better transportation facilities, while it is 150 miles nearer the iron supply and can furnish fuel at much lower rates. Coal at Minneapolis costs $1.50 to $1.75 a ton more than at Duluth. The advantages of the two cities for great factories are not to be compared for this reason, if no other.

AN EQUITABLE DECISION.

In all the long and varied history of land title suits on a large scale in Duluth not once has the contestant won his case. From Prentice, the great pretender, who, assisted by certain Duluthians, laid claim to a most valuable section of the business and commercial part of the city, to the latest similar suit there has not been one in which the assailed holder has not been able to sustain his ownership and to oust, boots and baggage, the pretenders. Considering the number of these suits, the amount involved in them, the rapid appreciation of values, the numerous and often hurried transfers made, and the possibility of question in earlier records when there was less care and more guess work than now, this record is as pleasing as it is favorable. It shows, that in the main, the records of the county's valuable lands are unimpeachable and cannot fail to have a most important bearing on the future operations of title sharps as well as on the fees of title insurance companies.

Of course there have been many individual cases where the sharp has succeeded in levying blackmail, or where he has adroitly secured possession of scattered parcels of land by legal complications and twists that have been worked by cunning pettifoggers. But these are isolated cases, and their results could have been averted, in nearly every case, by a careful fulfillment of the law.

The decision of United States Circuit Judge Thomas, given at considerable length in The Herald of Wednesday, was one of the most sweeping in its effects ever made, and its importance in determining other cases can scarcely be overestimated. Judge Thomas in effect ruled that Naddo, the ostensible plaintiff, was barred after claiming to know for 10 years that he had a shade of title and making no effort to set it up or saying no word to indicate that he all along believed the truth of the charges so lately trumped up. No court of equity, Judge Thomas holds, would overturn the transactions of 10 years when the claimant has slept on his rights and allowed sweeping changes, involving important consequences, to be made without dissent. The ruling bears on many another case besides that of the so-called plaintiff Naddo.

CHEAP PASSENGER RATES.

It is generally understood that the passenger rate on roads running to Chicago during the World's fair will not exceed one cent a mile. That would make the regular rate between Duluth and Chicago $4.80, against the present rate of $13, or only a little over one-third. Railroad managers are expressing some apprehensions as to how they will come out with rates at such a figure. The requirements of the traffic will be immense. Extra locomotives and coaches must be prepared and their Chicago terminals must be increased very largely, the extra expense of the roads will be immense. This is not all. There will be special rates, and a round trip ticket will probably sell at considerably below one cent a mile, even if there are no rate cutting wars. Still it cannot be doubted but the results will be rich harvests for the roads. The crowds carried will be enormous, and no power or equipment need be wasted or remain idle, and the cost per mile per passenger will be very small. It will be found, too, that cheap fares will not hurt, but help, and down to a certain rate the cheaper and better for the railroads.

When the exposition is over and the roads find that they have made immense profits out of their passenger traffic at a one cent rate, or less, will not an interesting question be presented as to the continuance, as a regular thing, of cheap rates? When railroads give cheap rates now they are for special occasions and the crowds always tax their capacities. The results do not always justify the concessions, for the simple reason that the expenses of special arrangements always eat into their profits. If they could be sure of regularly well filled trains at half present rates, there would be more money for the roads than there is now. If the regular rate between Duluth and St. Paul were reduced to $2.50 or $3 the chances are that the travel would more than double, the extra cost of motive power and coaches would be very little, but receipts would be much heavier. Would not cheaper rates make the passenger business profitable?

It's odd to note the assurance of cities the finance committee of the Wood Harvester company has visited. Milwaukee is sure of the plant, Minneapolis is betting on it though the committee has not reached the city, Superior is marking up acres because the committee will spend this evening there, and half a dozen other cities know they're to have it. One of the members of the committee said yesterday to the writer "we shall make no decision, we shall not even express preferences or hint at our ideas, until we go home. Then we shall report to the company. After that the company will enter into negotiations with whatever town seems best suited to our needs." In view of this statement it is silly balderdash for any set of boomers to announce the location of this concern. Duluth wants the prize and believes it can offer exceptional advantages. Then should an harmonious working together of all interests and a generous assistance by all to secure one of the most powerful industrial organizations now seeking location in the West.

The exports of breadstuffs from the United States for September were $31,462.021, which was more than $1,000,000 worth for every day in the month. Surely prosperity and greatness are ours. At this rate for a year the total value would be nearly $380,000,000, or about $100,000,000 more than the average for the past years.

THREE government vessels—one warship, one tug boat and one dispatch boat, have wrecked in a twelve month. It is a good thing to let the young Annapolis graduates practice navigation on the old navy. The new cruisers are too valuable to be entrusted to such management.

THE threat to abolish the house of lords is futile. The proper way to knock out the house of lords would be to threaten to abolish to commons and make the lords work.

During a conversation the other day in Chicago between William Pinkerton and Chief of Detectives Horace Elliott, of Chicago, Mr. Pinkerton said he had been erroneously quoted by by a St. Louis paper in saying that Billy Porter, alias Billy O'Brien, the bank burglar, had been put away for 10 years in Germany. "As a matter of fact, Porter is a free man, although he hadn't ought to be," said Mr. Pinkerton. "There were three men in the gang and they are making money rapidly by bringing a Yankee's ingenuity and improved tools to bear on the German bank safes. They were arrested, but only one of them, Frank Buck, was convicted. Porter was acquitted on a technicality and "Spike" Hennessey, the brainy man of the crowd, escaped conviction by proving that he was born on a British ship and could not be surrendered to the courts at Munich, When Hennessey got out of the law's clutches in the old country he returned to America, and I ran across him last fall in 'Frisco when he was blowing a safe at the California theater in Tom Davis' play, 'The Stowaway.' He said he had reformed, but just the same we are keeping a weather eye on the movements of the king of safe breakers.

COAL IN THE NORTHWEST.

Experts From Pennsylvania Examine British Northwest Territory Coal Fields.

[Manitoba Free Press.]

Major Walsh, manager of the Dominion Coal company, and Mr. Mellenger, superintendent of the Bell, Lewis & Yates Coal company, in Pennsylvania, returned yesterday from the Souris coal fields, where they have been inspecting the coal fields of that district preparatory to locating and operating mines.

Mr. Mellenger is a practical mining engineer, and he was sent out for the purpose of deciding questions relative to the drift of the seams, methods of working, etc. He and Major Walsh explored for 17 miles along the Souris, and found seams of coal ranging from four to 10 feet in width. Mr. Mellenger says that the area of coal there is so extensive that the great, great grandchildren of the present generation will not see it worked out. He says the coal is of good quality and will furnish just the kind of fuel needed in this country.

The coal can be mined easily and comparatively speaking cheaply, a fact that the public can appreciate as well as the company. The location of the mines has not yet been decided on, at least the arrangements were not sufficiently advanced to be made public. Major Walsh says that the company will be ready to supply coal just as soon as the railway is ready for operation to the coal fields, which will be nearly three months hence.

WHAT IS RHEUMATISM?

More Prevalent Than for Many Years.

Sudden Changes of Temperature an Immediate Cause.

A Dartmouth Professor Finds an Unfailing Cure for the Ailment.

Rheumatism is more prevalent in Duluth than for many years.

When this disease fastens on an individual, he generally knows what is the trouble. The inflammation, soreness and pain, in combination with chills, coated tongue, loss of appetite and swelling of the joints, tell plainly that this is rheumatism.

To quote the Medical World, "the patient becomes a pitiful object of suffering, helpless and incapable of movement; and possibly an eventual martyr to a chronic state of disease, which will shatter his usefulness though it spares his life. Perhaps, though the heart and its belongings are fatally involved, as not infrequently happens."

But what is rheumatism?

Physicians' opinions vary. Some say one thing, and some another. Yet all agree that a poison gets into the system, and rheumatism results.

The immediate causes are cold and moisture, and sudden changes of temperature, acting upon those who are weak or specially disposed to the disease. It should be regarded as a warning indication of a low state of health, and the first twinge of pain or stiffness of the muscles ought to be carefully placed under treatment.

Rheumatism can be relieved by Paine's celery compound, a purely vegetable extract whose efficacy in rheumatism was discovered by Professor Phelps of Dartmouth. This compound strengthens the system, restores vigorous nerve power, and regulates the circulation, thus driving out the rheumatic poison.

The best proof of its value is the good it has done. Though known for a comparatively short time, there probably is not a city or town in this state where it has not effected a cure. That it is all that is claimed for it, is being daily demonstrated. Many have thrown away their crutches, and now walk briskly and erect, without pain or suffering, solely through the use of this celery compound.

All lovers of the good of humanity will rejoice that at last there is a positive and reliable way to cure rheumatism and relieve suffering.

What reason then has one for suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia, or allowing a friend to limp with pain.

GOVERNMENT WANTS IT.

Attorney General Miller and the United States Government in Their Suit Against the Germania Iron Company.

Government Evidently Does Not Stand on the Belief that the Germania was an Innocent Purchaser.

A Case of Great Importance to the Railway Development of the Northern Iron Range.

In view of the fact that a hearing in the Hyde-McDonald case was due at Washington yesterday and will come up Saturday, and that this celebrated case is now nearing a point where some light can be seen in the legal labyrinth that encloses it, the government's view of the case of Hartman & Mallett and A. M. Miller, filed in the United States court here Tuesday, will prove of interest.

Assistant United States Attorney Edgerton has prepared with a great amount of care, and after careful research and voluminous correspondence, a bill in equity which has for its purpose the reclaiming of valuable iron lands as a part of the public domain. The bill was prepared on behalf of the government, and names Thomas Reed, of Nebraska, the Germania Iron company, Emil Hartman and Richard D. Mallet, of this city, as it is claimed that title to the lands was secured by Reed through irregular practice before the interior department, add that valuable iron lands to the extent of several hundred acres are involved in the controversy, either directly or indirectly. The tract immediately concerned is valued in the bill at $75,000, but is really worth many times that sum. It comprises 112 acres, known as the sw¼ of ne¼ and lots 1 and 2, 30-63-11. The story leading up to this proproceeding is related about as follows:

The lands were part of the public domain, together with other valuable iron lands in the same region. On July 21, 1885, Orlie Stram—formerly Orlie Moreau—through her attorney, Frank W. Eaton, adjusted the location of several hundred acres of land previously made on unsurveyed land. That location was made with Sioux half-breed scrip. The location was posted, but validity was contested by Fred T. Huntress. About the same time Thomas W. Hyde and Angus McDonald made pre-emption claims to part of the land. An appeal was taken to the secretary, who decided the Sioux half-breed scrip locations invalid. The pre-emption claims of Hyde and McDonald were also rejected. The claim of Fred T. Huntress could not be recognized, and the secretary of the interior further decided that the lands should be disposed of under the public land laws.

On Feb. 23, 1889, Thomas Reed applied to the land office for permission to make soldier's additional entry on part of the land. He was allowed to make such entry and to obtain final certificates for 112 acres. About the same time Charles P. Wheeler made application to locate lands in the same vicinity with Valentine scrip, which was scrip of a Nebraska agency of that name. Warren Wing and William M. Stokes also applied for entries on part of the lands, along with various others. When the doors of the Duluth land office were opened, these persons attempted to enter the lands as additional homesteads. The applications of Wheeler, Wing and Stokes were denied, and they appealed to the general land office, and a notice of review of the previous decision was given by the land office, and this motion for review is still pending before the secretary of the interior. Pending these proceedings a patent was issued for 112 acres to Thomas Reed. It is alleged that this patent was issued by mistake. That a clerk in the interior department reported the application of Reed as valid, and that the secretary appointed to sign patents in the name of the President, signed the patent upon the approval of the clerk who examined the claim. The patent was issued to Reed, Nov. 20, 1889. It is alleged that this patent was granted by mistake, and that the Germanic Iron company, Emil Hartman and R. D. Mallet have some interest in the lands patented to Reed.

The court is asked to enjoin the defendants from disposing of the lands, and that the patent be declared void, and to require Reed to surrender it for cancellation.

THE YEAR'S CUT.

Duluth District Sawmills Will Get Out a Big Cut.

The total lumber cut of mills at Duluth and other points in the Duluth lumber district, so called, including Tower, Connors Point, Cloquet and Carlton, will this season foot up to the very considerable figure of 269,000,000 feet. If to this is added the mills at Barnum and other near-by points on the St. Paul & Duluth road, the total will be about 315,000,000 feet, about 25,000,000 greater than ever before. The largest mill in the district, that of Mitchell & McClure, at West Duluth, was not started till the middle of September, and cuts for the season only 12,000,000, as against a probable 60,000,000 next year. The cut of this year to the day of closing the mills, about November 20, will be as follows unless the unexpected happens:

	Feet.
Duncan, Brewer & Co.	15,500,000
R. A. Gray	16,000,000
Scott & Holston company	8,000,000
Hubbard & Vincent	2,000,000
Huntress & Brown	10,000,000
Mitchell & McClure	12,000,000
B. F. Howard	5,000,000
Mills at New Duluth, St. Louis, Poplar river and Minong	11,000,000
C. S. Murray & Co. (Connors Point)	10,000,000
Peyton, Kimball & Barber (Connors Point)	13,000,000
W. Sup. Lumber Co. (Connors Point)	20,000,000
Owens Lumber Co. (Tower)	9,000,000
Howe Lumber Co. (Tower)	16,000,000
Williston, Charnley & Co (Mesaba)	12,000,000
Paine & Co. (Carlton)	10,000,000
Cloquet mills (two companies)	100,000,000
Total	269,500,000

Add to this about 50,000,000 feet by Barnum, Hinckley and smaller mills north of Willow river and the total is 320,000,000 feet. Of this cut no less than five new mills contributed.

There is now building at Duluth a mill of 40,000,000 feet capacity for Merrill & Ring, which will begin operation next spring. The Mitchell & McClure mill will increase its cut by as much more. A new 10,000,000 mill will be built during the winter at La Prairie, while a 10,000,000 feet hardwood mill is now being put up by the Cranberry Lumber company, of this city. The cut for the year of 1892 for Duluth and immediate vicinity, not including railway mills, will be fully 350,000,000 feet, making Duluth about fourth in the list of lumber producing centers of the United States.

AT THE FURNACE.

A Very Elaborate System of Tracks; Now Buying Ore.

A large crew of men is busy just now, and will so continue for a month, getting the big blast furnace of the Duluth Iron and Steel company ready for operation. Manager stowell looks tomorrow for the receipt of a consignment of steel rails enough to lay six miles of track, which he bought last week in Chicago and which were shipped Tuesday. He has also bought a large quantity of light rail for narrow guage tracks in and about the casting house, on which small cars will run to handle pig iron.

A long side track is being put in to run between the boiler and cast houses on which the slag will be handled, while another much longer will run from the main track of the St. Paul & Duluth near Second street south branching off to the stock house. At the stock house it will form six tracks, three of which will run about 17 feet above the floor of the stock house and three above the coal pockets. The stock house tracks will also run over the lime stone yard, and ore, coal, coke and flux can be dumped from cars at the foot of the incline to the stack in the most labor saving manner. A narrow-guage track will run through the cast house, and out to a line parallel with and just above the floor of cars on the present long side track by the Stowell station. This will enable the furnace's output of 150 tons daily of pig iron to be handled with the utmost ease. A bulkhead is now being built beside the side track for this purpose.

At the crossing of Fourth street south and the tracks an office, chemists laboratory and track scales will be put in at once, grading having already begun for the building.

It is expected that all this work will be done and tracks laid by November, when the business of getting in ore will begin. Manager Bertolet, of the leasing company returned yesterday from Ely and Tower where he closed contracts for Chandler and other ores for the furnace. He has also made arrangements for Gogebic ore to use as a mix. About 200 tons of ore will be used daily. The limestone flux for the furnace will be brought from near Stillwater, where a good quality of stone is to be found, and the coke is already being turned out by the Lehigh company. Because their decision to start the furnace was made too late in the year, the furnace people are obliged to pay the Lehigh company 75 cents a ton more for coke than they were offered it earlier in the season and fully $1.25 a ton more than it will cost them next year. Notwithstanding this drawback the prices are such that there is money in the venture even now.

HOW POLITICS ARE.

Alderman Long the Only Sure Candidate Up to Date.

Alderman Long returned from the Pacific coast this morning in good health and with a smile such is worn only by gentlemen who are supposed to be candidates for office and who have been on a trip to allow these chances to improve. Mr. Long wants to become mayor.

Speaking about Mr. Long's hankering for the mayoralty reminds one that the political bee is quite busy nowadays. The politicians are talking the question very quietly and casting about for a candidate who can knock out Davis, for they feel sure that if Davis doesn't want to run that his friends will force him to it. It is said that John B. Sutphin wants to become mayor once more but that he is a little afraid of trying his strength. If he should not run his supporters would be most willing to back up Simon Clark, for they argue that they don't care whether a man be a democrat or a republican. It's anything to beat Davis. Paddy Doran is giving it out that he expects to be chief of police once more, and there are some who believe him. T. W. Hugo is conceded to be out of the race on account of the offense he gave the labor element on Labor day. Thus far, therefore, Mr. Long seems to be the only sure candidate.

BARBER AGAINST BARBER.

Duluth People Must Get Their Hair Cut on Saturday.

Most of the Duluth barbers, both black and white, belong to the "union," and most of them, whether members of the union or not, keep their places closed on Sunday in compliance with the prohibitory law enacted four years ago. This morning Edward Connors, nonunion, was brought into court on complaint of A. C. Jones, a union barber, on the charge of laboring on Sunday. Connors was admitted to bail in $25 and his case was put off until [illegible].

Ed Stapleton, arrested by Detective Hayden for the larceny of a satchel belonging to Mrs. Montal, containing several articles of value, was committed to await the action of the grand jury.

With three treatments from Madame De Boushaw I sleep well at night, what I had not done for three months. I have received seven treatments from the madame and can now say that I am an entirely cured woman. I would recommend Madame De Boushaw's treatment to the afflicted when medicine has failed." Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The Discovery of America.

Three hundred and ninety-nine years ago this week, Christopher Columbus came in sight of the Western Hemisphere. To be exact, it was three hundred and ninety-nine years the 14th day of the present month. Familiar as it is to every child at school, and commonplace the mention of it seems now to be, it is really one of those wonderful events in the history of our world which seem like romance when we come to learn the particulars of the story. Dying in poverty and neglect, the Genoese stepped from a troubled life to a place among immortal names. If his spirit is cognizant of what takes place on earth, it must be proud to know that all the great nations will soon send their representatives to the land he discovered, to do honor to his achievements. To that celebration, the World's fair at Chicago, the whole Northwest desires to go, and when choosing a railroad route, they will make no mistake if they take the "The Burlington." It reaches many prominent cities besides Chicago, and to ascertain rates of fare, connections, etc., call on any ticket agent of this or connecting lines, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Here is your last chance to get a home for $150. The incline road is finished and cars will be running in a few days and then the price of lots will be advanced. Only $20 cash to buy a lot within ten minutes' ride of the Spalding hotel, and three years in which to pay the balance. Do not delay, but go to the office of the Highland Improvement company and get your home at once or you will never cease to regret it.

IS SOMEWHAT STRANGE.

The Duluth Street Railway Company Disregards the Order of District Court Yesterday by Judge Mills.

So It Apparently Lays Itself Open to Proceeding for Contempt of the State Supreme Court,

To Which, by an Appeal and Filed Bond, the Condemnation Case Has Already Gone.

Yesterday The Herald noted that Judge Mills in district court had dissolved the temporary injunction given by him to W. E. Richardson against the street railway company, and that Richardson had at once filed notice of appeal and bond. This took the case to the supreme court and the temporary injunction held, or was supposed to.

This morning the street railway company began work across Richardson's land to connect its Fourth street line with the motor line near the Hardy school. Lawyers say this is directly contrary to the order of the court, and that the matter having gone to the state supreme court on an appeal, becomes a contempt of that court. In view of the fact that one of the stockholders of the street railway company is a district judge of this judicial district this proceeding is regarded as strange. Other lawyers state that decisions have shown this not to be contempt.

W. E. Richardson yesterday sent a letter to the directors of the company after he had appealed Judge Mills's second decision to the supreme court and filed his bond, offering to deed the company outright the right-of-way to the proposed new line over his unplatted property if it would agree to operate one car back and forth to connect with its Fourth street cars in time schedule and by means of transfer tickets, upon the line now in operation from the junction of Fourth street and Woodland avenue to the point where the proposed new extension will join the old line. He says he has sold over half his lots on Woodland avenue along the line now running to citizens of Duluth who made the purchases with the intention of building, thinking they would have street car accommodations.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat Rules Weak, But Goes to Higher Prices Late.

Markets started in weak and ruled so all day, but just at the close recovered to yesterday's closing prices. Here there was small demand, with receivers offering cash freely and more or less future selling stuff for sale. First sales were of cash and October at a decline of ⅜c from last night, and there was a quick decline of ½c more, after which the market steadied down, but ruled very dull. December wheat was quiet. No. 1 hard sold ¼c above yesterday's close about 10 o'clock, while No. 1 northern was ¾c lower. May No. 1 hard opened unchanged, but No. 1 northern first sold at a break of ⅞c, then dropped ⅛c more, and later firmed up ¼c. No. 2 northern cash which started in ⅜c off, dropped ⅛c more, but later recovered. Later, on reports that the Russian decree forbidding wheat exports would be issued tomorrow, the market advanced ½c.

Receipts both here and at Minneapolis picked up somewhat and at the two places 855 cars were reported. Shipments here continue larger than the receipts, despite the Sault blockade. Chicago receipts overran the estimates. Weather in the West was greatly improved. In Dakota it was bright and cold with a light east wind. No rain had fallen for the past 24 hours. It is said that a brisk wind is needed to dry out the wheat and that it will take about a week to do it under favorable conditions. Clearances from the seaboard were good. The wheat and flour together amounted to 702,000 bu. Receipts at the seaboard were 587,000 bu against 110,113 a year ago. Cables were all weak and lower. Berlin was 3 marks down, and London 3d to 6d lower. Some New York houses said they had orders for reselling, while some buying orders were reported. One telegram said 10 loads were worked.

Cash wheat was fairly active early but the demand soon stopped and later on sellers were offering freely with no takers. No. 1 hard first sold, a few minutes after the opening, at 97c, held steady until the bulge just before the close, advanced ½c and closed at 97½c. No. 1 northern opened ⅜c off at 96½c, dropped ½c to 96, held at that until late, then jumped to 96½c, where it closed. No. 2 northern opened at 91⅜c, sold off to 91c, improved to 91¼c, then ¼c more and closed at 91½c. No. 3 sold at 86¼c and closed at 86½c. Rejected sold at 74½ and closed at 75c.

October No. 1 hard was neglected. It closed at 97¾c. No. 1 northern opened ⅛c off at 96⅛c, declined to 96, ruled dull at that most of the day, advanced in the last half hour and closed at 96¼ bid.

December No. 1 hard opened at 98¼ and closed at that. No. 1 northern opened at 95⅛-⅜, sold next at 95¼, advanced to 95½c, then ½c more and closed at 96c. May No. 1 hard opened at $1.05¾ held steady and closed at that. No. 1 northern opened at $1.02⅞, dropped ¼, advanced to $1.03, then ¼ more and closed at $1.03¼.

THE FOREIGN WHEAT YIELD.

The Reports Collected by Agents of the United States Government.

Hartman's New York correspondent today wired him the following synopsis of the United States government report of the foreign wheat yield; made up to October 1.

Great Britain—September was broken by several storms which did great damage and made the harvest more expensive and unprotected than any since 1879, 10 per cent of wheat and 25 per cent of barley still remain in the fields. The yield turns out to be less than was expected a month ago.

France—The unofficial estimates of wheat yield which have varied from 64,000,000 to 85,000,000 hectolitres are now placed at about 75,000,000.

Germany—The official reports are more favorable, excellent September weather has changed the situation in a great degree and it's found that the damage to crops from excessive rains have been greatly exaggerated. The Prussian rye crop is stated to be 21,470,000 quarters, againgst 23,170,000 last year or a decrease of about 8 per cent.

Austria-Hungary—The weather has been fine and later crops have done well.

Belgium and Holland—The yield of wheat and rye has been deceptive and disappointing. Wheat and rye are put at 75 per cent. Barley and oats have been over the average.

Bulgaria—The yields have been excellent, with the exception of maize. The wheat crop is said to be 4,875,000 quarters, against 3,740,000 last year.

Italy—The wheat yield has been fairly satisfactory, 15,110,000 quarters having been raised.

Spain—The crop statistics: Wheat, 26,618,760 hectos; barley, 13,459,185 hectos; rye, 6,353,283 hectos; maize, 5,655,970 hectos.

Russia—Few crop reports have been received during last month, but the painful accounts of famine throughout all Central Russia are graphic in depicting failure of crops. Twenty-five million people will be unable to pay their taxes this year. Government reports state that the harvest has completely failed in 13 governments and partially in eight others.

CARRIERS GO FREE.

Letter Carrier Nolan Acquitted by the Jury and the Indictment of Wiley is Thereupon Quashed.

Took the Money but Turned It Over to Their Superior Officer, and What Did He With It?

Summary of Proceedings in United States Circuit and Other Courts for the Day.

Ex-Letter Carrier Nolan was declared not guilty by 12 of his peers this morning after they had been out to deliberate for about an hour. As the evidence with reference to the charge against Wiley is practically the same as that against Nolan the indictment against Wiley was quashed on motion of District Attorney Hay.

Judge Thomas spent about 20 minutes in delivering his charge. The second count in the indictment was not touched on for the reason that the court had sustained Attorney d'Autrement's demurrer to it. "The defendant is charged," said his honor, "that on the second day of April, 1891, being a letter carrier, he neglected to account for certain money which he collected for postage due. If you find that he did account for the money, then you should acquit. I don't understand that he disputes collecting some of the money which he is charged with collecting; the point is, did he fail to account for it? When a person fails to account for 10 cents in this public service he is just as guilty under the statute as if it was for a large sum. The amount is of no importance. The government must conduct the post-office department with the utmost strictness, for it undertakes to see that every letter is carried to its destination with safety. It is as important to you as to the rest of the country that these laws be carried out strictly. You have no right to let a man escape because of sympathy or the smallness of the amount when you are satisfied of his guilt beyond a reasonable doubt."

The judge then spoke on the credibility of witnesses and previous reputation. His charge was considered very impartial. The verdict was not a surprise to even the prosecution, for although the accused did not do business according to the rules supposed to be in vogue in all offices he accounted to his superiors.

The greater part of the forenoon was taken up with the trial of James Simpson, of this city, charged with selling two pints of whisky to a Leech Lake Indian last June. The jury found him guilty, but recommended him to the mercy of the court, who gave him 30 days in jail and a fine of $50.

HE WAS INSANE.

The Long Sleeper Will be Taken to St. Peter at Once.

Mark Nimonitch, the young Austrian, who showed signs of insanity and for a long time remained in a trance, has been put in the county jail because Dr. Brunet was afraid that if he were put on the poor farm he might wander off, fall into another trance and perish in the woods. He still shows signs of insanity and at each meal puts in the pockets of his pantaloons whatever food happens to be left over.

Niminitch was pronounced insane this afternoon by Drs. Brunet and Murray. Judge Ayer ordered that he be sent to St. Peter.

An Old Settler Dies.

Early this morning there passed away at St. Marys hospital, one of the pioneers of Duluth, John Gottlieb Bush, aged 80 years. He had been dependent on the county for the past two years and his death was but the natural result of old age. He is best known as having built the first brewery in Duluth, which for many years stood on Brewery creek. He originally came from Detroit to Superior, where he resided for several years before a house was built on this side of the bay. He made considerable money, being of an industrious turn, but spent it in drink. He leaves a son, August, who resides in Cass county, N. D., and a daughter, who is the wife of a Superior man. Being of a very easy disposition, he never did anything to make an enemy.

The Black Hawk War.

The sturdy pioneers who occupied Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin for civilization 60 years ago often had the monotony of frontier life broken by conflicts with the Indians. The last struggle of any importance in this section occurred in 1832, and is known to history as the Black Hawk War, the moving spirit of the savage outbreak being the noted Black Hawk, chief of the Sacs and Foxes. Gen. Henry Dodge, afterwards senator from Wisconsin, was the leader in the hot pursuit which finally brought Black Hawk, with his warriors, women and children, to bay near the mouth of the Bad Axe river, on the east bank of the Mississippi, in what is now Nernon county, Wisconsin. The sun of that second day of August, 1832, set upon a bloody field, and the result was the death of nearly all the braves and the abrupt close of the campaign. The chief himself escaped and died years after at his home near Rock Island, Ill. The locality of the battle is now marked by the village of Victory, so named from this engagement, situated on and reached only by the Chicago, Burlington & Northern R. R., the "Scenic line," which touches most of the historic spots in the upper Mississippi valley. For further information as to the attractions of the line, tickets, rates and maps call on your local agent or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

But we wish to say a word regarding the excellence of the Duplex Grates with which these Stoves are furnished; they take precedence over all others for the facility with which ashes and clinkers are removed. They are cleanly, there being no escape of dust or ashes while cleaning the grate.

IS FULL OF IDEAS

Postmaster Wanamaker is Full of His Ideas for Betterment of the Postal Service.

Will Again Urge Postal Telegraphy, Postal Savings Banks, and Improvements.

Hardly Expects to Get One Cent Postage for Some Time to Come.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Postmaster General Wanamaker is collecting data for his annual report. The special features of the report will be similar to those of last year. During the past year he has been making experiments in one or two branches of the service and he is likely to make a special point for their development.

His postal telegraph scheme is not dead, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Mr. Wanamaker now purposes to ask a democratic house to look into it and investigate the figures he is now preparing in its support,

Mr. Wanamaker is thoroughly convinced that one of the most beneficial additions to the postal service would be the establishment of saving deposit banks in the postoffice. His experience and the reports from the country generally during the last year convince him more thoroughly than ever of its practicability. The demand for such institutions in small villages where there are no regular banks has been growing steadily. His recommendations in the line will be similar to those of last year, when he urged establishment of postal savings banks in states having no laws regulating savings banks, and in any state upon a petition of a considerable number of residents in any one locality. He will recommend that there be no more than one bank for every 10 miles of area and that the interests on deposits be one half of one per cent lower than that paid by other banks.

He is not very sanguine of persuading congress to appropriate $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 for the deficit that would occur in the department in case a reduction in the postal rate was made. The argument that a reduction of letter postage one-half would increase the business is met at the department by the estimate that a largely increased force would be necessary to do the business and consequently the expenses of the office would be correspondingly increased. The postmaster general is anxious to see the penny postage adopted, but congress will have to make the change possible by increased appropriations.

The two principal points that will be dwelt on in Wanamaker's recommendations are the extensions of the free delivery system and the improvement of the inspection service.

ATLANTA TESTED.

The Warship Atlanta has a Test in Bad Weather.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The United States steamer Atlanta anchored in the bay here last night after the severest struggle with the elements that any ship of the new navy has experienced.

The vessel left here Sunday morning for Assateague shoals to help the wrecked Despatch. Near the Delaware breakwater she encountered a terrible gale and drifted at the mercy of the wind and sea, only 20 miles from the coast, until daylight Wednesday morning. On Monday night her decks were swept by terrific seas, which smashed the port hawse hole, cracked the sheating of the main deck and flooded the berth deck. An enormous wave breaking on the quarter flooded the double compartment between the hold and berth deck. This deck is divided by a partition, the forward being the collision department and the aft the storeroom. In the collision compartment was stored a quantity of Japan dryer, the basis of which is naphtha. The pumps were rigged to relieve the vessel and a light was lowered, when the naphtha gas exploded. F. C. James and James Monahan were badly burned about the hands, neck and arms, and are fatally injured by breathing the ignited vapor.

On Wednesday the storm abated and the vessel was run into Delaware breakwater. Capt. Phillips said that in a storm such as he had never witnessed for severity, the ship behaved splendidly, and he believes the Atlanta capable of weathering any storm.

Till the Sea Gives up its Dead.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—The schooner Rebecca A. Taulane, Capt. A. Nickerson, of South Chatham, carrying a crew of seven men, is no doubt lost with all on board. She left Newport News, Va., Aug. 28, for Galveston with a cargo of coal and she has not been heard of since. The vessel was valued at $17,000.

Panic on Shipboard.

TULON, Oct. 16.—Two small steamers, each crowded with 200 passengers, collided in the harbor this morning. A panic at once ensued. Many of the half-crazed people made a rush for the boats, while others attempted to pass from steamer to steamer. Several were flung into the sea by the violence of the shock and were hardly rescued.

USED ALL THE CASH.

The Oregon Pacific Railroad in a Bad Deep Hole.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A meeting of bondholders of the Oregon Pacific road was held in the Farmers Loan and Trust building yesterday. The meeting was largely attended, $14,000,000 of the $15,000,000 of outstanding bonds being represented. The venerable John I. Blair, of New Jersey, one of the largest bondholders, was present. Had Receiver Hogg been present when the bondholders were expressing their opinions of him there would have been an altercation. His financial methods were bitterly criticised, and hopes were expressed that means would be found to take the road out of his hands. The road when completed will be 600 miles long. Only 140 miles will be built, and yet the entire $15,000,000 of bonds, the maximum limit on 600 miles, has been issued.

WAS HUNG TWICE.

The Executioner of the Redwood Falls Murderer Has an Awful Experience.

REDWOOD FALLS, Oct. 16.—Wm. Rose, the murderer of Wm. Lufkin in August, 1888, was hung at daylight this morning.

At 4:56 the trap was sprung, but the rope broke with a snap. Without a moment's delay the limp body was picked up and placed face downwards on the scaffold, a second noose was pulled down and adjusted.

The trap was sprung again at 5 o'clock without attempting to place the body on its feet, and a process of slow strangulation ensued.

The conviction of Rose for the murder of Lufkin was on purely circumstantial evidence. The two men had quarrelled, one evening the latter was shot, a friend saw a man in the twilight who looked like Rose. Footprints were found leading from the house to a tree, to which a pony had evidently been tied. The trail was taken up here and followed for 20 miles, ending at the house of Rose. When the posse came up a pony was found tied in front of the house, and which had every appearance of having been hard ridden. Comparisons were made and the pony's hoofs were found to correspond exactly to those made by the animal which had been tied to the tree.

When arrested Rose claimed to have been visiting his uncle in the southern part of the county on that day. One of the shoes worn by Rose on the day of the murder was presented in evidence as tending to establish the fact that he had stepped on a barbed wire fence near the house where Lufkin was shot, the imprint of the barb fitting a mark in the shoe. The time as stated by witnesses of his visit to the neighborhood where his uncle had lived would give him ample opportunity to reach there after the shooting took place. Rose, however, was found guilty at the third trial of the case, the jury having failed to agree at two former trials.

Had Seen Such Things Before.

Daily News, this morning: There were no sensational features, no terrible details, and none but the chosen few saw the body of William Rose shoot downward. There was a single spasmodic upward movement of the pinioned legs, a fierce clasp of the manacled hands, and there hung between heaven and earth, a dead body. The heart beat for 13 minutes in the unconscous form, at end of 23 minutes the body was cut down.

Put in all the Details.

Daily Tribune, this morning: The trap was sprung, the work was well done. There was a slight twitching of the legs as the body gently swayed to and fro, and then all was quiet. The body was left hanging 13 minutes, after which it was cut down and given to Coroner Peace.

A RACE FOR BLOOD

Great Lake Liners in a Race Against Time for a Buffalo Elevator.

The Sault Passage Was Opened About the Sunken Peek Early This Morning.

And Business on Lake Superior is Now Resumed With a Breathless Rush.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Oct. 16—[Special to The Herald.]—Navigation opened with a rush this morning by the arrival of the Sarnia line steamer Monarch first, and the Gladstone, Western Reserve and Alberta in the order named.

Last night a few light draft craft got through the new channel. This morning at daybreak the Osceola, of the Grand Trunk line, came through in tow of the tug Merrick. The Osceola was one of the last boats to arrive, but on account of having her own tug, was one of the first to get through the channel. It is not thought the big liners, who are loaded, can get through until the channel is deeped some, which will be done today. This will delay the passing of craft considerably.

There will be a race for blood between the steamers E. C. Pope, Emily P. Weed and Northern Light. They are all bound for the same elevator in Buffalo and about following one another in their turn past the wreck. The first boats to get past, bound down, was the John V. Moran, Nimick, Gilchrist and tug Constitution, followed by the Emily P. Weed, Neosho, Frontenac, Tacoma and Colonial. The following up bound have arrived at the Neebish: Steam barge J. W. Moore and Athabasca.

TWO HARBORS GETS THERE.

Last Year's Record is now Broken by 7000 Tons.

Notwithstanding the delay to traffic caused by the closing of the Soo river the Two Harbors shipments during the past week have exceeded those for the same week last year. The season's movement is now 7000 tons ahead of that of last year. During the entire season of 1890, 880,000 tons of ore were shipped from Two Harbors and this season ought to see nearly 925,000 tons moved, for there will certainly be a big movement from now on, unless the weather gets so cold as to make it difficult to handle the soft Chandler ore.

Shipments for week	26,589	21,511
Shipments for season	775,711	786,013
In dock	25,393	9,365
Total movement	802,104	795,379

The Fayette Brown and Iosco cleared yesterday with 3712 tons of Chandler ore. There are no boats in port.

Marine Notes.

There is almost nothing doing in wheat charters here now. The rate is nominally 2¾ cents. Grain shippers argue that there's no use engaging tonnage beforehand when by waiting they can probably avail themselves of a reduction consequent upon the throwing of a large amount of tonnage upon the market at once.

OLD TAMMANY SCHEMES.

The Tiger Begins Colonization in New York City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Herald this morning exposes a colonization scheme in the Seventh assembly district which it says is being carried out by Elmer H. Brown, a member of Tammany hall, in the interests of the democratic candidates. Bernard F. Martin, the commissioner of jurors, and well known as a Tammany leader, is said to be mixed up in the scheme.

The Herald has clearly established the fact that two lodging houses in the districts are colonized and further says there is plenty of evidence to show that at least two other houses are being similarly used.

Similar charges of colonization are freely made by democratic journals against the republican campaign managers.

MANY CHINESE COME.

Officials on the North Line of the State Have a Time With Yellow Boys.

ST. VINCENT, Minn., Oct. 16.—Within the past few weeks, on account of the strict enforcement of customs regulations in New York state, the tide of Chinese immigration is diverted to the northern frontier of Minnesota and North Dakota. Minnesota between Lake Superior and Red river, 400 miles, is guarded by only three customs officers and North Dakota is not in much better plight. Consequently the Celestials are coming on in groves in spite of the best efforts of the officers.

Collector Nelson, of the Dakota district, received a telegram on Tuesday from Killarney, Man., informing nim that 52 Chinese had just gone south toward the international boundary line, and Deputy Collector C. J. Williams, of St. Vincent, received intelligence today that 28 others are on their way south towards St. Vincent. This is but the beginning, but with about 400 arrivals weekly at Vancouver from China a large increase will be added to our population unless active measures are taken.

A CHINESE INVASION.

A Nest of Smugglers Discovered on Puget Sound.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 16.—Capt. Nels Olsen, of the fishing schooner Margaret, reports to the customs authorities at Seattle, the discovery of smugglers' headquarters on Lopez island, a small uninhabited island in Puget Sound. While on a fishing cruise Olsen ran his schooner every night into a small secluded bay on the island away from the usual route.

While there he encountered no less than five parties of smugglers, two of which landed on the island, but the others turned from their course and ran out to sea as soon as they saw his schooner. One vessel landed had 50 Chinamen on board, and all went into camp. From there they will be landed in the United States by twos and threes in small boats by being put ashore in the woods several miles from the city under the cover of darkness.

From $50 to $100 is paid for each Chinaman successfully landed in this country. He will guide the customs officers to the island, and an attempt will be made to capture the vessel and the men engaged in breaking the exclusion laws.

A GOVERNMENT OVERTURNED.

Party in New South Wales Loses on an Eight-Hour Clause.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—A dispatch from Sydney, N. S. W., says: In parliament yesterday the government offered a motion to the effect that a bill introduced by it regulating the mining laws should be returned to the committee which had considered it, in order than an eight-hour clause which it contained might be stricken out. Notwithstanding the efforts of the government supporters the bill was carried by a vote of 40 to 41, and an immediate adjournment was had. The cabinet will resign.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct, 16.—The sheriff has taken possession of a large plot of ground in the center of the town by order of the district court, ejecting therefrom the United States soldiers who have so long held possession for the government. Yesterday morning the soldiers retook the plot and ejected the sheriff's representative. A bitter fight in the courts is anticipated.

Valuable Horses Burned.

SABINA, Ohio, Oct. 16.—Early yesterday U. M. Morgan, a wealthy and extensive breeder of fine trotting and pacing horses, sustained a loss of $75,000 by evident incendiary burning of his barn and 13 finely-bred horses, eight of which were stallions. There was no insurance on either barn or horses. Nancy Strathmore, full sister of Harry Strathmore, and valued at $10,000, was lost, as was also Hazord Strathmore, full brother to Harry. Several well-known horses were burned.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Oct. 16, 1891.—10 a. m.—A storm is forming over South Dakota and will probably move easterly today, bringing rain to this section. The low area which was central over the lower lakes yesterday has passed out of sight.

But little rain has fallen in the past 24 hours, and that at widely scattered places. The heaviest was one-tenth of an inch at Marquette.

Quite a rise in temperature has taken place over Dakota and the Southwest, while it has fallen slightly over the extreme Northwest and the Ohio valley. The warmest place is Concordia, Kan., 54, the coldest 24 at Minnedosa.

A MODERN TROJAN HORSE.

A good deal has been said, generally in a laudatory and happy congratulatory strain, on the recent action of the catholic priests at Faribault and Stillwater, in this state, anent parochial schools. The Herald's readers will recollect that at Faribault, three weeks ago, the parish priest offered to turn to the city the parochial schools on certain conditions. First, the school board was to pay a yearly rental of $1 for each building; second, it was to employ the former teachers—sisters—"if found competent." His offer was quickly accepted, and was followed a few days later by a similar offer and similar quick acceptance at Stillwater. Most people have comfortably regarded these steps as an indication of a breaking down of the parochial school system, which, whether in the catholic or other church, has been regarded as a barrier to complete American citizenship and a foe to the state. The Herald is free to say that it was one of these. Perhaps it was mistaken. The following, from the last issue of the Northwestern Chronicle, the catholic organ of the state, would indicate that the general optimistic belief was an error:

The catholic children in attendance last year are there at present, but in much larger numbers. The school board has abolished ward divisions so that the children may attend from any part of the city. The Dominican sisters teach there; the religious emblems in the schoolrooms last year are there today. Full provision is made by the pastor for the religious instruction of the pupils. If anything else is required by the catholic church in the education of children we do not know it; and yet we are scarcely without full information as to what theologians and councils and pontifical documents have said on the subject. The parents of the children think it is an appreciable advantage that whilst religion is not endangered, they are free from all financial burdens. Nor is it a small matter to be released from a money burden of this sort. Very often parents, out of scanty wages, have to support not only their families, but the school also. It seems to us to be cruel and heartless, if not unjust, to force this financial obligation upon a not very affluent people. Theorists never seem to take into consideration this aspect of the school question. If there were question of surrendering a principle of right or of endangering the faith or morality of the pupils, our monetary argument would have no weight. But there is no such danger, as may be seen from the actual working of the plan agreed upon.

The citizens of Faribault are in complete harmony on the subject. A burning question is settled for them. The Faribault arrangement is not new in Minnesota. Some 15 or 20 schools on the same plan are taught by the Benedictine sisters in Stearns county. The Sisters of Notre Dame, whose mother house is in Milwaukee, teach two schools in the diocese of St. Paul on the same plan. The system is so simple and so satisfactory, so safe to the catholic conscience, and yet so thoroughly observant of the letter and spirit of the civil law regarding schools, that we are surprised at catholics not having sought it out more extensively, and at our non-catholic fellow citizens for not having reached this agreement sooner. The system is condemned chiefly by people who do not understand it. We certainly hope for a much further extension of it in Minnesota.

The perusal of this remarkable and official statement will tend to excite suspicion as to whether or no this step of progress may not be a step in the advance of a modern wooden horse in our entrenched Troy of public schools.

We want no sectarianism in the public school. We care not wheter it be catholic or lutheran, or episcopal or methodist, or whatever color it may assume, the public school must be unsectarian. Let it be Godless, as catholics exclaim if need be, but let it be unsullied by sect. Evil has been done in Faribault, already catholic prayer has been allowed in the ex-parochial schools. Who would wish or dare install the congregational creed or the presbyterian prayer in Minnesota's public schools? As the Chronicle says the system is not new it mentions Stearns county. We can mention Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where a school board accepted the parochial schools, on the provision that parish priests teach what they wish before 9 and after 3 o'clock.

The school boards of Faribault and Stillwater, in order to save, as they themselves admit, interest on bonds or rent, have put themselves in an embarrassing and evil position. Suppose other denominations desire to follow the catholic lead. Where might this thing end?

ST. LUKES HOSPITAL.

Duluth has no nobler institution than St. Luke's hospital and has seen no nobler work than it has done during the ten years of its life. Organized at a time when Duluth had few people to contribute to such an institution, while the needs were nevertheless great, its early work was accomplished under great difficulties and only by the most earnest efforts of the people who had immediate care of its interests. As Duluth has grown, the work of the hospital has kept pace with the city. It has been always non-sectarian. Its work has not been merely to take care of pay patients, but to give the best of attention to all who, by disease or accident, need hospital care. As the annual report of the hospital shows, the total number of days' care given during the year was 7145, and of these 2838, or about forty per cent, were given to free patients. The key of the aim and work of St. Lukes is the following from the managers: "We expect those to pay for care who can afford to do so, but we are here simply to minister to humanity, not to make money, and for years we have practically freely cared for one out of every three who have come to us. If the people of Duluth will help us, we will increase this work indefinitely." Every one will endorse this.

While the work of the hospital is broad, liberal and competent, and has kept pace with the growth of the city, its financial ability is still much below its needs. Unlike the majority of hospitals of its character it was founded by no endowment and none has ever been made. It must depend upon its income from the receipts from pay patients and from the donations of citizens, made from time to time. Tomorrow is its annual donation day and it should be observed generally by our citizens. There is no work that needs aid more than this hospital work, and none that is more deserving. Every dollar sent to the trustees will be well spent and aid in a labor of humanity, every gift of whatever kind, whether of provisions, clothing or reading material, will be of use.

The proprietors of the Minneapolis Tribune should pay their editorial writer's tuition at some boys' academy of standing for a couple of years, in order that he may learn first principles in economics. He is once more resurrecting the Gladstone scheme because, according to his view, "Gladstone has been proven to possess advantages superior to Duluth." He now thinks that a whaleback line between Gladstone and Buffalo is the only thing that will save Minneapolis. The only thing that will save Minneapolis is some good hard work on the part of the fool killer. The Tribune certainly has the jim-jams bad, but nearly all the Twin City papers are similarly affected when a banner inscribed "Duluth" is waved before them. The Globe recognizes that it is useless to disregard Duluth's advantages as a shipping and receiving point.

"Superior is indebted to some fool correspondent," says the Leader, "for a statement now going the rounds of the press to the effect that this city is in the throes of a copper and silver craze.' Superior is indebted to her newspaper correspondents for a good many things that have kept her name before the newspaper reading public on borrowed capital. It is an unkind cut to abuse these hard working correspondents because they happen to lie the wrong way once in a while.

Maud S. is still queen of the turf, but her honors were in great danger the other day. Probably only a hard wind prevented the great Sunol from reducing her record, or at least equalling it. The chances are that in another season this newest trotting wonder of Mr. Bonner's will set the pace for all others. Sunol is a great colt and deserves the admiration of all horse lovers.

The Herald welcomes the new Swedish paper, "Fria Pressen," which appeared for the first time Wednesday. It is a neat and well-edited journal, and is well filled with news. It is the organ of the Swedish Mutual Benefit association, which is strong in Northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. We hope it will succeed.

Leonard Washburn, who was killed yesterday in an Illinois train wreck, was the brightest sporting writer in the United States. His descriptions of the Chicago league games the past season were eagerly read everywhere the Inter-Ocean was seen.

THERE are nobles over in Germany who make a business of selling titles and decorations. There are pretenders here in Duluth who make a business of undermining titles. The only decorations they get are black eyes from the courts.

THE reports of events written before the events take place don't always jibe. The attention of our morning contemporaries is called to a comparison of their report of the Rose hanging and the facts, as detailed tonight.

SEEN AND HEARD.

The steamer North Star excited the curiosity of hundreds yesterday afternoon by whirling around in a circle just outside the canal. Many of her spectators thought her machinery was out of gear, while others thought something had been lost. One man vouchsafed the opinion that she had lost her course and was trying to find it. Inquiry brought out the fact that the vessel had plenty time to spare before reaching the Sault and so her captain thought he would experiment to learn how fast she could go in describing a circle of a given size. She whirled about like a whale at play.

Judge Thomas, who is sitting here on the United States bench, has walked right into the hearts of Duluth people. Of course no one had any doubt as to the final outcome of the Naddo case, but only the lawyers had faith enough to believe that it would be knocked out on the demurrer. There is very little doubt that the appellate court will sustain Judge Thomas in his decision. However, it would not be surprising if it gave Naddo relief as against Bardon. But that phase did not come up before the circuit court.

The judge is a person who leaves a lasting impression on those who have seen him. He is tall and rather slender, has a very erect bearing and wears a business suit and slouch hat. In talk and action he is very quick, be it while in private conversation or while presiding in court. Those who know his record say he is every whit a lawyer and in all that he says or does is outspoken to a degree very seldom found in men of his position. He is no politician and his appointment to his present position, which dates from the organization of North Dakota as a state, is due to his record, assisted by the influence of his many friends. He was for years the counsel for the famous Homestake mine at Deadwood. The judge was laughing yesterday when telling what he should do, how he would punish "you Duluthians" if he ever had a hearing in the Prentice case.

Ex-Duluth real estate dealer John Flittie, now state auditor of North Dakota, who lives up in Grand Forks county, says that at the beginning of the late rains one-third of the wheat crop had been safely threshed, one-third was in the stack and the other third was in shock. The last portion of the crop, he said, had been damaged, but not to the extent predicted by some. It was too late for the wheat to grow, but it would lose on account of bleaching. The wheat in the stack has been a little injured. In some instances the stacking was poor.

AN EXCELLENT CONCERT.

The Ohrstrom Concert at Temple Opera a Very Enjoyable Treat.

Temple Opera was well filled last night for the concert given by the Ohrstrom Concert company. A large proportion of the audience consisted of Scandinavian countrymen and women of Mlle. Ohrstrom. The concert on the whole was exceptionally good, well rounded and every number enjoyable. Mlle. Ohrstrom has a soprano of pleasing quality and good range, which she has under perfect control. She was evidently laboring with a bad cold last night, which affected her tone and sometimes her intonation, but which on the whole she very deftly covered by her excellent method of singing. She sang "Ah Perfido," Beethoven, and "Dear Heart," Mattei to both of which she was obliged to respond with encores, for which she sang Swedish songs. In these she was decidedly at her best, the interpretation of her native music being markedly characteristic and most charming. The addition of a pleasing stage presence is also her favor. Sharing equal honors with Miss Ohrstrom was the singing of the basso, Mr. Balfe. His voice is of rare good quality, resonant and pleasant, and he uses it with skill. His singing and interpretation was artistic, and with the addition of good stage routine he made a marked impression. J. C. Abdill, the tenor, has an excellent voice and sings well, but mars it badly by most unfortunate mannerisms. These seem to be habits only, that might be avoided with a little care. He was at his best in the trios. Miss Violet Phelps was the elocutionist of the party and entertained the audience with several recitations, which were well rendered. The accompaniments were well taken care of by Miss Alice Watson, who also played two piano solos very acceptably. The concert ended with a trio, which was encored, a rare occurrence on concert programs.

OUR BEAUTIFUL DEPOT

This Fine and Substantial New $400,000 Duluth Union Depot Is Used Today for the First Time.

A Credit to the Railway Companies That Have United in Constructing and Will Operate It.

Roof Timbers Going on the New Methodist Church Building; A Fine New $20,000 Dwelling

About midnight last evening the ticket office was moved from the old depot into the emigrant room of the new Union depot. Today the baggagemaster's headquarters were transferred to the new building. At an early hour today Contractor Bartlett began tearing down the old building which has been a landmark since the first train came into Duluth 21 years ago. Agent Robinson is all smiles over the change.

All is bustle about the new building and in the great train shed. Stone pavement is being laid at the east end of the shed, which is, as far as the train gates, reserved for carriages. A stone walk has been laid from the foot of the massive granite steps at the avenue entrance as far as the baggagerooms, and the foundation for the iron track, fence and gates is put up, and men are clearing out the old tracks and refuse under the shed preparatory to putting in new tracks. The express companies are taking possession of their quarters at the west end of the building today.

The waiting rooms on the ground floor and the depot offices above will not be ready for occupancy much before Dec. 1.

THE FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

Workmen Are Preparing to Put in the Roof Timbers.

The brownstone and brick work on the rear of the First methodist church has been finished and in a few days that on the other three sides will be finished. A broad scaffold has been erected in the interior on which carpenters can work to advantage in putting the roof timbers in place. Contractor Myers has certainly rushed the work in a remarkable manner since he took hold in person and has done it so well as to leave no room for criticism. He does nothing but build churches, and as he has built several almost exactly like the Duluth edifice he is enabled to make his movements compare favorably with those of a clock for regularity. He has built 30 churches in all.

By the time cold weather sets in the church will have been made ready for plastering and then work will be discontinued until spring in order to let woodwork become thoroughly seasoned. The house when finished will be equal to, if it will not surpass, any church in the Northwest for convenience and architectural beauty.

A Fine Residence.

H. M. Peyton has plans prepared and will build very soon a beautiful residence on the corner of Fourteenth avenue and Bench street, directly across Chester brook from the Hartley house. The location is superb and gives the widest latitude for landscape work. The house itself will cost from $20,000 to $25,000. Mr. Peyton would build more expensively only he believes that in time the locality in question will become a business section.

A DICKENS PARTY.

A Remarkably Pleasant Party by a Ladies Class.

Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer the Ladies Literature class, Duluth's oldest literary organization, gave a Dickens character party, which was an index of the work of the class for the year, in taking up modern writers.

At the party all present were attired in character, and four scenes from Dickens were presented in a very happy manner. One scene was from Nicholas Nickleby; one was between Mr. Pickwick and Mrs. Bardell; one was from David Copperfield, representing the stormy interview between Miss Trotwood and Mr. and Miss Murdstone; and the "Holly Tree Inn" scene from Pickwick, in which James C. Hunter sang the ivy song.

The characters were: Mrs. Jellyboy, Mrs. Billson; John Perrybingle, George Spencer; Mrs. Perrybingle, Mrs. Spencer; Mrs. Nickleby, Mrs. J. D. Ray, Pluck, Dr. Woodberry; Pike, S. C. McConaughy; Dolly Varden, Miss Markell; Little Nell, Miss Ensign; Mrs. Bardell, Mrs. Stone; Mr. Pickwick, Mr. Mattocks, of Chicago; Sairy Gamp, Mrs. Collins; Mr. Peggotty, R. C. Ray; Betsy Trotwood, Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge; Mr. Dick, W. S. Woodbridge; Miss Murdstone, Mrs. W. C. White; Mr. Murdstone, W. C. White; David Copperfield, Herbert Spencer; Agnes, Mrs. Prindle; Florence Dombey, Mrs. Forbes; Dora, Miss Fleming; Capt. Cuttle, E. C. Jones; Mrs. Wilfer, Mrs. Bangs; Barkis, Mr. Ayers; Mrs. Shewton, Mrs. Barnum; Sergt. Buzfuz, R. E. Denfeld; Mark Pattey, Page Morris; Fanny Squeers, Mrs. W. B. Phelps; Leo Hunter, Mrs. D'Autremont; the doll's dressmaker, Mrs. F. A. Gooding.

AS USUAL

The County Loses in an Important Legal Tax Case.

County Attorney Tear has just made a stipulation with W. H. Bliss, attorney for the St. Paul & Duluth, by which the railroad gets out of paying $3,422.14 for assessments and penalties.

The stipulation was sanctioned by a decree of the court. It seems that some months back the court gave judgment in the above amount against the company for street assessments of 1890. The property affected was lots 2, 3, 4, 5, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16 and 17, block 3, Portland, and lots 3, 4 and 5, block B, Portland. Recently Mr. Bliss moved to have the judgement opened and succeeded, for by a court decree of 1889 assessments could not be levied on railroad property used as such.

But the judgement that was opened had, through the county's fault, failed to include block 33, Rices Point, which is not used for railroad purposes and which the railroad had formerly acknowledged was not exempt, and the county attorney did not have gumption enough to get for the county its deserts as regards this when the judgment was opened.

THEY HAVE THE BULGE.

The Mesaba & Northern People Would Ship Their Own Ore.

President Chase, of the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern, is here. "Let the Iron Range road build a spur along the western Mesaba," said he, "it will do them no good for they can't get traffic. The mines are going to have their own road and we are to build it. Such a branch as that proposed by Geo. C. Stone would be a losing investment, but would make a good extension for our line and I have no doubt the Iron Range would find it advantageous to sell it to us."

THOSE SOUVENIR BOOKS.

The "Resources of Minnesota" Not a Scheme of Minneapolis Journal.

The following letter was received this morning from the Minneapolis Journal in regard to the edition of souvenir books lately foisted on Duluth people by men who claimed to be agents of the Journal:

D. E. Woodbridge, managing editor, Herald: I find the enclosed cut from The Herald of last week. Let me tell you about the facts of that souvenir book which The Herald a few days ago spoke sharply of, so that if you make any further statements in regard to the matter you will not mix the Journal in the matter. We are not engaged in a dishonest business.

Two men who have been in the habit of getting up these souvenir books made an arrangement with the Journal for the publication of one on Minneapolis, and so far as the contracts were concerned the Journal told its patrons here that it would see that the contracts were properly carried out. And they have been. The Minneapolis book is a great success. The proprietors, however, after the book was out, it seems, took their plates and went into other towns and solicited business, making special contracts, which, however, had nothing to do with the Minneapolis book any more than that whatever was written with regard to those other towns was added to the Minneapolis stuff. The Journal had nothing whatever to do with this, and nobody had any guarantee of any kind from the Journal that such contracts would be carried out. In fact nobody had any dealings with the Journal. These people did not represent the Journal, and it would be just as fair to us to say that you were swindling the people of some outside town if somebody took the name of The Herald and went outside and attempted to do business on it without any authority from you. If anybody in Duluth was unwise enough to get caught in this way we are sorry, because of course these people will be inclined to think hardly of the Journal, when as a matter of fact the Journal had nothing to do with the business at all. J. S. McLain, Editor Journal, Minneapolis, Oct. 15.

The Herald is more than glad to print the above explanation, as it clears a paper for which it has always had the highest respect and greatest admiration from an appearance of fraud. As this paper stated in exposing the fraud a few days ago, "the Journal has no need to carry on fraudulent transactions." The fraud was on the part of an irresponsible drummer who gained a hearing and credence by coupling himself to a reputable institution.

The value of the incident as a lesson to Duluth people to fight shy of self-claimed agents is not lessened, but rather heightened, by the Journal's explanation.

Such a State of Things.

Martin Gilbertson has made motion to have the court decision fining him $75 for selling liquor to minors, quashed, on the ground that the village council exceeded its authority in enacting the ordinance controlling the sale of liquors. Judge Himebaugh says that the ordinance is the same under which the saloons have secured their licenses, and if on appeal it is declared void, he will see that the saloonkeepers are prosecuted under the state law for selling liquor without license. Gilbertson thinks the court does not dare enforce the sentence, and although he has been committed, yet he seems to enjoy his liberty, and has not given bonds and does not seem to be in the hands of an officer.

The Discovery of America.

Three hundred and ninety-nine years ago this week, Christopher Columbus came in sight of the Western Hemisphere. To be exact, it was three hundred and ninety-nine years the 14th day of the present month. Familiar as it is to every child at school, and commonplace the mention of it seems now to be, it is really one of those wonderful events in the history of our world which seem like romance when we come to learn the particulars of the story. Dying in poverty and neglect, the Genoese stepped from a troubled life to a place among immortal names. If his spirit is cognizant of what takes place on earth, it must be proud to know that all the great nations will soon send their representatives to the land he discovered, to do honor to his achievements. To that celebration, the World's fair at Chicago, the whole Northwest desires to go, and when choosing a railroad route, they will make no mistake if they take the "The Burlington." It reaches many prominent cities besides Chicago, and to ascertain rates of fare, connections, etc., call on any ticket agent of this or connecting lines, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

How to Dress on $40 a Year.

The Boston Globe has published many lively letters, discussing the possibility of a woman's dressing on $40 a year.

One bright woman hung out her flag by saying, "Wear your clothes until they are worn out, but don't look shabby. Dye them with Diamond Dyes (black is most useful now) and make them over, and see how, while the expense is reduced, you will be as well dressed as your neighbors."

DULUTH OR MILWAUKEE

With the Present Chances Probably Slightly in Favor of the Beer City on Lake Michigan.

Such, From Inadvertently Dropped Remarks, Appears to be the Condition Regarding Harvesters.

A Fairy Tale of a $3,000,000 Offer of Englishmen for Good Mesaba Iron Lands.

The finance committee of the great Walter A. Wood company departed this afternoon in General Manager Pough's car over the St. Paul & Duluth. They are still the guest of the New Duluth Land company and will be until they reach Minneapolis.

While across the bay they were taken to West Suprior, East Superior, Old Superior, South Superior and Central Superior. From each they received offers though Central Superior got them.

From remarks dropped by various members of the committee, either Duluth or Milwaukee will be selected for their Western branch manufactory, with the chances at present slightly in favor of Milwaukee. In addition to the site, a large cash subscription is required of the town that locates them.

SELLING FOR MILLIONS.

Such is the Story of a Much Talked of Local Iron Deal.

The statement appeared in a morning paper that an English syndicate had asked for a six months' option to purchase the Iron Mountain and Bewabik mines on a basis of $3,000,000, the cash payment on the option to be $100,000. The individual through whom the offer was made was said to be John G. Brown, who is known by everybody as a firm friend of the Minnesota Iron company and with whom the Merritts, chief owners of the properties mentioned, have long been at swords' points.

The Merritts wouldn't say much about the matter this morning except that Edgar Brown, the Lakeside giant and real estate man, was the negotiator and not John G. Brown. They intimated that a big offer had been made for the properties but would not make a flat footed statement to that effect. About town opinion seems to be divided as to the genuineness of the alleged offer. Some would not be surprised if the owners were offered $3,000,000 for the properties as they claim to know of a couple of previous offers, one of $500,000 and another of $1,000,000, and they have no doubt that there is more ore in sight at either of those mines than in any mine on the range. However, they incline to the opinion that the Minnesota Iron company is back of any large offer that may be made. Others think that it is merely a move of another kind.

It is believed that Maj. W. F. Richie, of London, England, who has been here for some time back, is supposed to be in the affair, but those who know him do not think there is any possibility of a trade, especially as Maj. Richie's interests lie in a contrary direction.

They Got $2.75 and Board.

It takes all sorts of people to make a world. A number of laborers returned yesterday from the harvest fields of North Dakota, notwithstanding that they were getting the big wages of $2.75 a day and board. Their only reason for quitting was that they wanted to go into the woods.

WORLD OF COMMERCE

Wheat Holds up Here While Demand is Filled, Then Drops to the Level of Other Markets.

A Good Deal of Money Made on the Straddle Between Duluth and Chicago December.

Local Receipts Pick up, But a Big Lot of Shipments Are Looked for Next Week.

The closing spurt of yesterday was all gone when the markets of the country opened this morning, Duluth being the only one which did not open at a decline of ¼c to ⅜c. Here prices were unchanged, and until a fair demand for cash and October wheat was supplied, held steady. This was not long. After a few minutes sellers became numerous and values gradually declined, while the market became very dull, continuing so up to the close. Trading was nearly all confined to cash and October No. 1 northern.

Receipts showed a small improvement. There were 463 cars on track here, and 506 at Minneapolis, a total of 969 against 855 yesterday, and 730 the day before. The increase from yesterday was nearly all here. Weather in the Northwest was fine early, but the signal service predicts showers. Shipments were again larger than receipts, but the last boats this side of the Sault will be loaded today, and there will be nothing more to load before Tuesday.

Thirty loads for export, taken last night and this morning were reported from New York.

One of the features of speculation here of late has been selling at Chicago and buying here. The two markets have been gradually drawing nearer together to the advantage of such spreads, and a good deal of profit has been made. Today Chicago ruled 2½c over our market for December, against 3⅛c at last night's close, and abont 6c a short time back.

Cash wheat soldto a fair extent. No. 1 hard was dull, opened at 97½c, closed at 97c. No. 1 northern opened at 96½c, sold down to 96c, declined to 95¾c without trades, recovered to 96c and closed with sellers. No. 2 northern opened at 91½c and closed at 91c. No. 3 opened at 86½c and closed at 86c sellers. Rejected sold at 76c and closed at 74c.

October No. 1 hard closed at 97c. No. 1 northern opened at 96½c declined to 95¾c, recovered to 96c and closed with sellers at that.

December No. 1 hard cloced without sales at 97½c bid, ¾c below last night. No 1 northern opened at 96c, first sold at 95¾c, declined to 95½c and closed with sellers at that.

May wheat was neglected. No. 1 hard closed at $1.05¼ and No. 1 northern at $1.03.

Receipts: Wheat, 226,419 bu; barley, 7099 bu; flax, 8055 bu; flour, 15,148 bbls. Shipments: Wheat, 273,272 bu; corn, 11,576 bu. Cars on track: Northern Pacific, 209; Great Northern, 213; Omaha, 27; St. Paul & Duluth, 14; total, 463; last year, 207.

C. P. BAILEY DEAD.

An Old and Well-Known Citizen Gone to His Reward.

Calvin Porter Bailey, father of Mrs. E. W. Markell, died a day or two ago at the Metropolitan hotel, St. Paul, after a long siege of consumption, from which he had lately appeared to be recovering. Mr. Bailey was a man of about 65 years of age, and came to Duluth in 1881 from New York city where he had long been in the banking bnsiness, both as a cashier and as the receiver of a very large institution. He came here with J. Q. Adams, now of St. Paul, and was soon made the receiver of the old First National bank here, a position he filled with honor and probity. He was for years an elder in the First presbyterian church, Some six years ago Mr. Bailey moved to Detroit, Minn., when he lived on his farm in the hope of benefiting his health. He was insurance commissioner during the first Merriam gubernatorial term but his health compelled a declination of the duties. He leaves a widow, a son, Abbott, who is in Minneapolis, and a daughter here. He was owner of considerable city property and county pine lands and leaves an estate of probably $100,000. His funeral took place yesterday afternoon.

O'BRIEN REPLIES.

The Irish Leader Castigates Those Who Have Maligned Him.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Wm. O'Brien today made public a statement. He writes as follows: "I have waited since the funeral hoping that the late Mr. Parnell's leading supporters would have the manliness to disassociate themselves from the charge that Mr. Dillon and myself had hounded their leader to death. Now are the councils of peace madly and finally cast to the winds; now have the foulest insinuations as to our treatment of Parnell become part of the machinery of the dissension mongers.

The basis of all communication with Parnell at Boulogne was first and last his retirement from the leadership. I broke off communication with him after the first interview until I was informed that he would entertain the proposal.

We kept three ideas always in view. First, that it was impossible that Parnell could continue chairman; secondly, to soften the memory of Parnell's fault; thirdly, to avert calamity of disruption. Had the terms we suggested covering these points, been loyally accepted the party would have been reunited under the leadership of McCarthy, leaving Mr. Parnell an honorable place. His trusted lieutenants professed themselves eager to secure Parnell's withdrawal. They themselves pressed me to consent to Parnell's proposition that he should retire in favor of myself.

UNION THE ISSUE.

Seventy-Five Elections in Canada Soon to be Based on Commercial Union.

It is Becoming the Only Issue on Which the Government Will Fall.

"Bankruptcy or Annexation" the Cry that is Spreading in Ottawa.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—A special to the Sun from Ottawa says Premier Abbott is greatly concerned over the unmistakable sentiment rapidly developing in every quarter of the Dominion in favor of political union with the United States.

Several of the most ardent supporters of the late Sir John A. Macdonald have become the foremost promoters of the movement. A leader in the tory ranks said last night that, as much as he disliked to make the admission, there was no disputing the fact that the only recourse to save Canada from bankruptcy and ruin appeared to be political union with the republic to the south. Organizations in every section of the country are being completed to lay the case of "bankruptcy or annexation" squarely before the people.

There are more than 100 seats in parliament, and within six months there will be from 50 to 75 elections in which the question of political union with the United States will be the important issue.

Ottawa—It is reported that J. J. Curran, M. P., is to enter Premier Abbott's cabinet without a portfolio. Curran is a leading Irish catholic and his admission will add great strength to the cabinet. It is understood that Costigan, minister of inland revenue, will shortly retire, when Curran will be placed in control of one of the departments.

KILL OUR SEAMEN.

American Blue Jackets Killed in a Brawl With Chilean Sailors.

VALPARAISO, Oct. 17.—Three, perhaps four American men-of-war's men were killed several others hurt in a desperate street fight yesterday afternoon with a a crowd of Chilean sailors. A number of the Chileans were badly hurt. The American blue-jackets were from the Baltimore and the Chileans were from the various war ships in the harbor.

There are several accounts as to the origin of the difficulty. The most plausible is that the row was started by some insulting remark made by the Chileans, who, ever since the victory of the junta, have shown a marked feeling of hostility towards Americans. There was much excitement when the news of the fight spread. The unfortunate affair is greatly regretted.

MELBOURNE AN INFRINGER.

The Hencoop Rainmaker Got Onto Another's Scheme.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 17.—Governor Humphrey is in receipt of a letter dated Stockton, Cal., from an individual who signs himself Michael Cahill, M. D. Cahill says Frank Melbourne, the Australian rainmaker, is an imposter and is infringing on his rights, he having applied several years ago for a patent on his discovery. He claims to have been 30 years in developing his discovery, and says he laid the matter before the Australian government when Melbourne discovered a part of his secret. He says when the ground is damp and the stratum of air next the earth contains vapor Melbourne's operations fail, but that the art as explained by him never fails.

The Chicago Pirates.

CHICAGO, Oct 17.—The Tribune says the Chicago club of the American association of 1892 is a certainty. Fred Pfeffer will be its manager and leading spirit and Sam G. Morton its business guardian. Dahlen, Gumbert and Kittridge are probabilities. Such men as Hart, the Sioux City pitcher, McPhee, of Cincinnati; Beckley, of Pittsburgh; Dan Richardson, of New York, and Long, of Boston, are in sight. The grounds are to be on the west side and big enough for 20,000 people. The new club is very strong in stockholders. Here is its list: M. C. McDonald, G. J. Richie, John Congdon, M. McDonald Jr., Harry Varnell, George J. Williams, C. E. Rollins, W. S. Johnson.

Women Elect Their Officers.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 17.—The nineteenth annual congress of the Association for the Advancement of Women closed last night. Officers were elected as follows: President, Julia Ward Howe; vice president one from each state secretary, Elizabeth Lord Tift, Buffalo; treasurer, Henrietta L. T. Wolcett, Dedham, Mass; auditors, Sylvia Curtis Hoffman, New York; Dr. Ella V. Mark, Maryland. A board of directors was also elected.

Silver Question Don't Count.

BIRMINGAAM, Ala., Oct. 17.—Governor Jones has opened his campaign for renomination. He declares himself against the sub-treasury and land loan schemes and government ownership of railroads. He said the silver question was nothing to fall out about. He believed that Grover Cleveland was one of the greatest democrats of this country. This was greeted with thundered applause.

O'Brien's Letter Valueless.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The revelations of Wm. O'Brien as to the Boulogne conference are not looked upon as of any consequence, coming as they do, after Parnell's lips are sealed. It is believed that O'Brien wishes to create a movement in favor of himself for leader of the Irish party, but in this he is not likely to be successful.

The Methodist Revival.

These services will continue through next week.

WE ARE FRANCE.

A Second Tower of Babel to be Built at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—At a conference between the Keystone Bridge company, of Pittsburgh, and E. F. Cragin, representing the promoters and several capitalists, the company's offer to build a tower for the World's fair was accepted. The company has agreed to construct the metal portion of the tower and have it completed by Feb. 1, 1893. The tower will be built on ground adjoining the World's fair and can be used after the fair is over. The cost of the tower will be $1,500,000, $1,300,000 of which has already been subscribed or pledged in Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

The height of the tower, from the ground to the top of the flagstaff, will be 1120 feet, and the width over all at the foundation level, 440 feet in each direction. According to the plans submitted and approved, the first landing, 200 feet from the ground, will accommodate from 12,000 to 15,000 persons; the second landing, 400 feet from the ground, will accommodate 5000, and the third landing, 1000 feet up, will accommodate 1500 persons. If necessary, over 25,000 people can be accommodated in the tower at one time.

CEDE VALUABLE LANDS.

Wyoming Reds Sell a Million Acres; Will be Self Supporting.

DENVER, Oct. 17.—The Shoshone and Arapahoe Indians of Wyoming agree to cede to the United States more than half of their reservation, or about 1,100,000 acres. The Indians receive $600,000. Nearly all of this will be put into funds for the benefit of the Indians and the annual interest expended for them, for cattle, irrigation, schools and the like.

The land ceded is, with the exception of about 100,000 acres, well watered, and the bottom lands are rich. Coal and oil are found, and there are indications of the presence of more valuable minerals. The country is 150 miles from railroad communication and for its development needs a railroad line through it from the Yellowstone park and the Northwest.

ST. CLOUD NEXT.

Faribault's Action as to Parochial Schools May be Copied.

ST. CLOUD, Oct. 17.—It is probable that at the next meeting of the board of education, steps will be taken toward turning over the parochial schools of this city to the board of public schools. Although similar action was accomplished at Faribault and Stillwater it is doubtful whether it can be done here. The parochial schools here are attended by two-thirds of the school-going children of the city, and the matter is regarded as a very important one by both sides interested.

IS IT FATED?

The Washington Hearing in Hyde and Macdonald is Again Postponed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—The Duluth land case known as the "Hyde and Macdonald' contest was postponed again today until Monday. Secretary Noble postponed hearing today on his own account. Wednesday it was postponed till today because of death in Attorney Reddington's family.

Contestant Hyde is still here, chafing because he cannot get a chance to be heard. It will probably come on Monday without fail.

Hoey Wants Judgment Suspended.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—John Hoey, ex-president of the Adams Express company, interviewed by a reporter, refused to talk of the charges made against him, acting, he said, under the advice of his counsel. He added, however, that the charges are so serious that he must answer them, but that would come at the proper time. The public, he said, should realize that it had heard but one side of the story as yet. In a few days it would hear the other.

Cowboys With Guns.

ENTERPRISE, Neb., Oct. 17.—Three cowboys, with drawn revolvers, raided the First National bank at noon. They secured $3500 in cash and threatened the cashier, who was alone at the time, with instant death if he interfered. The sheriff is after the robbers.

A Fat Benefit for Dempsey.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—Jack Dempsey was given a benefit last night. The feature of the entertainment was four rounds between Dempsey and young Mitchell. The benefit will net Dempsey over $4000.

He Doubted It.

You may laugh if you like, but it is a fact just the same. They actually do fit spectacles to horses. No! not reading glasses, but distance glasses. Did you ever wonder why some horses are always shying and cannot be broke of it? Well, it is simply short-sightedness, they do not see small objects until they get right close, and are ever being startled by suddenly coming upon a dog, or a pig, or a stump, or a bit of flying paper, or something of the sort, which keeps them in a continual state of nervousness. You want to know how they test their eyes do you? They do it by means of the ophthalmascope. This little instrument which gives the refraction of the eye (approximately) without any answers on the part of the patient. Horse spectacles so far, have only been used on fast horses, where a break in the gait might result in heavy losses to owner and backers. J. H. Ostrander, the expert optician, will remain all next week in Duluth, with F. D. Day, jeweler, 315 Superior street. Examinations free.

WANT NO MORE WAR

The Methodists Listen to One of President Harrison's Characteristic Speeches.

They Want Arbitration for All Countries and European Armies Disbanded.

They Should First Take the Beam of Disunion Out of Christian Sects.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—President Harrison made one of his characteristic speeches before the ecumenical council today. Among other things he said:

"Every Christian conference is a distinct step in the direction, not only of the unification of the church, but of the unification of the human race. Assembling from countries unlike in their civil institutions, from churches not wholly in accord, you find that the unlikeness is not so great as you had thought and to find your common sympathies and common purposes greater and larger than you had thought. It is the natural order that subdivisions should be wiped out before the grand divisions of the church can be united." "We hear more of the Master and His teachings than of hair-splitting theological differences. "A few days ago I had appointed this afternoon to visit the great gun foundry at the navy yard. Things have come in their sequence; I am here at this arbitration meeting before I go to the gun factory." "This subject of arbitration has perhaps as greatly attracted the interest and adherence of the United States as that of any other power in the world."

Bishop Wayman, of the African methodist church, announced that the bishops of the African branches of the church present at the council had held a meeting and decided in favor of organic union. This announcement was received with prolonged applause by members of the council, punctuated by cries of "hear, hear" from the foreign delegates.

Hon. J. D. Taylor, congressman from Ohio, delivered the first address on "International arbitration. He said the history of the world was one of war. The United States furnished an example, in the adoption of arbitration by the pan-American congress as a settlement of all disputes between American republics, of what could be done to dispense with war. Why could not European states submit their controversies to a similar tribunal? This could only be done by the disbandment of every army on the face of the earth.

IS SLOW PASSING.

Sault Blockade Not Likely to be Entirely Lifted Before Tuesday.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—Slow progress is being made here in passing craft through the new channel. Only seven boats have passed down and about 15 up this morning.

Some trouble is being had with the deep draft craft. If passages are not made faster than they have been today and yesterday it will be Monday night before the blockade will be cleared. Some captains are causing delay and trouble by trying to pass through before their turn. Superintendent Lynch, who is here in charge of affairs, will not allow this, and has issued orders to the effect at the Soo lock if any boats get there ahead of their turn not to lock them through.

GOOD FOR THE HOG.

The American Porker Will Get Into Italy, Now.

ROME, Oct. 17.—The announcement is made semi-officially that Italy has decided to remove the prohibiton now existing against the importation of American salted meats into Italy and that the decree officially announcing this determination will shortly be published.

Washington — Secretary Rusk this afternoon said: "It is probable that all the European countries who have prohibited the importation of meat products from America will soon remove the restrictions."

THE MAFIA AGAIN.

Just a Year After Chief Hennessy's Death They Bob Up.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—Gaelno Barrogana, an Italian lugger owner, was assassinated last night. The affair bears all the marks of the Mafia. There was a game of cards at an Italian saloon near the French market. A quarrel, a stampede and as the victim reached the door he was riddled with bullets. The police have arrested the proprietor of the place and several others. It is a curious fact that the Mafia is heard of exactly a year after Chief Hennessy's death.

Mrs. Thurman Dying.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 17.—The condition of Mrs. Allan G. Thurman at 10 o'clock this morning seems exactly the same as for the past three days. She still lies in a stupor and can hardly survive the day.

Mistakes of Moses.

"Mr. Hastings is a man of such long and varied experience, so sincere in his convictions, so fatherly and kind in his spirit, so fearless in his speech and so full of facts, logic and wit, that he both instructs and impresses the truth upon the mind as few men can. His whole life has been given to opposing the wrong and helping the good. We trust the people will hear him."—Dr. Smith Baker. You can hear him Monday and Tuesday nights Oct. 19 and 20, at the Pilgrim congregational church on "The Mistakes of Moses" and "Where God's Thunderbolts Have struck." Tickets 25 cents. STATE BAPTISTS.

At the Annual Meeting Many Duluth Pastors Take Part.

The state baptist convention held at St. Cloud this week was largely attended, about 300 delegates being present. The meetings were all exceptionally attractive, and the interest never flagged for a moment. Rev. G. H. McClellan and read an able report on the "State of Religion. "Though rather sombre in character it was delivered with a raciness which provoked a smile on the lips though the hearts of the brethren were sad. Rev. George H. Kemp gave an address on the "Convention Duty of Caring for the Weak," which was well received. Revs. E. E. Tyson and E. J. Brownson, also took part. Clergymen and laymen from various parts of the state vied with each other in effective addresses on leading questions.

Rev. Greisweit, of Minneapolis, gave one of the most powerful addresses on "Heroism on the Home Mission Field." The young people's meetings were amongst the most enthusiastic of the gatherings and the addresses of Dr. Lawrence, of Chicago, Dr. Hoyt and Rev. Greisweit were very effective. Dr. Moss, the editor of the Ensign, was requested to publish his address, which was up to the usual high standard of the doctor's productions. The "chapel car" was at the depot and large numbers of the delegates availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing it under the direction of Manager "Uncle Boston" Smith.

Some Events Next Week.

The Unity club meets Monday to discuss "Russia and the Jews." A. E. McCordic and Miss Neff are leaders in the talk.

Friday evening the noted New York Philharmonic club gives one of its famed concerts under the auspices of the Cecilian society. It will be a treat.

Neither the Pilgrim club nor the Round Table meets next week.

A special meeting of the Ladies Relief society is called for Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, room 4, Metropolitan block.

The ladies of Endion baptist church will hold a social at the church on Tuesday evening next.

The W. R. C. entertainment, which was to have been held at the Bethel last evening, was postponed till next week, on account of the inclemency of the weather.

The members of the Alliance Debating club, which held meetings for mutual benefit last winter, met in Parsons hall last evening to take steps toward commencing work this winter. It was decided to change the name to the Peoples Literary club. It will be non-political in its character, and both republicans and democrats are warmly invited to attend and learn the errors of their ways. The subject of debate next Saturday night will be, "Resolved, that it is to the best interest of Duluth that the liquor laws be strictly enforced."

Sure of Fassett.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Theodore Roosevelt, the aggressive member of the civil service commission, is at his post after several weeks' vacation spent on his Western ranch. He stopped long enough in New York to get charged with a large amount of republican enthusiasm. He unhesitatingly predicts Fassett's election. He states that there is no foundation for the rumor that he intends to resign from the commission.

The Day's Fires.

Mansfield, Ohio—The warehouse of the Union foundry, with contents, was completely destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $10,000; insurance, $3000; incendiary.

IN A NUTSHELL.

St. Petersburg—It is reported that authorities will prohibit the export of wheat at the end of the month. The exportation of potatoes to Prussia is already stopped.

Dubuque, Iowa—Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Peddlety, of Benton, Wis., were driving today, when their horse took fright at an engine and threw the occupants of the buggy out. Mrs. Peddlety had her skull fractured and will die. Mrs. Miller will recover.

Columbia, Tenn.—The Columbia Banking company and the Bank of Columbia failed. The former has a capital of $100,000 and the latter of $60,000.

Chicago—The special committee of the supreme lodge Knights of Pythias, appointed to prepare a complete revision of the ritual, is in session, and expects to complete its labors tonight.

Tecumseh, Neb.—This morning the doors of the National bank were closed. Examiner Griffith is in charge. There is a deficit of $70,000. This has nearly all been made good by the officers of the bank.

Milwaukee—The name of Geo. Hiles, the millionaire lumberman, has been forged to the extent of $40,000. The fraudulent paper passed through the hands of M. R. Hansen, of Hansen, Wood county, a prominent lumberman. Hansen disappeared several days ago.

Paris—Government is surprised at the opposition in the senate to the admission of American pork. Small proprietors have been from the first strongly opposed to the removal of the embargo, and their views are reflected in the senate.

Denver—The jury in the Madame Astle case, after 14 hours' deliberation, brought in a verdict of guilty. Mme. Astle is the abortionist the publication of whose practices so shocked Denver a short time ago and so affrighted its "best society."

Of Interest to Everybody.

No matter whether you believe there is any truth in spiritualism or not; no matter whether you have ever had an opportunity of investigating its phenomena or not, yet if you are in the habit of thinking and reasoning for yourself, you cannot fail to be deeply interested in and greatly instructed by the lectures of that profound thinker and scholar and that most able speaker, Moses Hull, at Turner hall at 10:30 tomorrow morning, and at the Odd Fellows hall at 7:30 in the evening. On both of these occasions Dr. Schlesinger, the noted test medium, will give some more tests similar to those which he has given during the past 10 days, and which have so astonished and interested a large number of the most intelligent ladies and gentlemen of this city.

THE NEW YORK CAMPAIGN.

Candidate Fassett of New York is a young man who is not afraid to speak in plain terms. His attacks on Tammany hall are about as savage and as clear cut as could be. He doesn't waste any words in describing the tiger. Governor Hill is thought to be a pretty shrewd politician and also a man who can talk as well as he can scheme, but he certainly miscalculated his man when he made charges against Fassett. The young man who parts his hair in the middle is giving David about the neatest and most effective roasts he has ever had. In answer to the governor's charges he simply says that Hill is an intentional liar, and a bold and unblushing one at that, and proves the truth of the assertion. Hill has been looked upon as a political giant, but Fassett has made him a common every-day political liar, who lies to injure his opponents, and who has not the tact to lie skillfully.

New York has seldom had such a campaign as is on this year, for there has seldom if ever been so good a fighter at the head of a ticket. In a way Fassett's campaign excels that of McKinley and surpasses any campaigning that Blaine ever did. He travels by lightning express and speaks as he travels. He doesn't grow weary, he doesn't waste a word or a breath in what he says, and he has the happy faculty of knowing the men he talks to, and he talks to those who are to be the most influential in getting him a big vote. Hill charged him with unfriendliness to the railroad workmen and he has won the support of all classes of railroad employes. The governor said he was the enemy of the farmer. but the farmers are rallying to his side. Everywhere he goes he seems to be fairly winning the state by storm.

On the part of the democrats there is no mistaking the fact that they made a mistake in the nomination of Flower and Sheehan, and that they find it hard work to make progress. Tammany is working hard and may pull Flower through, but it will only be by an immense majority in New York city. Mr. Flower himself is not a good campaigner. He cannot make a good stump speech and his work must be with money. There will be a big defection from the ticket among the county democracy adherents, who still number about 15,000 in Brooklyn and Buffalo, among the Germans and as against Sheehan among the catholics. Grover Cleveland, whose friends were slaughtered in the convention, has been pressed into the campaign and this fact alone shows that the party managers look upon the situation as grave.

Gen. Husted said Saturday that Fassett would have at least 25,000 majority. On the other hand it is said the pool rooms favor Flower, and that pools are selling even that his majority will be 30,000. The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Times, an independent democratic paper, wrote a few days ago: "Today the battle is theirs, and unless the democratic hosts awaken instantly and do yeomen service the combat is lost before it is begun." Congressman John R. Fellows, a leading democrat, said: "If the election were to take place next Tuesday, Fassett would be elected." Amos Cummings thinks they will pull Flower through, but by only 10,000 or 15,000 majority, while Sheehan will be defeated.

CHURCH AND STATE.

The Herald notices that the baptists of Minnesota, in convention at St. Cloud, make strong objection to the recent transfer of parochial schools to the domination of the school boards of the cities of Faribault and Stillwater. The Herald and the baptists agree in this much, but further they differ. While our immersion friends fear the catholics as one sect, and would be glad to have Bible reading and prayer in the schools—if only it might be the right kind—The Herald wants to see the schools utterly outside of all denominational influences of whatever kind, either baptist or catholic. The St. Cloud convention, too, views with alarm the fact that the census shows a catholic population in Minnesota of 270,000, while the methodists, presbyterians, congregationalists and episcopalians have only 100,000 communicants. We do not believe there is anything so terrible in that. The catholic or any other church is entitled to what it can get in the way of prosperity. It, or any other church, is entitled to fair consideration and help as long as it is administered on religious lines. But when any church assumes undue influence in secular affairs, then let notice be served on it that church and state are long, by God's help, to be separate in this republic of ours. It might be remarked that when the baptists and all the other innumerable protestant denominations get together as unitedly and hustle as earnestly as the catholics, under Archbishop Ireland, they will find less time for the study of pessimistic statistics.

TO RAISE THE LEVEL OF THE LAKE.

Capt. J. S. Dunham, the well-known tug man of Chicago, has a plan to secure deeper water for the great lakes by partially damming up the Niagara river just below the end of navigation. The scheme is said to meet with much favor among marine men and a movement will probably be inaugurated to have it thoroughly investigated by experts. If the idea is a good one it should by all means be adopted. The water of Lake Erie is said to have been reduced two feet within a comparatively few years, and the opinion is held by some that this is due to the constant increase in the channel at Niagara, which permitted a greater volume of water to roll over the falls. By raising the level of Niagara river or by a dam the great flow out of the lake might be regulated. This would not, of course, offset the higher lakes, but it furnishes an idea that might be worked out to advantage.

The water in Lake Superior is certainly at a lower level than a few years ago. For the past two years vessels have been much troubled by the low water at the Sault. If the damming of Niagara would be a good thing for Lake Erie and all the lakes, why would not the same plan work as regards the Sault river by a partial dam at the foot of that river and just beside and above the government lock? At any rate it isn't a bad thing to think over.

The American Library association is in annual session at San Francisco, and President Samuel S. Green, librarian of the public library at Worcester, delivered an address, one passage in which was as follows: "The chief purpose of a library is to stimulate and encourage persons of all ages, learned and unlearned, to make investigations and read good books and to help them cordially and persistently in finding answers to their inquiries and in getting at books of standard value adapted to supply their needs." Judged by this standard there are no libraries in the country that are doing their work better than is the Duluth public library, especially when its rather meager resources are taken into consideration.

The city council of Providence is arranging contracts with local corporations using the streets. The law allows the council to grant franchises for a period of not more than three per cent of the gross earnings. It is proposed to grant franchises for fifteen years and to require the corporations to pay the city two per cent of their gross earnings, or about $1000 a week, and to devote all earnings above eight per cent dividends and provision for a reasonable sinking fund to the reduction of rates, thereby making the public as well as the city a beneficiary. The companies will probably accept the terms in order to rid themselves of the fear of competition. The day of giving away valuable franchises has passed in progressive cities.

The Pullman company has just made its annual report. From it it appears that its 13,885 employes, of all classes, receive an average annual wage of $519, from the $50,000 of its manager to the $204 of its porters. Its net earnings for the year were $2,900,000, out of which a dividend of 8 per cent, or $1,600,000 was paid, leaving a surplus of $1,300.000. The public would believe the Pullman company more worthy of commendation if some of this surplus were devoted to equalizing wages, so that its porters might not be made beggars, dependent on their fees.

The arrival of an Illinois Central private car at Superior yesterday, bearing some members of the townsite company, gave rise to a rumor that the road was headed this way, that only the official denial of President Weeks, of the townsite company, was able to quell. How they do catch straws over there.

Another new paper "The Union Workman" has made its appearance. The time is auspicious for the birth of a clean and neat labor paper, and such the Workman appears to be. Its first issue is naturally largely devoted to the late trouble with the News.

IT doesn't take much of a lawyer to knock out County Attorney Tear. This is no disparagement, however, to the multitude of members of the local bar who have done so.

TWO new papers, if we are to believe The Herald and the Tribune, of that city, are now appearing in Chicago—the Daily Blainiac and the Daily Stuffed Prophet.

WHAT kind of a man is that Phillips Brooks, anyway? He got $10,000 per annum as rector of Trinity, and takes a bishopric at $4000 a year.

Advice From Over the Bay.

Superior Telegram: The brethren in Duluth have fallen into their old habit of quarreling among themselves. Alderman Long of that city in an interview roasts New Duluth boomers for insisting that the Wood committee was in town at their invitation, and telling the other fellows to keep their hands off. Alderman Long quotes one of the visitors as saying that the company would "as soon think of going to Kamschatka as New Duluth." This is not the spirit that builds up cities. If the Duluthians would but watch our gait and observe with what beautific unanimity the various companies get together when there is anything in sight for Superior, a valuable lesson may be learned.

SEEN AND HEARD.

One thing concert audiences should never do, take their seats while a number of the program is in progress. It is bad enough in a theatrical performance, but there it often cannot be avoided, and to wait for the falling of the curtain would be tedious, but in a concert interuption is unpardonable. One number does not take long, and while it is in progress late comers should remain in the foyer. Nothing is more annoying to a singer or player, nor to the rest of the audience, and it is a piece of selfishness on the part of late comers that men and women who pretend to culture should not be guilty of.

Why is it that listening to an elocutionist always gives one a sense of unreality, of shame, of outward polish. I never listen to one, even the very best, but it leaves me with a feeling that all of it is put on, unnatural, and a query arises in my mind whether that person can ever again do a genuinely natural thing; speech, gestures, facial expression, everything seems to go by rule. After listening to a song, even if poorly sung, it leaves you with some sense of rest and peace—after listening to an elocutionist I always have a presentiment that somewhere something dreadful is going to happen, either a note at bank is due and no funds, or the baby has the croup, or the world is going to the dogs generally. Probably it is nor the fault of the elocutionist, many are very closer and even perhaps artistic, but there it is, and I don't think I am the only one who is affected in like manner. Art should do good, and I don't believe that anything that makes me feel as if my supper disagreed with me is art. This may not be good art criticism but it is homely logic which the mass of people must apply, for everybody cannot be a connoisseur.

Every Dakota farmer who arrives in the city nowadays makes an occasional call on the weather bureau. The information that is to be found in the bulletins put out by the weather office is most interesting to them, for if it shows that there is much rain it means much damage to crops. The farmers who called on Observer Bronson this morning received very cold comfort, for he announced to them that the Northwest had been deluged with an inch of rain during the night.

"The Two Orphans."

Kate Claxton and her company appeared before a fair-sized gathering last night in that time-worn piece, "The Two Orphans." There was very little in the production to call forth special commendation, as there was nothing to deserve harsh criticism. Miss Claxton took the part of the blind orphan, and really made a poorer showing than her leading lady, Mrs. Chas. A. Stevenson. Although not down on the bills as such, Mr. John Flood as Chevalier De Vaudray was the best actor in the company. The play will be repeated tonight.

Bill Nye on Royce.

Bill Nye says of the Ray L. Royce performance: "Your music is simply charming and your fun would cause a graven image to laugh, but would not soil the most delicate fabric." The company is to appear at Temple Opera Tuesday and Wednesday next, Mr. Royce has never appeared in Duluth, but his name is as familiar as that of Sol Smith Russell, Nat Goodwin and other fine comedians. Many of our readers may wonder what "Tom's Vacation" is. It is a medley of comedy and music.

PHYSICIANS ORDER IT!

A Remarkable Compound That Really Cures

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Distressing Nervous Diseases.

Duluth Druggists Say That it Has a Steadily Increasing Sale.

Physicians prescribe it!

That is one of the several remarkable things about Paine's celery compound that distinguish it from other advertised remedies.

Another noteworthy point about this compound is that it was discovered by Professor Phelps, LL. D., of Dartmouth college, one of the ablest physicians and surgeons of the country.

Professor Phelps was aided in his work by Col. M. K. Paine, the well-known compounding chemist, and Paine's celery compound took its name from the latter.

The result of their labors was a scientific, common sense remedy for those diseases and troubles that result from weakened nerves and overstrained mind. It is not a sarsaparilla, bitters, or mere stimulant, but a true food for the nerves and brain, and is rightly regarded by both the medial profession and the public as an unequalled system regulator.

But perhaps the most remarkable feature in connection with this compound is that its formula is freely furnished to reputable physicians, and for that reason, perhaps, they have special confidence in prescribing it, knowing it to be harmless, as well as useful.

Such men as Dr. J. H. Hanaford, the well-known medical authority and investigator, Abm. Livezey, M. D., who is editor of several medical journals, and Dr. A. W. K. Newton, the skillful surgeon, endorse Paine's celery compound with words of most positive praise, and prescribe it for rheumatism, neuralgia, and all diseases that result from a weakened and impoverished condition of the nerves and blood.

Inquiries among the local drug trade elicit the information that this compound is meeting with an increasing sale and that those of their customers who have used it, are highly pleased with the results and invariably speak of it in the highest terms.

It is particularly pleasing at this time to know that there is a remedy that cures rheumatism, when the sufferer is within reach of human aid. In two or three instances, as The Herald man learned from those who had used the compound, the results were almost miraculous, restoring to health men and women who had been confined to the house for months and enabling them to walk without the aid of crutches.

In view of the high reputation which the Radiant Home Stoves have maintained for years past, it would seem hardly necessary that we should at this time say anything further in regard to the merits of these well-known goods. But we wish to say a word regarding the excellence of the Duplex Grates with which these Stoves are furnished; they take precedence over all others for the facility with which ashes and clinkers are removed. They are cleanly, there being no escape of dust or ashes while cleaning the grate.

WEST COAST CITIES.

How Washington Boom Cities Compare With Duluth and With Each Other; The Street Railway Systems There.

Alderman Long Talks Entertainingly of the Smaller Sound Cities and of Portland, the Best of All.

The Manager of the New Duluth Land Company Gets Back at the Alderman for Some Remarks.

"Since my return from the Pacific coast," said Alderman Long, "I have been more than ever impressed with the stability of Duluth as a commercial center. Spokane Falls, Seattle and Tacoma are all cities with more fine buildings than Duluth, and the first named of those three cities has one business street that beats anything I have ever seen in any city of its size; but in all those towns business is exceedingly dull, simply because their citizens have overreached in the matter of booming property. People out there feel cramped just now, but they are confident that in time financial matters will right themselves. Notwithstanding that each has more fine buildings than Duluth, the latter has a few buildings that are ahead of anything in Washington.

"To show you what condition they are in out there let me tell you that I saw a a building the first story of which would compare with that of the Lyceum. Just as that story was up the funds gave out. A roof was put on that first story and the building was let to concerns that in Duluth that could not afford to go anywhere except on a back street.

"The street car systems in all three towns extend in every direction, so that a line runs within two or three blocks of almost any given point. Our system, so far as it goes, is equal to anything I have ever seen, but there isn't enough of it. The lines in Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane Falls all seemed to be well patronized. In Tacoma they have an electric road on a 14 per cent grade, and there seemed no difficulty in running crowded cars. I believe that if the Duluth system gave proper facilities for getting up the hill, there would be good money in the business within two years. I found those towns owning their own water systems and paying less than half the Duluth rates.

"You can't compare the values of the business property of those towns with those of Duluth, for the reason that they each have many business streets, whereas Duluth practically has only one. If the best corner in Tacoma is put at $1500 a foot, the best in Duluth ought to bring $5000, for all the business of Duluth is concentrated around the best corners. But the best business property in those towns, as here, is not for sale. They are all going to make good cities, if for no other reason that they have a wonderful country around them. They can never be very large cities, because there are 100 sites on the sound any one of which is as good as another. If the sound extended east and west instead of north and south a large city would spring up at the extreme eastern end, for between it and Duluth would be the shortest rail haul across the continent. As conditions are, the business will be quite evenly distributed among a number of towns.

"There is one thing I admire about all those towns. They are pulling harmoniously for the common good. They believe in first making the hub, then the spokes, and last of all the tire. Here they seem to work from the tire in toward the hub, a very poor way.

"I was particularly reminded of the aptness of this figure in Portland, which has recently increased her suburbs so that now it has a population of 80,000. Portland I consider the town that will be the ultimate big city north of San Francisco, if it does not pass San Francisco. It has a great business, is not overboomed and is very conservative. It has not as fine business blocks as the three Washington cities or Duluth, but everything indicates prosperity. Portland is just beginning to have a big building movement, and the past year has done more in that respect than in a decade."

On his trip Mr. Long heard many good words for Duluth. While riding to San Francisco, he met one of the proprietors of a famous English stage company. "Have you arranged to show in Duluth?" asked Mr. Long, to which came the reply, "No; I tried to, but couldn't get a date. I am going to make another effort, however, for I consider Duluth as one of the marvels of the age, and I want to see her."

COMES BACK AT HIM.

Manager Norton Makes a Few Statements About the "Wood" People's Visit.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The Tribune of yesterday contained an interview with one Charles A. Long, alderman from the Second ward, candidate for mayor and an all-round politician of the regulation style and stamp. Mr. Long had just returned from the Pacific coast (Dwight), and was thoroughly indignant to learn that in his absence the New Duluth Land company had dared to bring the finance committee of the Walter A. Wood Reaper and Mower works to Duluth as its guests. Mr. Long has been tolerated to such an extent by the good-natured people of Duluth that he now amuses himself swaggering around full of wind and conceit, as though the future of Duluth depended entirely upon him. The truth is, people are getting just the least bit tired of his offensive arrogance.

I wish in this connection to state the facts concerning the Walter A. Wood people. I learned that they were going to locate branch works in some Western city, and that Milwaukee and Minneapolis were working hard to secure the prize. Without first asking Mr. Long's permission, or even waiting for his return from the Pacific coast, I, very rashly, perhaps, concluded to secure these great works for New Duluth, if possible. Col. Stowell and I met these gentlemen in Chicago, by appointment, on their way to Milwaukee, and induced them to come to Duluth. It is a rule observed by every land company on this side of the bay not to interfere with the negotiations of any other land company in trying to secure industries, as in nine cases out of ten such interference results in utter failure. Mr. Long's idea seems to be that the proper way is to go for such men like hack drivers clamoring for patronage. If Mr. Long had ever been connected with a land company, or ever helped in any way, however remote, in securing, or trying to secure, any industry for Duluth, or any of its suburbs, he would have known this.

We have seen articles in the papers several times regarding the land companies up the bay which indicate that some people are not broad enough between the eyes to see that all the factories that these companies can secure are clear gain for Duluth. There are now some 6000 people at West Duluth and at least 1000 at New Duluth who have been brought to these places by the efforts of the land companies. Not a single factory in either place would have come to the head of the lake had it not been for them. They have paid out hundreds of thousands of dollars and made it a business to look up good concerns and negotiate for them. These places are but suburbs to Duluth and will soon become parts of Duluth by annexation. There is no law to prevent such men as Mr. Long from working in the same line, but until he does something in that direction or some other for the good of Duluth it is hardly decent for him to denounce those who are spending time and money for the upbuilding of Duluth.

The New Duluth Land company has come to stay and is ready to negotiate with any good industry that can manufacture at a profit in this section. New Duluth is a favorable point for manufacturing and shipping. Every one of the eight factories already located there is backed by first-class men, who have made a success in life and understand their business.

JAMES W. NORTON.

THE PUBLIC BUILDING.

Much Delay Being Caused by the Kick About Stone.

The treasury department is still testing stone for Supervising Architect Edbrooke, to see if the building stone from the vicinity of Lake Superior will be good enough for the new government building here. He does not know when he will be able to make a report upon the case.

In the meantime work on the building is almost suspended. The excavation is about done, but no stone has been hauled for the foundation, and it is not likely that anything will be done further than the hole in the ground this year. This is unfortunate, as had the foundation been put in before cold weather it would have helped along matters in the spring very much. It is not now probable that the contract for the shell of the building will be completed in the 18 months limit made by the department, and the building will hardly be ready for use before the spring of 1893.

Isle Royale Copper Mining.

At the property of the Wendigo Copper company, at Isle Royale, two drills are in use and three holes, two 700 feet and the third 500 feet, have been bored. Indications of the rocks passed through point very strongly to copper. The work is merely exploratory and is carried on by the company in order to thoroughly acquaint itself with the nature of the rocks.

That Alleged Big Offer.

There are increasing indications that somebody worked the News very badly in regard to the $3,000,000 offer alleged to have been made by an English syndicate for the Iron Mountain and Biwabik mines. From one source it is learned that the Merritts made the proposition to sell out for $3,000,000, which is a horse of a different color. One owner in both properties said to a Herald man: "I have been on the range for some time and am not posted on what has been going on here lately, but I don't take any stock in the report that $3,000,000 was offered. If anybody would offer $1,000,000 for them I would be in favor of jumping at the proposition, for I think that would be a big price." The announcement in last night's Herald that Edgar Brown was the alleged negotiator of the deal caused considerable amusement.

Iron Notes.

"The outlook at the Anderson company's explorations, near Ely, is at present favorable. A drill which had put down a hole 300 feet has been removed and another and deeper hole will be sunk. The drill at "26" is working about 300 feet down, and the results seem to be satisfactory to the management. At the Union Iron company's explorations on 30, a new drill hole is to be sunk at an angle of about 45 degrees, northerly. Three holes have been sunk on this property in an area of about 900 feet; the last going 300 feet. The work is under the supervision of Capt. Murray. A good road has been built by the company, a distance of nearly half a mile to the workings, from the old Sellwood road.

Diamond drill work was started on this week upon the se¼ of sw¼ of 8-62-12. Peterson, Hall & Co., of Duluth will carry on the explorations. The property is known as the Peterson claim.

The Chandler has begun the work of building trestles to their stock pile grounds and otherwise getting in readiness for their winter's work.

At the Great Northern, on 25, the drift to the south of the shaft is being worked and has reached a distance of 125 feet. A drift has also been run to the north 90 feet.

Two pumps are at work on the drowned shaft at the Pioneer. The shaft is flooded to a depth of 45 feet and with the long drift at the bottom, which is also filled, there is considerable water. Capt. Gilbert is confident that with the two pumps he will be able to work the shaft in a reasonable time.

Looking Up a Site.

A well-known Eastern linen manufacturer is in Duluth today looking up a site and examining into other matters connected with the possibilities for the business here. He appears to be satisfied with Duluth and the West and it is quite probable we may hear more from him later.

Rice Lake's Original Settler Dies.

Frank Musolf, the first farmer that settled at Rice Lake, eleven miles from town, died on Thursday morning last at his home, of heart disease. He took his homestead in 1869 before there was any road to Rice Lake, and by hard work cleared about one-third of his 160-acre farm. His wife and three sons, Martin, Henry and John, survive him. The funeral will take place on Monday.

The Ontario Plan.

Mayor Davis says that many people are allowing their assessments to become delinquent through the mistaken notion that if they do not make appearance at the comptroller's office, the assessments will be divided under the new plan. Property owners should remember that they must make application in writing to the comptroller in order to secure the benefits of the new plan. If this is not done they must pay the assessment in full or allow it to go on the delinquent list.

The Longevity of the Jews.

"Mr. Hastings is a very superior lecturer, able, ready, sharp and humorous. The power of his voice is remarkable. In his finest passages his utterance was so powerful, vigorous and clear that the roof of Congress hall rung with the sound. In manner and in matter he is equally good. The mistakes of Moses was a splendid defense of the wise law giver and if Mr. Hastings' statistics about the longevity of the Jews are correct we have a very striking proof of the grand common sense which governed the Mosaic law."—Hastings and St. Leonards News. Do not miss hearing him on the "Mistakes of Moses and Where God's Thunderbolts Have Struck" Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Pilgrim congregational church. Tickets, 25 cents.

WORLD OF COMMERCE

Wheat Holds up Here While Demand is Filled. Then Drops to the Level of Other Markets.

A Good Deal of Money Made on the Straddle Between Duluth and Chicago December.

Local Receipts Pick up, But a Big Lot of Shipments Are Looked for Next Week.

Wheat was quiet and dull today, with prices steady. Sales of cash were below the average in amount while futures were traded in to a very small extent. Receipts here were 187 cars and at Minneapolis 553, a total of 1040 cars against 969 yesterday morning and 855 the day before. If, as is hoped, the weather in the West keeps so the grain can dry out our receipts will average much heavier for the coming few weeks. Chicago cars this morning were 415 or 176 more than the estimates.

Clearances from the Atlantic seaboard were very light for the day. For the week wheat and flour clearances from both coasts were 4,093,000 bu. For the past 16 weeks the exports have been 66,673,000 bu against 28,909,000 bu for the same time last year. Ocean freights are active and higher, which works against wheat shippers. Hennessey reports 392,000 bu wheat placed to arrive at New York, of which 332,000 bu, chiefly No. 1 hard and No. 1 northern, went to exporters and 56,000 bu No. 1 northern and No. 2 red to millers.

The rain, which fell freely here last evening and during the night, did not extend to Dakota to any great extent. The report from Fargo this morning said there was a very light fall of rain during the night, with the weather clear and cold this morning with a brisk northwest wind.

Cash wheat was only fairly active early, and after the first half hour or so became dull. No. 1 hard opened unchanged, while No. 1 northern was ½c lower, the ruling difference of the day being 1½c instead of 1c as of late. No. 1 hard opened at 97c and sold steadily at that for some time. It weakened later and closed at a decline of ½c, at 96½c bid. No. 1 northern opened at 95¾c, declined and closed at 95½c sellers. No. 2 northern closed at 90c. No. 3 closed at 85c. Rejected sold at 73½c and closed at 73c.

October No. 1 hard opened unchanged at 97c, declined and closed at 96½c. No. 1 northern opened at 95¾c, recovered to 96c, broke and closed at 95c bid.

December No. 1 hard closed 1c below yesterday at 93½c. No. 1 northern first sold at 95¼c and closed at 94½c sellers. May wheat was neglected. No. 1 hard closed at $1.01½ and No. 1 northern at $1.02½.

Receipts: Wheat, 109,117 bu; barley, 15,417 bu; flax, 1946 bu; flour, 18,241 bbls. Shipments: Wheat, 17,469 bu. Cars on track: Northern Pacific, 172; Great Northern, 250; Omaha, 12; St. Paul & Duluth, 53; total, 497.

TRADE SATISFACTORY.

Dun's Review Finds Money Easier and Trade Getting Better.

Dun & Co's. weekly review of trade says that business throughout the West and South is improving. At Eastern centers there is less satisfaction, and the expected results from the harvesting of large crops are more slowly realized. Yet the volume of trade is as large as it ever has been for October, and may even surpass the unprecedented record of last year.

The output of furnaces in blast October 1 was 181,615 tons weekly, against 170,846 September 1, and 179,263 a year ago. The highest output of iron ever reported was 183,846 on December 1, 1890. Yet this enormous production is absorbed. The wool manufacture is short of orders in the men's department. The demand for dress goods is strong, and many superior qualities are offered. White goods are dull as well as carpets. The cotton manufacture is active, without change in prices. The demand for copper is large. The market for anthracite coal is better. The reports from other cities are almost uniformly encouraging.

Speculation has not been very heavy, though corn and oats are sustained in the face of great crops, and wheat is a shade higher. Cotton is a quarter lower. Foreign trade, though smaller than a year ago, when the movement was extraordinary, is nevertheless larger than in previous years, and the heavy exports of breadstuffs promise further reinforcements of gold from Europe.

The business failures during the last seven days number, for the United States 227, and for Canada 32, or a total of 259, as compared with 270 for last week and 230 the week previous. For the week of last year the figures were 225, 186 failures in the United States and 29 in Canada.

DULUTH BUSINESS UNIVERSITY.

As Seen by Professor Bell, of Toronto, Ontario.

Professor Bell, one of the leading educators of the Dominion of Canada, and who for years has been engaged in business college work in the largest business college in Toronto, Ont., after visiting many of the leading business colleges in the United States, called at the university yesterday and spent a few hours inspecting the different departments and listening to the exercises in each. Today we received the following unsolicited communication:

18 East First street,
DULUTH, Oct. 16, 1891.

To all concerned:

This is to say, that I have visited the "Duluth Business University," and have examined the books and appliances of that institution. As I have had occasion to visit a number of similar institutions, both in United States and Canada, I have no hesitancy in pronouncing the "Duluth Business University" as being far in advance of any I have ever visited. Replete with all the modern appliances for the facilitation of the work of the office; whether bookkeeping, stenography and typewriting or telegraphy, and conducted by thorough gentlemen, I have no hesitation in recommending the halls or professors to anyone contemplating a business education. W. S. BELL,
Late Principal, British American Business College, Toronto.

Professor Bell further stated that experience had taught him that the first-class business college had many things to contend with in establishing its just reputation and overcoming the prejudices very often entertained in the minds of many regarding business colleges. He said that in nearly every city could be found the spurious or business college sham generally presided over by some old fogy who professed to teach all branches, but was unqualified to teach any, whose entire outfit of office, books etc. might be correctly valued at about $25, and who, by prefixing professor and affixing capital letters to his name and otherwise grossly misrepresenting his fraudulent institution, could thus in many instances deceive the unwary, obtain their money and give nothing in return. These are exactly our sentiments and we feel that such institutions should have the word "Fraud" instead of B. C. engraved in brazen letters on their fronts. Sixty-five students have been enrolled at the Business university during the past month. New ones are entering every day and our patrons, as well as others, are appreciating our efforts to establish a first-class business in this city.

Professor S. S. Myers and J. R. Gray have been doing a little farming on their own account, five or six blocks back of the top of the incline. They had half an acre in potatoes, not put in with care, and on poorly broken ground. When is considered the fact that cows ran over the piece of land, and that neighbors helped themselves all the fall, they think a yield of 82 bushels to the half acre is a vindication of the soil back of Duluth.

GOT SIX PIECES.

A Few Board of Trade Men in a Deal of Pork.

Posted on the board of trade this morning was the following telegram: "G. G. Barnum, Duluth: I am thinking of going to housekeeping. Can you send me a supply of bacon? A. G. Chambers." Another telegram read: "Ward Ames: I hear that McLeod is working the pork market and that Moore is buying liberally. Hooker."

And thereby hangs a tale. Mr. Barnum has been accustomed to send to Sioux City for his bacon, getting through a friend choice cuts that would be hard to get in the regular channels of trade. Last week a few friends, John McLeod, Watson Moore and others joined him in an order. Mr. Barnum ordered six pieces, Mr. McLeod two and Mr. Moore one. Heretofore the pieces have been about six pounds each.

The bacon was delivered yesterday and Mr. Barnum got six pieces of side pork, each of which was about the size of an ordinary pig and has enough to keep the wolf from the door. Mr. McLeod found himself with a big supply and small demand, while Moore's piece of bacon was so big that the expressman could hardly deliver ir.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Major-Gen. Miles, in his annual report, suggests that during the World's fair the National guard of 90,000 troops and 10,000 United States troops be mobilized at Chicago. He estimates that this would cost $850,000, and recommends that congress make the necessary appropriation.

LISTEN TO REASON AND MAKE MONEY.

Splendid Opportunities.

The Way to Get a Start in Life And an Easy Road to Travel.

It is a fact that many people of moderate means have bought and paid for lots in Crosley Park, in the last two years, and have made money.

Every person who bought a lot on the installment plan has made his payments without any special trouble or inconvenience to himself, and every such person is from $100 to $300 better off for doing so. Many people have got their start in life in this way, however small that start may be. The payments were light and easy, and were made with money that would have been frittered away had they not been put into this property. Then, what is still better, every lot has made from 25 to 100 per cent advance, and that is all clear gain, and is a saving of that amount of hard labor on the part of many of our patrons.

There is no better or cheaper property today at the Head of the Lake, and none that will make a better percentage of advance in the next two years than Crosley Park lots. Many who were skeptical two years ago are thoroughly convinced now. It is standard property, and will continue to advance in price for years to come.

Real Estate is the safest possible investment, as everyone knows, and when you can get a PERFECTLY safe investment that will make such large profits and can pay for them at your leisure, and in such small payments that you don't feel them, isn't it an opportunity? Of course it is, and you may not see such chances again to get a start in life if you were to live a hundred years. Splendid Duluth property like this will not always be cheap, and you will soon find that there is none within the reach of poor people or petsons of moderate means.

While you are in health, and can save money, why not put it into good property like this?

—AND—

Short-Hand Institute.

New Classes are Being Formed, and All Who Enter Before October 15, Will Receive a Reduction of $15 on Each Scholarship.

A SUCCESSFUL OPENING.

Numerous Applicants---Patronized by the Best Business Men.

A RELIABLE INSTITUTION.

This excellent institution of learning is receiving a good patronage and meeting a degree of success that its merits deserve.

It is no mushroom institution, painting the town with false prenses to delude the unthinking, but can point to results in the achievements of the foremost business, professional and political leaders of the Northwest. Among its graduates are learned judges, able lawyers, successful educators, the best business men, and the strong leaders in all the great reforms of the day.

Many students from the city and its suburbs, as well as from a distance, are already enrolled, and the outlook was never more hopeful than the present. Numerous other applications have been received from a distance, and from West Superior, West Duluth and Duluth.

Among the enrollments for the present term are: Miss Mary H. Esperset, of Esteyville, Iowa; L. B. Sage, New Duluth; Miss Josie Bier, Rush City, Minn.; Clare Feasel, Columbia, S. D.; Mrs. A. Dunton, Eagle Point, Wis.; Miss Bessie C. Backman, Athens, Minn.; F. O. Garrison, Hazlewood; Miss Myrtie Glover, West Duluth; Miss Jennie Patterson, West End; Misses Agnes Clarke, Jessie Holling, Hilda Carlson, Ann e Cook, Mrs. G. Swendson, John E. Roos, Thos. Clark, J. A. Blix, of Duluth, and Marcus and Davis Kemp, of Park Point; August Haberg, Hons Caspersen, Julius Mueller, Otto Rydell, Miss Hannah Olsen, Duluth; Gustaf Gulbronsen, Hazlewood; Jacob Rydell, Minneapolis.

The best business men of the city send their sons and daughters to Parsons Business College. Its graduates are the foremost reformers, the strong thinkers, and the most successful business men of the great West. It has taken a poor penniless, Catholic Irish boy and trained him to such habits of high intellectual effort, that today he stands the peer of great lawyers and learned judges.

It has taken the country school teacher and made him a bank president; the briefless barrister and made him an honored judge; the boy from the farm and made him a great financier; the common laborer from the mill and made him a wealthy lumberman; the workman from the shop and made him a great political leader. It has trained 10,000 men and women to think bravely conscientiously, well. It has thereby bettered their condition and that of all the communities in which they live.

A Good Education Means Success!

A False Education---Failure.

King Philip, of Macedon, sent his boy, Alexander, to the philosopher, Aristotle, to learn his letters. Others sent their sons to the sophists. Alexander conquered the world, and declared he owed more to his teacher than to his father. The pupils of the sophists never did anything worth remembering, and their teachers are the jeer and by-word of the ages.

Citizens of Duluth would you have your sons and daughters trained to habits of high thinking and manly, decisive action? Send them to a reliable institution of learning.

ALL FOR CHARITY

Bull Fights in Mexico Graced by the Highest Nobility of the State.

The Barbarous Custom Revived on Large Scale for Spanish Sufferers by Flood.

Nine Bulls are Slaughtered and $25,000 are Quickly Raised for "Charity."

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 19.—A revival of bull fighting in the City of Mexico yesterday was done in the name of charity. A committee of ladies with Mrs. Diaz, the wife of the president, at their head, organized the fight for the benefit of the sufferers from the floods in Spain.

It was one of the great spectacles of the sport ever witnessed on the North American continent. For an hour previous to the time set San Francisco street, the Avinida Juraz and the Paseo de la Froma presented a most animated scene. Carriages of every degree jostled together on their way to the bull fight. A stream of pedestrians bent on the same errand filled the sidewalks, while from balconies and house tops thousands watched the passing throng. At the Plaza de Torest the people came in from every direction, but so perfect was the police arrangement that no difficulty or disorder was encountered, and the human tide poured into the great amphitheater without delay or personal discomfort. It is estimated that 12,000 people were within the inclosures.

Two military bands were present and four companies of infantry served to insure good order. A long row of boxes intended for President Diaz and his party, the committee of ladies and their friends and the members of the Spanish casino were elaborately decorated with bunting, the Spanish arms and with palm branches. The president's appearance in his box was the signal for enthusiastic cheers from the spectators and salutes from the soldiers. The popular applause was genuine and universal. Hundreds of miniature Spanish and Mexican flags were waved by the people. The president was evidently in excellent health and spirits, and advancing to the front of the box, acknowledged the cordial popular reception. Accompanying the president were Mrs. Diaz, the committee of ladies and a brilliant company consisting of the cream of Mexican society.

Nine bulls were killed amid the bravos of the spectators. The animals had been trained for the occasion and many of the mattidors had narrow escapes. President Diaz and party left the ring during the killing of the eighth bull. This was one of the greatest fights that Mexico has seen, and the amount realized is supposed to reach $25,000.

WHITTIER VERY ILL.

The Aged Poet Suffers a Relapse and is Seriously Ill.

AMESBURY, Mass., Oct. 19.—John G. Whittier, the famous quaker poet, is again seriously ill, and even his close friends are debarred from seeing him by order of his physician.

Mr. Whittier had been ill for a long time, but was recovering. On Wednesday he walked out of doors for the first time in many weeks. He caught a severe cold, which has settled on his lungs, and he is again confined to his room. He is 82 years of age.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—John A. Cella, storekeeper of the Cook county asylum is arrested for malfeasance in office in making fraudulent entries in the official records of the county. He is said to be one of the thieves who have been systematically robbing Cook county of unknown sums. More arrests and many developments are looked for.

HILL FOR '92.

The Governor Says All Will Depend on Flower's Election.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Oct. 19.—At a banquet tendered Governor Hill here Sunday night Judge Downe, in a ringing speech, placed in nomination the name of David B. Hill as the democratic candidate for president in 1892. It was greeted with prolonged cheers and acknowledged by the governor, who said all would depend on the coming state election.

England and China Combine to Resist the Russian.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—It is stated on semi-official authority that important negotiations are in progress between England and China, relative to Russian aggression in Central Asia, and that an understanding is in course of discussion which will pledge England and China to mutual assistance against Russia.

The Miller Brewing Company.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Miller Brewing company is in financial difficulty, but the trouble was discovered soon enough to prevent serious results. Gen. Henry Brinker, who was elected president of the company in place of Frederick Miller, who suddenly resigned, says that the request of the company for an extension of time was made because things were getting into bad shape. He estimates the assets at nearly $400,000 and the liabilities at about $100,000. He said everything would be straightened out.

Its Editorials Were Too Fiery.

LEBANON, Tenn., Oct. 19.—The Lebanon Observer, whose fiery editorials on certain officials have for several days kept the town in a stir, was burned last night. It is said to be the work of an incendiary. More trouble is brewing.

BICYCLERS ALL.

A Great Race Taking Place in New York Today.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Madison Square garden was packed last night, 10,000 persons being present to witness the beginning of the great six days' international bicycle race. The start was not made until a few minutes past midnight. Promptly at midnight the 14 contestants were summoned. A flying start was decided upon. W. T. Hicks, of Cincinnati, held the pistol and E. P. Prial acted as referee.

The positions at the first hour, 1 o'clock, were as follows: First, J. S. Prince, of America; Wm. Wood, England; Alfred Robb, England; Geo. Eakin, England; W. J. O'Flanagan, Ireland; Wm. The score at 1:13 p. m. today was: Ashinger, 194 miles; Prince, 194; Robb, 193; Martin, 183; Ealen, 181; Lamb, 177; Schock, 174; Albert, 158; Stage, 156; Boyst, 151; Lumsden, 144; Wood, 130; O'Flanagan, 100; McDowell, retired.

HYDE FIGHTS ALONE.

The Original Settler in the Hyde-McDonald Surprises Secretary Noble.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—[Special to The Herald.]—The celebrated Duluth, Minn., land district iron land case of Hyde against Warren, Hartmann, Mallett and Chandler, was given a hearing by Secretary Noble, of the interior department, this morning. Hyde was present in person and the opposition was represented by three noted firms of Washington lawyers.

The odds were against Hyde, as six men, probably the most brilliant coterie of men practicing before the bar of Washington, noted for its great lawyers, were on one side, and a plain, quiet, unlettered woodsman, unversed in law or in the trick of oratory, stood alone on the other. Secretary Noble appeared surprised when honest appearing old Tom Hyde stated that he had no attorney, and must appear on his own behalf. He seemed to comprehend the severe odds under which Hyde was laboring.

Attorneys for the Hartman claim were given the first hearing. Col. Dyer reviewed the facts in the case as presented at previous hearings, and which are well known to the public. No new points were adduced. Warren's attorneys next addressed the secretary and reiterated Warren's claim heretofore presented. At 12 o'clock recess was taken until 2 o'clock.

The indications are that Hyde, who it is claimed, if allowed to testify, will present some very sensational evidence, may not be given the floor until very late in the afternoon or possibly until tomorrow.

STORMS IN IRELAND.

A Hurricane Prevails on the Atlantic Coast.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—A hurricane prevails in West Ireland. The Shannon has overflowed, submerging much land, destroying buildings and drowning cattle. The storm is the worst for 20 years. A gale also rages on the channel and the mail boats last night arrived at Kingstown badly damaged.

Thirty small boats have been wrecked and much property destroyed. Youghal is partly flooded. Much property has been destroyed by the overflowing of the Black Water river.

A French brig and a schooner have been wrecked off St. Catharines Point, Jersey. Five of the brig's crew were drowned.

Would Compel Marriage.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Eva G. White, a charming widow of this city, has sued A. E. Cramton, a wealthy bachelor of Vassar, for $50,000 damages for breach of promise. Cramton and Mrs. White met in 1889 and the widow claims that Cramton had known her but a short time when he proposed marriage. She accepted him, but Cramton postponed the ceremony by one excuse or another, and Mrs. White became impatient. Cramton says he will not compromise, and a hot legal battle is looked for.

Germany's Struggle With Socialism.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—The utterance of the socialist leader, Bebel—"yet another 20 years and we will be masters of Germany"—is severely commented on in official circles, and there is some prospect of Bebel's prosecution for treason. The extraordinary growth of the socialist vote from 101,927 in 1870, to 1,341,587 in 1890, is quoted as showing that there is something more than brag in Bebel's prophecy and that the time may not be distant when the state as now constituted may be engaged in a life struggle with socialism.

Tories Are Elated.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The tories are much elated over the news from Tipperary to the effect that the Ponsonby tenants are seeking to come to terms with their landlord, and that the Tipperary tenants have turned against Father Humphreys, who has been chief in the boycott movement, and called upon Archbishop Croke to remove him. The cause is undoubtedly the new Irish land law, which the tenants are anxious to take advantage of before any others can take their place.

The Omaha Lynchers Hung a Dead Man.

OMAHA, Oct. 19.—The examination of the lynchers of Smith has been postponed to allow new affidavits to be filed declaring that he was frightened to death. The post mortem, it is said, disclosed the fact that Smith had died of fright before he was hanged by the mob. This, it is believed, is a clever device to free the lynchers without punishment.

To Washington This Week.

BANGOR, Me., Oct. 19.—It is understood here that arrangements have been made for Blaine to leave Augusta Wednesday for Washington. He will probably arrive in New York Thursday morning. It is said that he refuses to make any stop in Boston to make a speech.

To Boost the Windy City.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Dr. Wm. B. Meany, for the past year a resident of London, is here to arrange for the opening of an Anglo-American bank with offices in London and Chicago. The capital stock will be $5,000,000. Erastus Wiman and Charles Hutchinson, a son of "Old Hutch," and president of the Corn Exchange bank, are said to be interested.

FUSS IN ARGENTINE

The Unstable Republic Feared to be on the Verge of Another Crisis.

This Time a Worse Than Financial Panic May be Expected, They Say.

Populace on the Verge of Riot and the Senate Meeting in Secret.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says the political situation is critical. It is caused principally by the withdrawal of Generals Mitre and Roca as candidates for the presidency of the republic. The general opinion seems to be that the effect of these withdrawals will be far-reaching and perhaps momentous in the history of the republic.

Following closely upon these retirements was the announcement that Mirs Costa and Carbillido had resigned from the cabinet. This action, it would seem, is to be followed by further withdrawals from the cabinet. Of course these desertions of the administration has added to the excitement.

There is so much public discontent that it has given rise to many ugly rumors. Some of these assert that the Argentine republic is already entering upon another period of rebellion. The temper of the populace is such that a riot may break forth at any moment. The government, however, is well aware of the danger and has taken precautions to stamp out revolution at the first sign it shows. The president has been in consultation with prominent politicians of both parties with a view of coming to some agreement for the sake of their common country.

The senate has increased the feeling of unrest by holding a secret session.

RUSK'S RAIN MAKER.

Rainmaking Successes Continue in the Lone Star State.

SAN DIEGO, Tex.,—Oct. 19.—The government rainmakers are the heroes of the hour here. The experiment which was begun yesterday afternoon and continued during the night was entirely successful. At 4 o'clock rain fell in torrents. Never before were the people so glad to get a wetting. The men in the camp yelled and hurrahed and danced fandangoes in the mud. The people of San Diego and the surrounding country are astonished at the result. When they went to bed at midnight the moon was shining on a cloudless sky. The rain continued for nearly an hour.

RUSSELL'S TOWNSITE.

The Aransas Pass People Meet; Russell May Well be Worried.

GREGORY, Tex., Oct. 19.—A meeting of stockholders of the Aransas Harbor City & Improvement company is in progress. Russell B. Harrison, president of the company, is not present. The object is to unravel the tangle in which Russell Harrison's company now finds itself, but what progress has been made, if any, cannot be ascertained.

All sorts of rumors are in the air. Some say the present management will be supplanted by new men, and others that Russell Harrison, much worried because of the notoriety he has acquired through his connection with the scheme to get deep water and bamboozle the people in this section, will immediately resign.

RAUM'S SUCCESSOR.

The Pension Commissioner Has Resigned, it is Again Said.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Governor Steele, of Oklahoma, is coming to Washington, and it is conjectured that he is coming to talk with the President about the pension office. It is believed he will be appointed to be commissioner in place of Gen. Raum.

Commissioner Raum, it is now asserted, has resigned, with the understanding that his resignation is not to be announced until after the election, and that it is to take effect Nov. 30.

TO ADVANCE BOYD.

He Thinks Governor Thayer Will Get in His Whole Term.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Ex-Attorney General Garland, for James E. Boyd, made a motion in the supreme court today to advance for argument the case of Boyd vs. Thayer, known as the Nebraska gubernatorial case. The court took the matter under advisement.

Boyd was elected governor of Nebraska on the democratic to succeed Thayer, republican, who did not run. Before Mr. Boyd could be inaugurated the case was brought into court on the contention that he was not a citizen. The state supreme court affirmed this and Thayer continued to act as governor. Boyd appealed to the federal supreme court. Mr. Garland contends that if the case is not advanced the term will expire before Boyd gets a chance.

Can't Get Their Cash.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—The great shipbuilding firm of Harrison, Loring & Co., proprietors of the City Point works, South Boston, has assigned, but will get an extension and come out all right. The liabilities are $375,000, while the assets are put at $580,000, which includes personal property owned by the individual members of the firm. The firm is building cruiser No. 11 for the government at a contract price of $674,000, with $100,000 added as speed premium, and is also constructing half a dozen steel tug boats, also for the government. The firm gives the cause of the failure as the delay of the government in making certain payments on contracts.

Burned Out Her Eyes.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Englewood was in state of excitement yesterday over a case of vitriol throwing. The victim of the deed is Mrs. F. A. Kunz, of 5548 Dearborn street, and the perpetrator was an unknown man. Mrs. Kunz's face is burned in a horrible manner and she may lose her eyesight. The cause of the assault is a mystery, but it is supposed to be a case of mistaken identity.

THINKS CHICAGO BETTER.

The English High Commissioner Remembers How he Was Treated.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Times today publishes an interview with Sir Henry Wood, the commissioner to the World's fair at Chicago, who has just returned home from that city.

Sir Henry admitted that he has quite changed his original opinion that New York is the best city for the proposed exposition. The citizens of Chicago, the commissioner said, were justly proud of their city, and he believed that their private munificence would supply any lack of necessary funds to make the exhibition a thorough success. He was certain that the English exhibitors will meet with every possible facility.

Sir Henry would advise exhibitors to send goods suited to South American consumption. For the North American trade Sir Henry would suggest a display of all articles of art and luxury, especially paintings, English art being less well known to Americans than it deserved to be. He had also been told that woolens, fine cloths and hardware would also find a ready sale.

ALL CONFUSION.

No Progress at All Being Made About the Sunken Peck Today.

SAULT STE MARIE, Oct. 19.—[Special to The Herald.]—Slow progress is being made today in passing around the wrecked steamer Peck. The C. B. Lockwood ran into the Athabasca in Lake George this morning, damaging her rail; the Northern Wave had her rail damaged; the whaleback A. D. Thomson had her nose damaged. Worst of all, the J. E. Owen and consorts are aground in the Neebish rapids. The tug Favorite is working at them, but cannot release them. This has stopped navigation since 9:20 o'clock this morning, and no craft can pass until they are released.

The trouble is that the channel is not long enough to allow the large loaded craft to make the turn around the bow of the Peck. The majority of craft that have passed up or down so far have grounded and caused one half or more hours' delay to the immense fleet anchored at each end of the wreck. As a consequence, the delay is growing worse instead of better.

Passages for the day are as follows: Up a. m.—Wm. F. Sauber, 6:40; S. R. Kirby, 7:30; C. B. Lockwood, 8; Athabasca, Northern Wave, 8:50; A. D. Thomson, barge 115, 9:45; J. W. Moore, City of Glasgow, 10:40; Nyack, Badger State, 11:25; p. m.—Osceola, Ida Corning, C. G. King and Montana. Down a. m.—Alberta, Livingstone, 12:12.

SMALL AS A REALTY MAN.

The Reverend Sam up to all the Tricks of the Trade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A special to the Sun from Boston says: Rev. Sam Small was arrested in that city on a charge of obtaining $1000 on false pretences, made by Rev. H. U. Monroe, a clergyman of Newton Lower Falls. It is said that the transaction was agreed upon in August, 1890, when Mr. Small was president of the Ogden university. It is alleged that Small induced Monro to pay $1000 for a lot of land, which he represented to be worth that sum. The land belonged to the university, and it is alleged that the university only demanded $500 for it and that Mr. Small made $500 by the transaction.

PIERCE THE ROCKIES.

A River to be Diverted to the Arid Colorado Plains.

FORT COLLINS, Col., Oct. 19.—The Water Storage and Supply company has undertaken the most gigantic irrigation scheme in the history of the West, which means the diversion of the waters of the Grand river to the eastern slope. A tunnel will be bored through the range to tap the stream and will be conveyed to the plains by small creeks and prehistoric streams to a natural reservoir which will hold millions of gallons of water.

The people of Western Colorado threaten a lawsuit if the scheme is carried out, as the Grand is the main source of their water supply.

IN A NUTSHELL.

Philadelphia—Mr. Wiley, 42 years old, was kicked to death by a party of men with whom he became involved in an altercation.

Clifton Forge, Va. — There has been no renewal today of the disturbances caused by the lynching of negro rioters. The Monticello guards are on hand to preserve order if needed, but no outbreak is expected.

Philadelphia—An epidemic of scarlet fever has raged for several weeks in Girard college, though without fatal results. Forty pupils have been attacked and the fever is as yet uncontrolled.

New York—Mrs. Joahanna Fussel was found murdered near White Plain yesterday. Two tramps have been arrested on suspicion. The police are at a loss to account for the crime. The Fussels were poor.

Berlin—Five persons were killed and many injured by a collision at Kohlfurt today.

Rome—The pope, in sending his blessing to the organizer of the recent French pilgrimage, bitterly complains of the attack upon the pilgrims by "an ungovernable populace."

Milwaukee—A 16-year-old boy, Albert Kohls, murders his employer's half-witted daughter, Annie Kodatz, after having tried to finish the family with Paris green. She was about to become a mother. Kohls has confessed.

Fernandina, Fla.—The German bark Soliedo Gloria, from Kingston, Jamaica, is ashore at the mouth of the Nassau river. Three of the crew died of yellow fever and two more are sick. The board of health will burn the vessel as a safeguard against infection.

After More Sealers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The Rush sailed for Alaska today at noun. She was ordered to the sealing grounds as it is reported that many sealers are waiting to make a descent on the rookeries when the warships have left.

Slight changes of temperature have taken place. It still continues cool west of the Mississippi, except in the extreme Northwest where it is warming up slightly.

LUMBERING AT DULUTH.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman lets its prejudices or its ignorance get the better of its judgment in an article on the lumber manufacture around the head of Lake Superior. It makes the statement that a Michigan firm has concluded to build at Cloquet rather than Duluth, the text on which its remarks are based. The truth of the matter is that the Wentworths, the firm referred to, have not decided to go to Cloquet or anywhere else. After speaking of the steep and tortuous St. Louis river, it says:

It is difficult to drive at best, and unless logs can be hauled to Duluth by rail from the districts tributary to the St. Louis river (and this territory comprises the greater part of the timbered district around Duluth), there need be very little expectation of Duluth ever cutting a large figure in the lumber trade. The timber on the Nemadji river will naturally be made into lumber at Superior. The timber along the north as well as the south shore of Lake Superior may still become available for supply of the mills at Duluth, but in the very nature of things the principal point for the manufacture of lumber in the Duluth district is likely to be at Cloquet. And why should it not be? The coarse lumber made at the head of Lake Superior—or in that vicinity—is sure to find a better market West than East. The better grades are beginning to be called for by the Eastern trade, but it will be quite as economical to ship the Cloquet manufactured product to Duluth by rail as to ship the logs by that point to Duluth there to be manufactured. Duluth and Superior may be greater in other things than in lumber.

The Lumberman does not understand the situation up here so thoroughly as it ought. It may be difficult to drive logs down the St. Louis to Duluth, but it was done in the old days and the custom would not have been given up but for the tactics of the Knife Falls Boom company; but the Duluth & Winnipeg can bring logs here and will. The road is practically completed to a connection with the St. Paul & Duluth terminals here and can begin hauling logs at any time when mill men may look to the upper country for their logs.

"There need be very little expectation of Duluth ever cutting a large figure in the lumber trade." Well, she is cutting such a figure now. No place in the United States has added so much mill capacity as Duluth in the past 12 or 18 months. No other city has grown so fast as a lumber point. In the past eight months there have been completed or begun here six mills, with an aggregate capacity of 140,000,000 feet and one long abandoned mill has been rebuilt, and adding 12,000,000 feet more to the capacity. What is more, a Duluth factory is making more sawmills than any other two factories in America.

"The timber on the Nemadji will naturally be made into timber at Superior? Will it? Superior has added one new sawmill while Duluth has been adding six, and half Duluth's mills bring timber from the Nemadji. There is not a sawmill anywhere near the mouth of the Nemadji and never was. All the south shore for sixty miles sends logs to Duluth for sawing, and so does the north shore. As to the statement that the country around Duluth is too uneven for logging roads it is only necessary to say that there are several logging roads here now.

Duluth, so long as she has sites for mills and the logs are to be had in the country for 100 miles around, will continue to be a lumber center. Next year Duluth city mills will saw 160,000,000 feet, Superior will add 50,000,000 feet, probably, and the output for the whole Duluth district will probably be 350,000,000 feet.

Query: If it is profitable for Minneapolis mills to bring their logs from the headwaters of the Mississippi, will it not be possible for Duluth mills to get at profitable rates all the logs they need?

THE SALE OF BONDS.

Lately the Duluth school board made a sale of $200,000 of its 5 per cent bonds at par and accrued interest, paying therefor a premium of 4 per cent. While this is by no means a sale at 1½ per cent par, as has been realized in Duluth bonds, it is far better than most cities are able to do at present. One of the notable features of the money market of late has been the slackness of the demand for all classes of bonds, and few, if any, bond sales have been made in the last twelve months at as good figures as before. It is a congratulatory fact for Duluth, therefore, that the school board hrs sold its bonds so well as it has, and indicates a firmness and confidence in this city, that others, many times larger, would be glad to share.

A Chicago bond broker, who was at Duluth a short time ago, stated that this was the worst time he ever knew for placing bonds. Chicago is glad to dispose of street improvement bonds drawing 6 per cent interest at a discount of 5 per cent, while cities that have not first-class credit are not able to place their bonds at all. He believed the demand will improve soon, as the monetary situation becomes less strained, but the fact remains that there is a limit to the money seeking investment in these securities while there has been a very great and rapid increase in the quantity of them placed on the market of late years, owing not only to the great municipal developements, but to the multitude of incorporations formed. The town is, therefore to be envied that holds good its credit, and Duluth should see to it that nothing impairs her present excellent reputation.

THE ARMORY MATTER.

The Volksfreund in its issue of Saturday criticises the council for its action in buying a site and providing for the erection of an armory for Company K. The Volksfreund says the city has no right to spend $75,000 for an armory and that the next thing the baseball boys will be asking for a ball park at the city's expense. The obections of the Volksfreund show the character of the criticism and how flimsy it is. There is no question that Company K is valuable to the city. It has done good service here and will do more, even if there are, as we hope, no riots to call them out.

The maintenance of the militia forces of the country is a most wise thing. Men trained tor military service are needed in every state and it is no right that they should be to all the expense of keeping up their organizations, save what little aid the state gives. The city should provide a home for the local organization, and the amount expended is not an exorbitant one, especially as it will provide also a market house that will be of direct value to every citizen. The amount to be spent is not $75,000 as the Volksfruend says, but $49,500. Rentals will pay the interest on this amount.

The last legislature provided an armory board, to which power was given to levy a tax of half a mill to buy the lot and put up the building. The council thought it wise to postpone the levying of this tax for a time and raise the money by issuing bonds. Had it thought otherwise the board could have gone ahead and levied the tax and when the money was secured built the armory. Issuing the bonds only hastens the completion of the structure.

People who believe that a panacea for municipal misrule is to be found in charters which give absolute and untrammeled responsibility to the mayor, must be somewhat shaken by the history of the ten years' experiment in Brooklyn. Under Seth Low the experiment worked well, and it would have continued to work well if men of his type had followed, but they usually don't, and Brooklyn is not unusual. There the strength of the democratic machine has increased steadily, and the administration of Mayor Chapin, now drawing to a close, has been marked by scandals equal to Tweed's. Such a theory of municipal government presupposes the right type of man in the mayoralty, but when the politicians cease to recognize any necessity of "pandering to the better sentiment of the community," and that sentiment is nerveless and unorganized and unable to help itself, the greater the responsibility and power of the mayor, the greater his capacity for mischief.

It seems that there was error on both sides in the recent tax stipulation of the county and the St. Paul & Duluth road. When County Attorney Tear discovered the error he made arrangements for putting the omitted block 33 on the tax rolls, and this was, a day or two ago, agreed to by the attorney of the St. Paul & Duluth road. The legal business of the county is so great, and the criminal code of Minnesota so complex, that it is almost impossible to prevent occasional errors, and it is only a wonder that they have not been more frequent. It is to be regretted that reflections have been made upon the county attorney's official work.

Governor Hill says he will be a candidate for presidential nomination in 1892 if the Flower election goes right. Another reason why good hard work should be done for Fassett. If his election will behead Hill it would be worth all it can cost.

LITTLE Aitkin county is the first to report the collection of its apportionment of the World's fair assessment. The amount is $100, which the county treasurer wires the governor has been collected, and is ready to be paid over at any time. Aitken is aching for celebrity.

KATE FIELD has an ally in Ella Wheeler Wilcox in her single tax theory—the taxation of bachelors of over 40 years—for the benefit of maiden ladies of uncertain age. If Ella Wheeler will write a short poem on the subject, she will help kill off the bachelors.

GEOVER CLEVELAND thinks the republican party ought to be defeated, because when it is intrusted by the people with the control of the nation, it won't let the democratic party rule. There is logic, such as even that body could grasp.

THE CHICAGO TOWER.

What the New World's Fair Will Have in Way of a Sky Scraper.

George S. Morison, a distinguished Chicago engineer, who planned the tower to be built in Chicago, furnishes this description of the new wonder of the world.

Height from the ground to the top of the flagstaff, 1120 ft; height to the focal plane of the lighthouse which surmounts the structure, 1070 ft; width over all at foundation, 440 ft square. The first landing will be a circular platform 250 ft in diameter and 200 ft from the ground. The second, 400 ft from the ground. The upper landing 1000 ft high.

At the first landing there will be a grand colonnade around the outside, 15 feet wide and 738 feet mean circumference. On this 5000 people can be accommodated. Inside will be space to build four hotels or restaurants, each 45 by 90 feet area and many stories high. These buildings will be of an appropriate style of architecture to accommodate, for instance, an English, French, German and Spanish restaurant, all fitted up with all first-class hotel requirements. In addition to these there will be provided numerous booths, constructed in accordance with the architecture, styles and customs of various countries, which will be used for the sale of articles of all lands.

The second landing, 150 feet in diameter, may be used as a promenade and picnic quarters, dancing hall or buildings can be built if desired. It will accommodate at one time 5000 to 6000.

The upper landing is 60 feet in diameter, it will be finished as the grand lookout, will be two or three stories high and accommodate at one time 1200 or 1500. Above this will be offices for signal service or scientific investigation. Above this will be the circular electric railway, carrying powerful lights and above this the lighthouse to be provided with the most powerful lights ever constructed. Over 25,000 people can be accommodated in the tower at one time if necessary. Each elevator will have capacity to carry 50 people at high speed. Two will run straight to the top, charging $1.50 for the round trip, two to the second landing charging 75 cents and four to lower charging 50 cents. It is estimated that the elevators may make $51,000 a day, or $7,500,000 for 150 days. On the strength of these Col. Sellers figures all but $200.000 of the $1,500,000 needed is pledged.

New York Police Matrons.

There are in New York city already four police matrons and eight more soon to be appointed. Each woman is on duty at the station house to which she is assigned twelve hours. Each is to receive $720 per year. The matron will search each prisoner—a delicate task, heretofore accomplished by the officer making the arrest—and she will watch over the prisoner until relieved or the prisoner is released.

The season's through;
The dude upon whose empty head

You chance to meet,
Who still wears summer shoes and summer hat
Upon the street;

What Kate Field Thinks.

In Kate Field's Washington this week there is a "grape vine telephone" interview between the breezy woman who runs Washington, and Tom, excuse us, Mr. Thomas Lowry, on union between St. Paul and Minneapolis. In this Miss Field asks, and makes Mr. Lowry answer, as follows:

"Will such a conjunction affect Duluth?"

"Commanding the head of Lake Superior, Duluth has a manifest destiny of its own. In the natural course of events, West Superior and West Duluth must merge themselves in the older town and form a great city which will in no way interfere with us."

"Now I think of it, Philadelphia is less than 100 miles from New York, while Duluth is 156 miles from your twin cities. Philadelphia grows steadily despite the great metropolis near by."

"That's right. The fact that two such cities as Duluth and our own can be maintained within so small a radius, will give the world the best possible evidence of the great resources of this section. Don't start, but I can prove with the aid of a map that there is more fertility of soil, more good country tributary to these cities than to Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City combined."

Kate Field has lately been visiting the home of Lowry, so she probably speaks by the wire.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your editorial on the above caption, suggested by the action of the Minnesota baptists in convention at St. Cloud, you need to know more about the whole action referred to, and also you should be informed as to the history of the body to whose published action you take exception.

In the first place, the convention did just what you think should be done by all religious bodies, namely: They not only protested against the use of state moneys for the advancement of Roman catholicism, but also against the use of public money in the interests of "any denomination whatsoever." Second. We would have it understood that this is distinctly a baptist principle; and therefore true to this, you will search in vain for a line of history to show that they have ever received a cent from the state for their schools, though in repeated instances it has been offered. We are opposed to any alliance whatsoever between the church and state. We believe in taxation of all church property by the state. The First baptist church of Toronto has but recently appealed to the state authorities to take their property from the exemption list. We do not fear catholicism alone on this line. Again: The baptists make no demand for the Bible reading and prayer in the schools. The denomination at large repudiate such a charge. Anything you can do Mr. Editor to keep church and state apart, in all lines, will be appreciated by your "immersion friends" to the number of 3,000,000 in the United States.

If you will allow the mild but earnest suggestion, we do deprecate the course pursued by the secular papers, namely, when there is a lull in everthing else, then they enter the domain of theology and take a swing in the doctrines of the church. The church needs to be criticized often. Do it from a knowledge of all the facts.

But it may be we have misrepresented you. We do not charge that you have intetionally misrepresented us. It occurs to us that you have taken your cue from a too partial report by St. Paul papers. We were only anxious to set ourselves right on the all-important question. No alliance between church and state in any way. G. H. MACCLELLAND.

PROFITS OF LAKE CRAFT

The New York Times has Another of Its Interesting Letters on the Lakes and Their Trade.

A Correspondent who Figures the Richest Profits for Vesselmen of the Inland Marine

And Shows the Tremendous Business that is Done by Duluth and the Iron Ore Ports.

The New York Times of Sunday contained a letter from its Washington correspondent, E. G. Dunnell, a continuation of the series he is writing on the great lakes. It will be rembered that The Herald quoted his views of Duluth at length a week ago. It is in part as follows:

It is 60 miles or more by rail from Ashland to Duluth, and the railroad—the Soo and Northern Pacific connection—runs through a country as new almost as any on the continent that is being settled up. The view is limited the entire distance to two walls of pine trees, with occasionally a clearing and a few cabins. For people who like to grow up with a region this stretch will afford a superb opportunity. There is plenty of room to grow in, and the growth is pretty nearly all to come.

On the north shore of Lake Superior, 25 miles east from Duluth, is Two Harbors, another iron ore port. Why it is called Two Harbors, or why it should be called One Harbor, or even a port, is not apparent, for being devoid of any proper harbor, and so lacking the essential qualfications of one port, its name is a paradox of an unusually humorous sort. But it is a great place for ore shipments. It is young yet in the business, but it promises to make a famous record when the iron-mining properties in the Vermilion and Mesabi ranges are more extensively developed. Most of the ships that come to it for cargoes have either come up light or have brought freight to some othe port and then sought a return cargo of ore from Two Harbors.

The figures about the Minnesota mining region are fascinating. It covers about 1,700,000 acres, and all the development is in St. Louis county. It is, apparently, inexhaustible, and the quality of the ore is high. Such are the facilities for handling ore, and so moderate are the regular rates for lake shipment that it is estimated by those who handle it that the ore can be mined at a profit of $1, $1.75 to $2 a ton. Steamers are seldom at the dock longer than three hours. They make an average record of 25 trips the season, while the average of other steamers is 15 trips the season. The ore rate is about $1.20 the ton. That means $3600 gross earnings for each trip and probably not less than $2500 net earnings.

One ceases to wonder that the lake fleet is increasing in size when he comes to hear something about the earnings of lake vessels. Just take these two ports of Ashland and Two Harbors as indications in part of what has been earned. Vessels earned for the cargoes out of Ashland $1,995,626, and those out of Two Harbors $1,123,849. According to representations made at Duluth, it is apparent that package freight ships like the Northern liners are coining money. Their up cargoes average gross earnings of $2700, and the down cargoes bring in about $4500 each. At $7250 for the round trip the earnings in a season would be about $108,000 for each steamer. Assuming that it costs $1500 a trip for running the steamers, the vessels would still be earning each more than $80,000 a year. That is a very good income upon steamers that cost not more than $200,000 each. The Minnesota line is one of the most business like on the lakes. Its owners have calculated carefully what it can do, and it does just what experience has proved to be best, for profit, of course. They should show gross earnings of abnut $95,000 each, or net earnings of perhaps $60,000 each in a season. They cost $200,000 each and ought to pay for themselves in four years.

Just now the demand for ships for grain is active. The grain cargoes are secured at Duluth and West Superior, and they are put aboard very quickly. If a ship has come with coal, and is to load with grain, nothing is necessary in the way of preparation except a sweeping. If the last load was ore, the ship must be scrubbed with lye, and then permitted to dry thoroughly. Once alongside an elevator, and the spouts in place, the hold is speedily filled. It is an unwritten law that a vessel shall not be longer than two hours in the harbor after she has gone alongside an elevator and has begun to receive her cargo. That time is considered sufficient in which to fill the hold with 40,000 to 100,000 bushels. The figures of Duluth's grain business are interesting as indicating the opportunity to the freight vessels for earning something. To ship the receipts of September would give nearly $340,000 to the ship owners for freights one way. The E. C. Pope, the longest steam vessel on the lakes, recently carried 103,000 bushels of wheat as a cargo. She had carried on another trip 107,000 bushels. Her owners would get $3,500 for this service, and probably would realize $3000 net for the trip.

The vessel owners have been protesting that the present season was a poor one. There is a statistician at the Sault Ste. Marie lock who makes figures from the returns he is furnished with by the steamship captains. He estimated that in 1890 the average earnings for each vessel passing the lock was $1000. The number was 10,108; the earnings were $10,108,000 for the season. He also estimated 14 trips or 28 passages in the season. While he puts the average earnings at $1000 the passage the probability is that the average would exceed $1500. Taking the average number of trips as 14 and the passages at 28, the business seems to have been done by about 300 vessels, which earned an average of $33,000 the season. The average valuation of the lake freight vessel is $28,000. The income would appear to be large enough to satisfy anybody except the men who expect to become rich beyond the dreams of avarice in four or five years.

MORE ORE DOCKS.

The Duluth & Iron Range Decides to Finally Build This Winter.

The Two Harbors Iron News announces authoritatively what The Herald has before stated as probable—the building of a third ore dock for the Duluth & Iron Range this winter.

Plans and specifications will be prepared by the 1st of November. The dock will be some distance east of and parallel to the present two ore docks, and there will be space between it and them for a large single dock. It will be 1000 feet long and five feet higher than 1 and 2. A double track will lead from it, and connecting with the present track, be extended 1200 feet into the woods. A yard for storing cars will be built on each side of the double tracks near the land end of the dock. Because of its exposed position the cribs forming the foundation will require an exceptionally large amount of stone. The foundation will be completed and 500 feet of the dock fully constructed this winter, leaving the balance to be finished next summer or the following winter. Work preparatory to building the approach has already commenced.

It is planned to follow this dock, which is numbered 4, by two others to be built as occasion requires, one on either side of it, making a row of five great docks, with slips 200 feet wide between each. The arrangement of tracks, etc. for the new No. 4 is planned with this idea for future increase.

SUPPLYING ISLE ROYALE.

The Big Operators There Get Their Supplies From Duluth.

The Isle Royale Land corporation, of which Maj. W. F. Richie is manager, and the Wendigo Copper company, operating lands turned over to it by the land corporation, have heretofore purchased all their supplies at Houghton and Chicago. The land corporation's steamer, A. B. Taylor, is here today for a full cargo of supplies for the winter, and will continue her visits until the island is victualed for the winter. This is quite a card for Duluth jobbers and shows how the whole Lake Superior country is getting more and more closely connected with Duluth in a business way.

Maj. Richie, who was here last week on business connected with the purchase of supplies here in future, was while here made the subject of a statement that he was offering $3,000,000 for the Mountain Iron and Biwabic properties, as agent for an English syndicate.

A NEW MILL.

E. H. Pearson, of Saginaw, to Move His Machinery and Erect a Mill.

E. H. Pearson, of Saginaw, has invested heavily in pine timher in Wisconsin and Minnesota. A year ago he visited Duluth and neighboring localities looking up a site for a saw mill. Now that he has sold the West Side lumber property at Saginaw, he is considering the project of removing the machinery, which was not included in the sale, to Duluth or its immediate vicinity and erect a mill.

Lumber Notes.

Ring & Merrill, of Saginaw, the parent firm to Merrill & Ring, of Duluth, have sold to William Peter, of Columbiaville, the millionaire lumberman, nearly 300,000,000 feet of pine timber situated on Seguin river, which flows into Perry sound, Ont. Ring & Merrill purchased the timber last spring. The consideration is about $350,000.

The reduction of the cut of logs at Cloquet on account of mills being shut down will not be great. One mill out of four has been shut down for about a month. The amount manufactured will be about the same as last year. Stocks, however, are broken, as the fall trade has been good.

The Duluth stock of lumber is not large, nor is it increasing. Trade is excellent, and but for the continued rains in the wheat belt would be exceedingly rosy both for the fall and next spring.

What Good Management Does.

A final dividend has been declared in Bliss & Elliott estate. Bliss & Elliott operated a saw mill at Barnum, on the St. Paul & Duluth road, and made a bad failure seven years ago. Assets showed that on the unsecured claims about 2½ per cent could be paid, but an examination showed that the firm had a contract in the purchase of stumpage of the St. Paul & Duluth. The largest creditor was the Security bank of Minneapolis, which had a claim of about $42,000. A trust was therefore organized, and a creditors' committee selected Paul Blackmar as trustee, and he has since operated the mill with great skill. He has now been able to pay dollar for dollar all the claims against the estate, and has on hand about $25,000. This result has been achieved in the face of thef act that a judgment of $52,000 was secured against the trustee by the St. Paul & Duluth. The final settlement shows that in the course of seven years Mr. Blackmar has made a profit of about $225,000,

To Open a Quarry.

Capt. Joseph Lloyd, Dr. McFadden and C. T. LeTourneau, all of this city, have made arrangements to open a redstone quarry on Keewenaw Point, near the well-known Portage quarries. It is to be located about three miles below the east entry of the Portage passage through the point. A dock about 500 feet long will be built this winter on which to handle stone, and the quarry will be opened before spring. The stone is in all respects similar to that of the present Portage red sandstone quarries, and will, like the others, be handled in Duluth.

The Discovery of America.

Three hundred and ninety-nine years ago this week, Christopher Columbus came in sight of the Western Hemisphere. To be exact, it was three hundred and ninety-nine years the 14th day of the present month. Familiar as it is to every child at school, and commonplace the mention of it seems now to be, it is really one of those wonderful events in the history of our world which seem like romance when we come to learn the particulars of the story. Dying in poverty and neglect, the Genoese stepped from a troubled life to a place among immortal names. If his spirit is cognizant of what takes place on earth, it must be proud to know that all the great nations will soon send their representatives to the land he discovered, to do honor to his achievements. To that celebration, the World's fair at Chicago, the whole Northwest desires to go, and when choosing a railroad route, they will make no mistake if they take the "The Burlington." It reaches many prominent cities besides Chicago, and to ascertain rates of fare, connections, etc., call on any ticket agent of this or connecting lines, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. RECEIPTS VERY LARGE

Wheat Receipts at Duluth This Morning Break the World's Record; They are Big Elsewhere, Also.

Large Quantities of Wheat are Worked Here for Direct Export and November Shipment to Europe.

Markets Fall off Somewhat on the Big Receipts and Other Bearish News From Outside.

The receipts of wheat at all markets were surprisingly large. Here 1169 cars were on track, the greatest number ever reported at Duluth one day, if not at any market. At Minneapolis there were 871 cars, and for the two places 2040 cars, against about 1700 last Monday. Chicago reported 499 cars, while Kansas Cito had 342. Everywhere there was the same tale of big receipts, Duluth, of course, leading them all. In addition to the big receipts, the weather in the Northwest was fine for drying out the grain, and the prospect was excellent for the resumption of threshing this week and a continued heavy movement of wheat to market for some time to come. Shipments were small. From all Western points they were only 577,314. New York and Philadelphia cleared 312,117.

In addition to these big receipts and the fine weather in the Northwest to put wheat down there was a steady selling at Chicago and other markets. The feeling was generally bearish and the crowd began slugging the market at the opening. This market opened ¾c lower for cash and October and dropped ¾c more in the first half hour. For the rest of the day prices remained comparatively steady, with a tendency to recover. Cables which opened steady to ¼c off for futures came in stronger later in the day and some of the shippers reported a good demand and a good deal was sold to New York for early shipment. The visible showed a smaller increase than was expected, being 1,611,000 bu, when it was generally believed it would go considerably above 2,000,000. This with the very large short interest that now exists helped make the firmer feeling late.

Sawyer bought a good deal of the cash sold and Thomson and Moore were also taking wheat for shipment. Quite a good amount was worked for export, while sales to New York for shipment this month and the first half of November were very heavy.

Cash wheat was in demand. No. 1 hard opened at a decline of 1c at 95½c, was dull and closed at 95¼c. No. 1 northern opened ¾c lower at 94¼c and closed at 94c. No. 2 northern opened at 89¼c, sold up ¼c, then back and closed at 89c. No. 3 opened at 84¼c and closed at 84c. Rejected closed at 70c.

October hard opened at 95½c and closed at 95¼c. No. 1 northern opened at 94¼c, dropped to 93⅞c, recovered to 94⅛c, declined ⅛c and closed dull and easy at 94c.

May No. 1 hard closed at $1.03 and No. 1 northern at $1.02½.

BEAT THE RECORD.

Duluth's Receipts of Wheat Today Ahead of All Records Again.

A howl may be expected from Minneapolis tomorrow morning, and a very loud one at that There are two reasons for it—one, because Duluth beat her own record and that of the world in wheat receipts by 64 cars, showing a total of 1169 cars; another, because Duluth today received nearly 150 cars from the Milwaukee & St. Paul road on the rate that caused snch a commotion in Minneapolis one month ago.

"That wheat which came from the Milwaukee road over the St. Paul & Duluth," said F. S. Daggett, of the Van Dusen-Harrington company, "was consigned to us. It all comes from the southwest, some of it from as far as New Ulm, and grades No. 1 northern. Our change of the speculative grade from No. 1 hard to No. 1 northern is to a great extent responsible for the receipt of that wheat here, for the big handlers in that part of the country will not send their wheat to a market where it is not taken off their hands. We expect to receive quite a large amount from that section."

C. A. Eddy, of Eddy Bros., Bay City, the firm which recently purchased the steamer E. C. Pope, was in town Saturday on his way home. He had been on the Mississippi to enjoy a few days of hunting and at the same time look up pine lands with a view to purchasing. Listen to His Tale of Woe.

"Here is a pair of glasses which I have had less than three months. When I first got them they were as clear as a crystal, but now I can scarcely see through them." This was the complaint of an old gentleman who called to see J. H. Ostrander, the expert optician. Mr. Ostrander took his glasses that he might neutralize them, but found that on account of a three months' accumulat on of grease it was impossible to do so until he had first given them a bath in ammonia. After they had been cleaned up he took them back and asked how those would suit. "Aha," he said, "them's the stuff. I could see through the side of a barn with them glasses. How much?" "That is an odd pair, sir, and if you like them you may keep them on one condition, and that is that you will agree to clean them with soap and water or ammonia at least once a week," to which he readily agreed and went away happy, remarking to Mr. Day that "these glasses looked mighty like his old ones, but hoped they would last longer."

WANT DULUTH TO COME

Grand Forks has its Latch String Out for Duluth Visitors but Wants Them to Come on Time.

The Street Railway Contempt of Court Case is Argued This Afternoon Before Commissioner Ayer.

His Decision is not Yet Known, and Probably May be Reserved for a Time.

The following letter, dated Duluth, Oct. 13, was received by Mayor Richardson of Grand Forks, Saturday.

It refers to a project already spoken of in The Herald and is signed by C. E. Lovett, Emil Schmeid and S. T. Johnson, committee of the Duluth chamber of commerce:

An excursion of members of the Duluth chamber of commerce, board of trade, city council and jobbers union is contemplated in the near future to your place and to other leading cities of Minnesota and North Dakota, provided your people would be pleased to meet our representative business men. Inasmuch as Duluth is becoming the leading wheat market for your section of the country, and as our jobbers are already supplying your merchants with goods, the business men of Duluth desire to cultivate friendly relations with business people throughout the cities in Minnesota and the Dakotas. Will you please ascertain the sentiment and the feeling of your board of trade or chamber of commerce and representative business men and let us know at your earliest convenience whether a visit from our people would be agreeable to you.

Mayor Richardson turned the matter over to W. H. Brown, president of the Grand Forks chamber of commerce, who at once proceeded to get an expression of business men upon the subject. He found them heartily in favor of the proposed visit and the Duluthians are assured that they will receive a hearty welcome. Grand Forks says its latch string has never yet been pulled through to the inside of the door, and it was not necessary to ask whether or no it would be pleased to meet visitors from here. All they want to know is the date of the visit. "Although," says the Grand Forks Herald, "it is to be hoped that the reception committee will not be disappointed three or four mornings in succession, as was the case when a certain other delegation from the head of Lake Superior, notified us of its coming not long ago."

THE FIGHT IS WARM.

Richardson, Day & Co. Are Once More After Their Friends, the Enemy.

It will be remembered by Herald readers that early last week Judge Mills, of Moorhead, rendered a decision adverse to the plaintiffs' in the interlocutary mandamus hearing to repair the Duluth Street Railway company from running their tracks across the property owned by Richardson, Day & Co.; also that the plaintiffs appealed the case and that the defendant company paid no heed to the appeal, but proceeded with the work of track laying. On Saturday Richardson, Day & Co. applied to Judge Phineas Ayer, court commisioner, for an order compelling the defendant and the Motor Line company and Messrs. Morrow and Humphrey to show cause why they should not be held for contempt of court. The hearing is on today before Judge Ayer as The Herald goes to press.

HAVE MADE IT ALL.

Duluth Owners of the New York Keeley Right in Clover.

The fame of the Keeley cure for drunkenness has spread so far and wide that the institution in New York state, as well as that at Dwight, is having all the patients it can attend to. The New York institution was started a year or so ago by Duluth boys, and a few days ago a dividend was declared which left a profit to the stockholders after paying them back what they had put in. From now on every dollar of dividends will practically be a gift to them, not to speak of the value of the property which they own.

There are now over 50 patients at the institution paying $30 a week each. It is understood that a company has recently bought the right for Minnesota and will establish a sanitarium at Merriam Park.

Emil Hartmann has returned from Dwight and his appearance is a great surprise to even the most sanguine of the friends of the cure. "I have just spent the pleasantest month of my life," said he, and he seemed to mean every word of it. He claims to be entirely cured of the drink habit and recommends the Keeley treatment to all afflicted with it.

In United States District Court.

The attention of Judge Thomas is being taken up today by the suit of Joseph Smoke, administrator of John Plut, deceased, vs. the Chandler Iron company. This is a personal damage suit in which it is alleged that Plut was killed by the caving in of timbers in a mine, which timbers were not properly put in.

Late Saturday afternoon the jury in the suit of Victor Laury, administrator, vs. the Northern Pacific gave a verdict for the defendant.

Professor Swing to Lecture Here.

It now looks as if arrangements would be made to get Professor David Swing, of Chicago, to come here and lecture. If he should come, this will be his first visit to this city, and the people of Duluth will surely give him a warm reception and a full house.

Fine residence lot almost at your own price; east end. Need money and will give a bargain. Address, A. B. M., care of Herald.

DROWNED WHILE HUNTING.

A Treacherous Canoe Tips and a Duck Hunter Goes Down.

TOWER, Oct. 19.—[Special to The Herald.]—William Kelly, unmarried, age 22 years, was drowned at Trout lake yesterday while duck hunting. A party consisting of John D. Kelly, a brother of the drowned man, Zeb Eaton, Thos. Grierson and William Kelly, went hunting; John D. Kelly and his brother William in one canoe and Eaton and Grierson in another. The waves were very high making it dangerous for the frail craft to venture out in an exposed place.

While the Kelly brothers were risking a point in the lake to get to another bay they came upon a flock of ducks, and one of the boys reached for the gun while the other stopped paddling. The canoe capsized quicker than a flash. John D. Kelly clung to the canee and was saved while his brother was drowned. The body has not yet been recovered. Kelly's family lives at Jackson, Mich.

WORST IN HISTORY

The Awful Famine Now in Russia Has no Precedent in all History.

Thirty-two Million People Starving and Culmination Far From Reached.

Millions Glad to Eat Bark of Trees and Sweepings From the Ground.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A cable letter to The Tribune from a Russian correspondent gives the following terrible details of the famine there:

The great famine in Ireland was a scourge upon part of a people of five or six millions. The present famine in Russia is starvation for five or six times five or six millions. These figures give some faint idea of the magnitude of the calamity. Government officials report, not on rough estimate, but after careful investigation, that more than 32,000,000 people in European Russia are at this moment in danger of actual starvation; a danger that can be averted only by extraneous aid. It is as though half the people of the United States were absolutely destitute, having not a week's food in hand, and not a dollar to procure it with. Such a situation is without comparable precedent in modern history.

The valley of the Volga, where the bulk of the peasant population lives, is as fertile and as thickly settled as the valley of the Mississippi. The great farming regions of Southern Russia are comparable only with those of the Western United States in extent and fertility. In the Don Cossack country one may ride for miles across a single farm. Wheat fields of 20,000 acres in one unbroken expanse are not uncommon. And the live stock is correspondingly numerous. The blight of all this splendid region may be described in two words: ignorance and fatalism. It is the policy of the czar's government to keep the people ignorant. Never since teaching slaves to read was a penal offense in the Southern United States has there been such a systematic and relentless suppression of popular intelligence as in Russia today. The principle on which the government acts is to make education proportionate to wealth. The people are fatalists like the Turks.

The only available food of millions is now "hunger bread." The only ingredient of this that bears any relation to proper food consists of mill sweepings and millyard scrapings. The latter is simply the upper layer of the ground surrounding the mill. It contains a certain percentage of flour and grain which has become almost entirely rotten. The remainder is made up of bark, moss, and leaves and roots. Even for this the starving people have to pay more than the usual price of wholesome bread. In many places this "hunger-food" is made entirely without a trace of grain, its component parts being bark, chopped straw, big weed, and the powdered excrement of cattle. This is the only food of millions.

Government is giving millions of roubles to relieve the distress. But while government gives with one hand it smites with the other. The tax gatherers are uncommonly busy in the famine-stricken provinces. They demand from people who are actually dying of hunger the full payment of all taxes. If the demand is not immediately complied with, the knout is brought into requisition.

In a month or six weeks at most, it is calculated, the wretched resources of "hunger-food" even will be exhausted, and the famine will reach its culmination. The case is unspeakably terrible now. What it will be then defies imagination.

TO FORTIFY HARBORS.

General Howard on the Coast Defenses of the East.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Maj. Gen. O. O. Howard, commanding the military department of the East, devotes much space in his annual report to the discussion of coast defenses. He says that at New York, San Francisco and Boston new guns and mortars are needed. Many fixed torpedoes or submarine mines have, however, been already constructed for use at these points.

Gen. Howard calls special attention to the necessity of having fortified points as a basis of a proper defense of our national interests and recommends that a complete defense of the combined harbors of Savannah and Port Royal be established. Increased pay for non-commissioned officers is also recommended.

Gen. Howard gives but a half-hearted endorsement of the canteen system, and says that no soldier should be permitted to act as a barkeeper in a canteen.

How'll They Get it to Sea?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The contract for building torpedo boat No. 2 was today awarded by the navy department to the Iowa Iron works of Dubuque, Iowa, at their bid of $113,500. The boat is to be of 120 tons displacement and is to be finished within one year.

Crystallizing on Dillon.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—John Dillon's speech euologizing Parnell has considerably softened the feeling of the Parnellites toward him. There is now believed to be a possibility of reconciliation under Dillon. No one doubts the truth of Dillon's statement that he loved Parnell, and there is only one speech of Dillon's on record which antagonized Parnell strongly, and that was on the subject of the Paris fund and delivered a few days before Parnell's death. Dillon is undoubtedly regarded by the tories the strongest man of the two factions, and the most positive and commanding character.

Goheen Will Hang.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—It is given out at the capitol that no formal attempt is being made to secure a commutation of the sentence of Murderer Goheen, and the execution will undoubtedly take place Friday.

THEIR LAST DAY.

The Methodists Discuss the Outlook on Their Closing Day.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The ecumenical methodist conference, after two weeks spent in discussing many questions, entered upon its last day's session this morning. It was called to order by Rev. Thomas Allen, of Sheffield, England, of the Wesleyan church. The topic for the day was "The Outlook." A delegation will go to the pan-presbyterian council at Toronto next fall. Rev. J. F. Simon, of Kent, England, read an essay on the "Christian Resources of the Old World."

A second essay on "Christian Resources of the New World" was read by Chancellor Mayes, of Oxford, Miss. He said that south of the United States, all of the new world was roman catholic, excepting the English possessions, but in several countries the methodists had a slight foothold. In the United States and British possessions the principal religion was protestantism with about one-seventh of the whole population Roman.

Equal to Two Days' Receipts at Duluth

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The Herald says: It was learned positively yesterday that Gill and Fisher, the Baltimore grain men, had already contracted for 750,000 bushels of grain at Kansas City alone. This total of 1500 cars is to be delivered in Baltimore before Jan. 1. Nothing more sensational in railroad circles could happen than that the old deal of Gill and Fisher with the Baltimore & Ohio should be resurrected. It is taken that such is the case and that a 20 cent rate is sure by Eastern railroad men from the fact that the firm is apparently in the market for unlimited quantities of corn. The effect of a 20 cent rate is appalling to Eastern railroad men.

Hanlan Racing at Victoria.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 20.—Edward Hanlan and the Australian oarsman, Stephenson, have been matched for a race on Shawnigan lake next Saturday for a purse of $600. Hanlan defeated Alexander McLean, of Victoria, in a three-mile scull race in outrigged skiffs here yesterday by 200 yards. Hanlan gave McLean a start of 30 feet, but caught and passed his opponent before 100 yards had been rowed. Time, 21 minutes 31½ seconds.

Burial of Mrs. Allen G. Thurman.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 20.—The body of Mrs. Allen G. Thurman was buried this afternoon in Greenlawn cemetery. The funeral services were held at Judge Thurman's home at 2 p. m. Both the ceremony and the burial were private. Governor Campbell and ex-Governor Hoadley called upon Judge Thurman yesterday. The judge bears his grief calmly. He has received many telegrams of condolence.

Sam Small's Rejoinder.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—The Herald prints the following, signed by Sam Small: "The long and labored misstatements in the article entitled "Sam Small Out on Bail" is a specimen of brilliant republican campaigning. The transaction involved is one with plain business features which I am perfectly willing shall be passed upon by the courts."

A Capitalist Suicides.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Geo. W. Wicks, lumber dealer and capitalist, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the head in his room at the Pacific Union club. He had been in ill health for some time.

The Day's Fires.

Passaic, N, J.—The warehouse of the Speer New Jersey Wine company caught fire this morning, and in less than two hours was a mass of ruins. The loss will reach $100,000; partly insured. The office and plant of the Passaic Item, which was located in the building, was also destroyed.

Lost His Fortune Centennial Year.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—John C. Hurst traveling agent for Dougherty & Couch Drug company, of this city, was killed by a train yesterday. Hurst was formerly a wealthy merchant in Philadelphia, but lost $250,000 in business in 1876. His widow resides in Philadelphia.

Further Disasters Feared.

HALIFAX, Oct. 20.—A heavy easterly gall accompanied by heavy rain raged in this region last night and early this morning. Further disasters to shipping are feared.

John James in Bosn.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Ex-Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, addressed a large audience in Tremont temple last evening. Gen. B. F. Butler introduced the lecturer.

No Settlement for Timothy.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—The Searles will case will begin again at Salem tomorrow and continue the whole week. This indicates that the case will not be settled out of court.

IN A NUTSHELL

Pottsville, Pa.—Last evening a Philadelphia & Reading engine exploded, killing Charles Warnicker and Charles Bauer, brakemen, of St. Clair; Harry Wagner, engineer, of Port Carbon; Mahlon Keepe, fireman.

Wichita, Kan.—A wreck on the Santa Fe resulted in the death of three men. Frank Mulvey, yardmaster; Thos. Wade, fireman, and Phil Reimer, engineer, were killed. Frank Young and Jim Martin were badly hurt. All were from Wichita.

Paris, Tex.—A receiver for the International railroad was appointed in the federal court here yesterday on application of a bondholder.

Boston—The body of an unknown man with bruises on the head was found on the sand at Crescent beach. A watchman says he saw two men and a woman quarreling near the spot.

Hackensack, N. J.—William Huyler and his wife were killed at the West Shore crossing, near Bergenfields this morning. They did not hear the train.

Butte—The Davis will case will be compromised and the property divided between the claimants without further litigation. The estate is worth $10,000,000.

Chicago—One hundred and twenty men, employed on the electricity building at the World's fair grounds struck and were bounced.

Managua, Nicaragua.—Don Fernando Guzman, ex-president of the republic, died yesterday. His death is universally regretted.

Kansas City.—The Allcut Packing company, of Armour, made an assignment last night. The liabilities are $100,000. The assets are larger. The company does a general meat packing business.

A LONG BREATH.

That Now do the Boodling High Officials of the Canadian Dominion.

Criminal Prosecution is Begun by the Government Against a Little Robber,

But Big Robbers Are Affected by the Action for They Will Follow.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 20.—Considerable excitement was caused last night among members of the civil service when it was learned that the minister of justice had started his criminal prosecution of those whose boodling propensities were disclosed before the parliamentary committee last session by the arrest at Montreal yesterday of Senecal, the late superintendent of printing. The arrest of Senecal is a direct blow at the Hon. J. A. Chapleau, secretary of state, whose influence has been used throughout to save his friend.

It is understood that the prosecution of many of the boodlers higher in office than Seneshal will quickly follow his case into court.

IN A VITRIOL VAT.

An Engineer Dips a Lad Into Vats of the Fluid.

TERRYVILLE, Conn., Oct. 20.—A brutal crime was perpetrated by Engineer James A. Bradshaw, of the Eagle Lock company, late yesterday afternoon. As he was going through the shop he approached W. A. Hough, aged 17 years, who was at work cleaning locks at his bench, and ordered him to go to another part of the shop on an errand. Bradshaw has no authority over the men in the factory, and the boy, acting on the advice of the men in the room, refused to obey. Bradshaw repeated the command, and on a second refusal, picked the boy up in his arms, and carrying him to a vat of vitriol in the room, dipped him in, head downward, several times before the other employes of the room, too horrified to stir at first, could interfere.

The boy's screams were agonizing. His hair was all burned off, his scalp was raw, his face and neck were horribly burned, and both eyes were burned out. His recovery is doubtful.

Bradshaw returned to the engineroom and was at once discharged. He walked out of the shop unmolested and disappeared. He has not yet been arrested. The employes of the shop, among whom Hough was a general favorite, threaten to lynch the brute if they find him. Bradshaw is married and is 35 years old.

OPEN MANY ACRES.

Five Million Probably to be Opened by the Indian Commission.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 20.—Messrs. Jerome, Sayre and Wilson, composing the Cherokee commission, began negotiations with the Ponca tribe of Indians for the surrender of many thousand acres of land for white settlement. As soon as they have finished treating with the Poncas they will visit the Otoes, Pawness, Kaws and Osages in succession and will complete their labors within a month. After that they will visit the Kiowas, Comanches and Apaches in the extreme Southern part of the territory and endeavor to treat with them. The lands of all these tribes aggregate over 5,000,000 acres, all of which, it is expected, will be open for settlement within a year.

OPPOSE THE OCTOPUS.

The Standard Oil Company to Have Solid Opposition.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—It is announced here that the Standard Oil company is to have opposition. A route has been surveyed for a pipe line from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia, and men are now going over this route securing the right-of-way. The cost of the line, which will have a carrying capacity of 40,000 barrels a day, is estimated at $1,000,000, and is to be finished by March 1. Branch lines will also be laid into the West Virginia fields.

Andrew Carnegie and Mellon Bros. are said to be the backers of W. L. Mellon in building this new line. In a magazine article some time ago Mr. Carnegie stated that all great monopolies would fail, and said that the entering wedge for the dismemberment of the Standard Oil company was in Pittsburgh in the person of a young man.

TO FURNISH RAIN.

A Company Formed With Melbourne as Pluvius in Chief.

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 20.—The Interstate Artificial Rain company, of Goodland, has filed its charter. Its objects, as stated in the charter, are to promote agriculture and to supply water to the public by producing and increasing the rain fall by artificial means. It is understood that this company has a contract with Frank Melbourne to furnish the rain. Capital stock $100,000.

London Will Keep Gold.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Money here is abundant. The drain of gold has lessened and promises to continue moderate. If money remains cheap in New York it is evident that heavy withdrawals of gold from Europe will not be made, however enormous may be American shipments of cereals. Fear of dear money and a sharp rise in the Bank of England rate are, therefore, for a time averted.

Markets are stagnant, notwithstanding easy money and shipments of Brazilian gold to Europe. Argentine securities are still the key to the financial situation here. Dispatches received here suggest trouble and perhaps civil war there, but the commercial situation is mending. Produce is coming forward and American stocks show a good tone and are quiet. A rise, as usual, is anticipated in November.

More Gold Coming.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Bullion to the amount of £150,000 was today withdrawn from the Bank of England for shipment to New York.

Too Much For the Minister of Finance.

BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 20.—Dr. Vincente F. Lopez, minister of finance of the Argentine Republic, has resigned. Gold closed at 344 per cent premium.

WOULD REORGANIZE.

The Only Hope of the Catholic Knights Lies in This.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—A meeting of representatives of the Catholic knights of the state was held last night for the purpose of ascertaining the views of the members regarding the best course to pursue in respect to the present state of unrest in the order consequent upon the extensive defalcation of Supreme Treasurer O'Brien. The meeting was one of the stormiest in the history of the local organization. Many heated speeches were made, and in the excitement of the occasion some delegates left the hall vowing that they would leave the order.

A declaration was adopted stating that the delegates, realizing that confidence in supreme officers is totally lost, and that this will occasion a great loss of present membership and a failure of new recruits to come in, demand that our supreme officers call a special session of the supreme council in order that a reorganization may be effected.

SMASHING THE A. P.

Big New York Papers Form a New Press Association.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Great excitement has been caused in newspaper circles by the announcement that the New York Sun and Tribune have left the Associated Press and formed the National Associated Press. A committee of the old New York Associated Press including the Times, World and Mail and Express, are now in session with Western Union officers endeavoring to have their wires, which were cut out last night, restored.

These wires were cut out because the Associated Press owed the Western Union $25,000, which it would not pay. There was lively scratching about in all big paper offices when the wires were cut, for it knocked out the telegraph service of the big dailies and was without warning. The wires cut are one from New York to Chicago, two to Washington, one to Richmond and Norfolk and one to New Orleans.

THE F. M. B. A. SOCIETY.

The Relicts of the Famous Three Meet in Annual Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 20.—The annual meeting of the state assembly of the Farmers Mutual Benefit association will begin here this afternoon. New officers, with the possible exception of secretary, will be chosen. Streeter, Taubeneck, Steele and their followers are working for an indorsement of the third party organized at Cincinnati, but it is not believed the convention will agree to it. Lindley declares that he will not accept the presidency of the state alliance for another year.

The association held a brief session this morning with perhaps 150 delegates in attendance. The business transacted was purely of a routine character. Taubeneck, of the legislative "Big Three," is here. He is at the head of the people's party in Illinois and has been actively engaged in organizing the party. He declares that politics will not play any part in the deliberations of the assembly. The proceedings of the association will be of little interest.

Inhumanity Dodge a Chestnut.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 20.—In the court of appeals today the appeal of the New York murderer Trezza from a refusal of the lower court to stay his execution by electricity on the ground of inhumanity was dismissed; also his appeal from the action of the lower court in dismissing a writ of habeas corpus asked for on the ground that the sentence had already been carried out in part by confining the prisoner in the solitary cell. These two dismissals, however, do not hasten Trezza's execution as his case is before the United States supreme court to be argued in December on similar appeals.

High-Priced Corn Too Rich.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 20.—Hog cholera is again doing much damage at a number of points in Central Illinois, and nearly all the animals killed by the disease are large and valuable, fattened for the market on high-priced corn. Within a fortnight 300 or more hogs have died from cholera at Minolk, Woodford county. Around Tazewell county whole droves of swine are dying. At Wapella, Dewitt county, large numbers have already been taken ill.

A Fire from Gas.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—An explosion of natural gas occurred in Snamen's large carpet store, Allegheny City, this morning, setting fire to the building and seriously injuring three persons. The building was entirely destroyed. The injured are F. G. Hilliard, an employe of the Allegheny Heating company; Wm. A. Snamen and an unknown woman Loss, $75,000. Latimer's dry goods store was damaged by water.

The Bell Folks Sue.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The American Telephone company brought suit against the Metropolitan Telephone and Telegraph company yesterday to prevent the use or sale of telephones embodying the Bell patents. The Bell company also asks that the latter company be compelled to pay over all profits made from selling telephones containing other patents.

An Insurance Society Breaks.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—In order to avoid certain local complications that have recently arisen, the supreme officers of the Beneficial Loan Fraternity yesterday made a voluntary assignment for the benefit of the certificate holders. The Fraternity is the first long term order to go under. It was a six-year order chartered in Pennsylvania.

Florida Farmers Meet.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 20.—Nearly 300 delegates to the Florida farmers alliance convention, which meets today, arrived in the city. The sub-treasury scheme and a resolution committing the alliance men to the support of only alliance candidates at the next state election will be the principal topics before the convention.

Raum Again.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The Post declares positively that the resignation of Commissioner Raum is in the hands of Secretary Noble, to take effect Nov. 30.

And His Successor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—A special to the Times from Washington says the report that Governor Steele, of Oklahoma, is to be made commissioner of pensions, is confirmed, although it is understood that the official announcement of the appointment will be deferred for several days.

Launching Warships.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 10.—Three Russian warships, the Navarino, Gremyastchy and Otvazhny were launched today, the fiftyfourth anniversary of the great battle of Navarino, with much pomp and ceremony.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Oct. 20.—With the exception of a few stations along the lower lakes the weather is everywhere clear this morning. Light rains have fallen along the lower lakes, elsewhere the fair pleasant weather of the past two days has prevailed.

The temperature has fallen slightly in the extreme Northwest but is not much lower than usual, and the temperature over the entire country is nearly normal. The warmest places are Port Huron, Mich., and Buffalo, N. Y., 50 degrees, the coldest 26 at Prince Albert and Minnedosa.

DULUTH, Oct. 20.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., Oct. 21: Continued fair; slight change in temperature.

B. H. BRONSON,
Observer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—For Wisconsin: Generally fair; continued low temperature, except slightly warmer in southern portions; variable winds.

For Minnesota and Dakota: Generally fair; cooler; northwest winds.

DONNELLY'S MANY PREDICTIONS.

Ignatius Donnelly is beautifully picturesque in all his speeches and writings, and not the less so in his ideas. His imagination is a wild flower that grows without cultivation and is incapable of restraint. We admire its rich colors and its, at times, seeming freshness, but it does not impress us as of great practical utility. Mr. Donnelly evidently delights in letting it run unrestrained by reason and unfettered by facts. He has lately promulgated the wonderful idea that the great inventions growing out of electricity are tending to lessen the value of water transportation, and that the difference in cost of rail and water traffic will be wiped out. He makes the marvelous prediction that when the problem of aerial navigation is solved, water will no longer be of any consequence except to drink. When that day comes he thinks that the city at the head of navigation on the Mississippi, Minneapolis, will become the crowning glory of the American Union and the greatest of all cities.

Mr. Donnelly is as liberal in his predictions of the future greatness of cities as he is unfettered in his opinions by the logic of cold facts. About two years ago he tickled the fancies of West Superiorites by telling them that some day a great city, perhaps the greatest yet known, would be called Superior—or words to that effect. Last spring he stood on the foundation of Duluth's unequalled High school building, and as he looked out over the waters of Lake Superior dilated in his own matchless way upon the unrivalled advantages of water transportation, and told of a future for our fair city that would eclipse the proudest dreams of a Chicago boomer. Now he tells Minneapolis that she will be the greatest of the greatest. As yet, however, there is no news of the advance of real estate down there. It can be said, however, of Mr. Donnelly, that he is perfectly impartial in his predictions, and is always possessed by a desire to flatter his auditors into good nature.

MINNEAPOLIS AND SEABOARD ROUTES.

Minneapolis announces in ecstatic tones the opening of a new route to the sea from that city, via the Kewaunee, Green Bay & Wisconsin and Lake Michigan, Ludington and the Pere Marquette. The roads interested are said to be ready to give Minneapolis through traffic arrangements. The Journal says of the route that it will be "independent of Chicago, Duluth, Gladstone or Sault Ste. Marie." Why does Minneapolis want to be independent of the Duluth route? Is it because she fears this city and knows that she cannot compete with it if commerce is allowed to take the natural route? It is 155 miles by rail from Minneapolis to Duluth, where Minneapolis flour finds its quickest and most available port. By any other route it is 300 miles to deep water navigation. Yet Minneapolis is constantly trying to find a route to enable her to do business via some other port than Duluth.

Duluth is a sister Minnesota city and by all the laws of st pride, interest friendship, her people should wish to favor the Duluth route as much as common sense should teach them that it is best. So far from doing this they would not make use of this route at all if they could help it. This is why there has not been a more harmonious feeling between this city and Minneapolis. There can be no reason for the latter city's course save those of fear and jealousy, and these only go to bring attention to the superior position of this city as compared with all the interior cities of the Northwest. Duluth doesn't mind Minneapolis's course. It will not hurt her, for she is in a position to simply laugh at all the vain tactics of the Flour city—the present flour city.

THE LION AND THE BEAR.

The Lion of Britain and the Bear of Russia are sitting on the roof of the world, sometimes called the plateau of Pamir, looking at each other stolidly. The lion is uttering a growl while the bear is a lashing of his tail, a change from the order of things in all well regulated circuses or zoo gardens. There'll be a case soon of Leo in Ursus or Ursus in Leo, it's pretty hard to tell which as far off as this. The struggle long ago passed the preliminary stage, and both are looking about for a battle field, and this and the question of who shall be blamed for the first whack are about the only things that stand between their coming together.

The long stretches of the Arabian sea, the spices of the Indian ocean, the comfortable caverns to the southward, please the ideas of the bear, and he longs for India. Once there and the British domain in India is in peril, in fact it is already in peril, for the Russian has so manouvred for place that only a spring will save the lion. It is a spring that he doesn't want to take first. But the world is waiting for it and it will probably come in the spring.

BETTER PRICES FOR IRON.

The iron market is said to be an indicator of the business situation. For the past year the iron market has not been very good. Prices have gone down until the lowest prices in the history of the country have been reached. Gradually during the past six weeks there has been a better feeling, and now prices are slowly traveling the up-grade. This is not so in all classes of iron and steel, but in many directions it is very noticeable. Bessemer pig iron which was down to $15, at Pittsburgh and in the Mahoming valley has sold up to $15.85. The Engineering and Mining Journal says the prospects for trade are so good that in the Mahoming valley wages of furnace men have been advanced 10 per cent.

"INDEPENDENT, WITH A LEAN."

It is related that when the Daily News changed hands the future politics of the paper came up for discussion at a directors meeting. It was an embarrassing situation. With a large majority of republican stockholders and a well-known democratic politician for editor it was decided to take a middle course, and, so the story goes, a leading and influential stockholder said: "Make it independent with a lean—a republican lean." Here is a sample of the "lean" in today's issue: The republican gold-bug organs that are objecting to the silver dollar should not forget that the only silver dollars in this country were put in circulation oy the republicans.

The first of October brought with it a most radical innovation in the educational policy of France, namely, the complete secularization of the boys' schools. The law of 1885 decreed that within five years from October, 1886, this must be accomplished. Steady efforts have been made in this direction all along, and in 1890, of 52,000 teachers in these schools only 1213 were of the clerical orders. The law of 1886 decreed that a similar change must be made in the girls' schools, as a sufficient number of secular lady teachers can be secured to take the place of the sisters. As yet of the 44,000 lady teachers in France 11,000 are sisters.

A Superior paper has a scare head beginning, "Where We Will Lie." It isn't a matter of speculation as to where Superior editors will lie, but why they do and how they can do so much of it. The locality doesn't trouble them at all. It comes natural for them to do their lying almost anywhere they may happen to be. Of course they do the most of it when they are writing about Duluth.

Two week more and the agony of the fall elections will be over. A few more rallies, a little more eloquence, quite a quantity of lying, any amount of boasting, a little more blowing of tin horns, rattling of tin pans and swing of corn stalk canes and the I-told-you fellows will strut on deck to weary the disconsolate.

Duluth has over twice as many traveling men on the road this fall as last, and everyone of them is an untiring commercial evangelist, preaching the glad news of Duluth's advantages. They are missionaries who are spreading the name of our city and its institutions all over the Northwest. May their numbers increase!

President Harrison thinks the most convincing arguments in favor of universal arbitration are smokeless powder, big guns, torpedoes and great ships. He is right. Germany has found a big standing army a wonderful promoter of peace.

It would be cheaper to put the county prisoners in a glass case and feed them on humming birds' wings than to pay a dollar a day for the light exercise they get on the city streets.

LET'S see, wasn't it about two weeks ago that the Tribune kindly notified its strongly doubting contemporaries that they could be assured of the truth of a railway item by calling on a certain lawyer? He had, it said, articles of incorporation for a road to run from the Port Arthur, Duluth & Western "across Minnesota Point into Wisconsin" and would file them in a day or two. He hasn't filed 'em yet.

NEW YORK papers say the Ohio campaign isn't educational. Perhaps not what the effete East would call educational. Andrew D. White and Edward Atkinson, and Professor Huxley and Ella Wheeler Wilcox are not in it, but Bill McKinley is and is making a campaign that's educating the democrats.

AMUSEMENTS.

Tonight there will be an opportunity of hearing Ray L. Royce in "Toni's Vacation" at Temple Opera. Mr. Royce has some excellent people with him including Lucia B. Griffin, the bright and clever impersonator and Minnie A. C. Moore, the banjo king, whose equal on this instrument has never been heard. Jessie Lindsay, the artistic and graceful skirt dancer, recently from Kiralfy's grand spectacular of "King Solomon," New York and many others of equal merit.

Of the New York Philarmonic club, which appears at the Temple Friday evening, Freund's Music and Drama says: "Mr. Marquardt the new leading violinist, is a pupil of the Berlin Royal High school, a favorite of Joachim, a member of the famous Bilse orchestra and a soloist with Richter. He has also been the soloist of the Mendelssohn Quintet club, of Boston. For this, the 14th season of the existence of the club, arrangements have been completed which promise to produce results of great interest. Novelties in the shape of sextets have been secured from P. J. Tschaikowsky, Heinrich Zollner, Asger Hamerick, Theo. Gouvy, E. Kretschmer, Heinrich Hoffmann, Arnold Krug, Fr. Gernsheim, B. Godard, Moszkowski, Charles Kurth, besides a number of smaller compositions by Nicode, B. Klein, E. Pizzi, E. Gillet and others. Not only will these compositions be novelties, but they have been composed expressly for the Philharmonic club by the distinguished musicians named. Miss Marion S. Weed will be the vocalist for the season. She is said to have one of the loveliest contralto voices in the country. The other members of the party are Ernest Mahr, violoncello; Friedhold Hermann, viola; Sebastian Laender, violin; and August Kalhoff, double bass.

FAIR LAND BOOMERS.

Experiences of Two Girls From Minneapolis in Oklahoma.

Miss Louisa Taylor arrived in St. Paul last evening, having just returned from Oklahoma, where she, in company with Miss May Henninger, went to secure land at the opening of the strip. Both the young ladies reside in Minneapolis and both are dressmakers. A Minneapolis Journal man inquired what luck they had in securing homesteads. Miss Taylor replied that they were very kindly treated by the hundreds of men who were there on the same errand, and they would have stood no chance at all but for the kindness of the latter.

"Although they had themselves to look after," says Miss Taylor, "two young men from St. Cloud held our claims for us, and they are still holding them. We have a house built on each of our farms, and my brothers will go and live in them. They are too young to do the necessary plowing, but they can inhabit the houses. We got back from the trip last night and came to St. Paul to see our young brothers, who work for the Great Northern."

The young ladies will return to the Oklahoma country in the gentle springtime, when the young man's fancy pictures other things besides plowing, and there is no telling what may turn up, though both the fair Minneapolitans deny the possibility of a romantic ending of the affair.

A BATTLESHIP OF BRICK.

Work in Chicago on a Naval Vessel That Will Never Float.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The imitation battleship Illinois, at the naval pier, foot of Fifth-ninth street, is now rising from the water. Work is progressing satisfactorily on the hull. The deck will measure over all 350 by 70 ft. This structure is to cost $100,000 and is the most original illustration of naval architecture ever worked out.

"Within two weeks," said Architect Grogan, "we can begin putting in the steel beams for the main deck, which rests upon the brick work." This will be covered with cement, giving contour and shape to the lines of the vessel. Upon the naval pier surrounding the exhibit the flooring is all laid. Material for the Illinois is arriving every day, the construction track along the pier enabling it to be delivered right alongside the vessel."

'Twas Night Upon the Lake.

[For The Herald by E. W. D.]

'Twas night upon the lake before the sun was set;
For clouds came o'er his face, with garments dark
Whose folds the threat'ning rain tossed to and fro;
And drops of rain came dashing 'thwart the pane,
Slantwise, like arrows from an angry sky!
We, looking out, saw, in the unlocked lake,
Gray rifts of water showing here and there
Amid its icy whiteness, for the spring
Had mildly bidden ev'ry wintry door
For her advancing feet to open swing,
And, gazing thus, our hearts grew sore at parting.—
Parting to come, alas, within the hour!
And so the sky and lake, in sympathy
Seemed sad and tearful, as in company,
It seemed so drear! And then, the thought, maybap,
That ne'er the sun would shine on us again
Together, caused us heart-ache and forebodiug.
Oh! 'Twas love that made it thus,—our sacred love!
And then we wondered, "thus," and "if," and "so."
Our darkened faces, sad in ev'ry line,
Were made so, not by sun and light shut out,
But by the loss that comes at parting. Then
Upon the window looking west, there came
A tapping, as to bid us turn our eyes.
The rain had called us! And we looked once more
Only to see the sun glance out, and dart
His beams to-us-ward.

When we turned again,
Behold a rainbow spanned the lake from north
To south! And, someway then, a "bow of promise"
Reached from my heart to yours, dear one, with love
Of seven color's,—beautiful,—complete!
We spake, and hoped the omen well for us.
And we were happier than e'er before!
God bless you, darling mine! Do not forget.

A SENSIBLE CORRESPONDENT.

A Well-Posted Writer Who Talks on Mesaba Ore Business.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The Duluth & Winnipeg is going to cross the St. Louis and run over to Allouez bay on the Superior side (and Mr. Merritt says this is where they will build the ore docks) and the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern is to connect with the Winnipeg. This is surely very nice for Duluth. Is it of any more benefit to Duluth than to ship from Two Harbors? Is is not in point of fact better to have Two Harbors the shipping port than to have it on the Wisconsin side? I do not think it would be over 68 miles by rail from the Mountain Iron company's lands to the Iron Range road and thence to Two Harbors. No shorter route, if as short, can be obtained and I think it would be fully 75 miles to Allouez bay. But if it is 68 miles to the Iron Mountain company's property by this route it would be only 56 miles to the Biwabik mine, 12 miles less; while it would be 12 miles more than to the Iron Mountain property via the Allouez bay route. Can a new railriad like the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern, with no local business, carry ore and make expenses in competion with the Duluth & Iron Range with its large local and passenger business and its present ore traffice of 900,000 tons per annum? There is no sentiment in this.

The ore on the Mesaba ranges wants the cheapest port it can get. Where is this port to be found? I say the Iron Range road, if it built along the Mesaba, could ship ore in the spring of 1892, while the other route in no possible way (say what they will) could be ready with its road, equipment and ore docks before the spring of 1893, if it could then. What object has any citizen of Duluth in turning from the Minnesota port of Two Harbors to Duluth's rival, the Wisconsin side?

Nobody so Well Off.

"Matthew Marshall," in N. Y. Sun: Recrossing the ocean to South America, we find, besides the Argentine Republic, which is in a hopeless financial collapse, Brazil hardly much better and Chile and Peru suffering from war and revolution. On our own North American continent, Mexico has only recently emerged from a national bankruptcy through a compromization with her creditors, and Canada is struggling with a national debt altogether disproportionate to her population, and from a very unsatisfactory state of industrial and commercial affairs. Taking, therefore, the whole civilized world together, there is no country which has so little to complain of as the United States.

NEW DULUTH!

"There is more money in the air for Real Estate investments in Duluth at the present time than at any time in the past history of the city." That is the way a prominent investor put it a few days ago. And so there is. We all know that money will be invested---the question is where? Money will just as surely follow certain paths as water is sure to flow down hill. Real Estate investments go where the best improvements have been made and where the prospects for future improvements are surest. What place at the Head of the Lakes besides Duluth proper will answer this the best? Not a man who has followed the work of the past year but will admit that New Duluth has made more and better improvements than any place at the Head of the Lakes and that the conditions there are more favorable for rapid growth and great developments. Besides several very large and substantial manufactories there have been built during the past summer over one hundred and twenty-five handsome dwelling houses--not shanties--a beautiful school, several churches, a number of substantial brick stores, and the place is busy with trowel and hammer nearly day and night. If you have not seen New Duluth, see it by all means. It will mean money to you if you are an investor. The shrewd man invests before the greatest activity. The time to invest in New Duluth is NOW!

HARD CROP TO HANDLE.

The Northwestern Grain of 1891 Harder to Handle Than the Famous Crop of Three Years Ago.

Then It Was Only Frost the Inspectors Had to Fear and the Amount Was Comparatively Small;

Now it is Half a Dozen Things and the Amount is Far Greater Than Ever Before.

"The crop of 1888," said Chief Deputy Grain Inspector Fulton, "does not compare with this year's crop for difficulty in inspecting. And that was the worst we ever had. Then there was a very small amount of wheat here to handle and frost was the only element that interfered. How is it now? We are handling more wheat than ever came to the head of Lake Superior and there are many things that make its inspection difficult. There is any amount of frosted wheat and although there isn't as much smut as a while ago there is more than in previous years. Besides there is wet wheat and damp wheat.

"Within the past three or four days the wet wheat has poured in here in large quantities. What do we do with it? Why, we give it the same grade as if it was not wet and classify it under the no grade. For instance, we would call wet No. 1 hard no grade No. 1 hard. Elevator H, which is a private elevator, handles this kind of wheat and after it has been dried and put in proper condition we allow it to go out under the grade it would have had were it not for the moisture in it.

"You remember that when Mr. Canning was before the legislative smelling committee he testified that it was not proper to inspect wet and damp wheat in the way I have just described to you. Well, you ought to see him now. He gets some of the wet wheat and he doesn't kick on the way we grade it. It's different now."

Mr. Fulton thinks that the remainder of the season before navigation closes will see unusually large shipments from here in case the weather holds good.

THE COUNCIL.

A Drubbing for the Water Company; To Hustle the Bridge.

At the meeting of the city council last night a resolution was introduced authorizing the board of works to erect a drawbridge over the canal. Alderman Long said that as neither plans nor an accurate estimate had been submitted he thought the resolution too previous. It was referred back. Previous to the introduction of the resolution a communication from the board was read, in which it was recommended that a sliding draw swing bridge be built; that a draw would cost much less—from $100,000 to $150,000—that because of the decreased cost the entire amount could be assessed against Park Point property, as that property would be easily benefited to the entire amount: that a draw would necessitate but one pier; that it could be operated much more economically than a swing bridge, and that small craft could pass without necessitating the opening of the bridge to its full width; that there would be no need of paying damages to property. The board wants authority to prepare plans and an estimate.

The board of works stated that gas and water mains in Lake avenue are not properly laid; that the company has been notified to lay them properly, and that the company had replied that the city should pay for their removal; that the company should not be asked to do anything in the way of a favor to the city considering the attitude of the present council toward the company. The matter was referred to the city attorney and he said that the pipes were not laid under the direction of the village; that the pipes were not laid in proper place, and should be moved by the company. The board called attention to the old reservoir, claiming that it is in a dangerous condition. The board also believes that the overhanging rock on Michigan street, near Thirteenth avenue should be removed.

Receiver Voss, of Messrs. Bell & Anderson, stated that the city is yet indebted to Bell and Anderson and requesting payment of $3500. The matter was referred to the board of works. The board of fire commissioners asked for authority to make a loan of $30,000. The county sent in a bill to the city for $356, representing 356 days work performed during August by prisoners convicted in municipal court under the state law, on the streets of the city, and Attorney Tear says that if the city does not pay the bill he will sue for it. Some other minor business was done.

The Lakeside Council.

The Lakeside council did nothing but discuss rebates on the London avenue assessment last night. It was finally decided to make a rebate of $100 on lot 4, block 91, on account of its peculiar shape. The Lakeside fire department employing four men is now in working order. The new chemical engine, which is a double forty, was tested yesterday afternoon and proved to be most satisfactory.

WHALEBACK WARSHIPS.

Use of the McDougall Boats as Auxiliary Cruisers.

In referring to the likelihood of the secretary of the navy advising to congress the abrogation of the treaty with England restricting the maintenance of a force of war vessels on the great lakes, a Washington special says:

One proposition that the secretary may favor, in recommendations to congress, is that hereafter when vessels are constructed for service on the lakes, they may be so built that it will not be impossible or even difficult to convert them at short notice into serviceable cruisers. It will not be necessary that they shall be armed, but they may be built, in some particular to be indicated by the naval constructors so that they can be provided with mounts and guns, to be held in readiness at some point for immediate shipment, and that plans showing the location of guns accompany the parts provided, the plans being so made and adhered to on most of the vessels that the gun of a certain weight and power will answer for many steamers alike.

With the government free to provide several training ships for the naval reserve that may be organized at lake cities and all new steel ships constructed with a view to conversion in a few days into cruisers that would certainly be eqnal in powers and fighting qualities to any vessels Canada could command the services of in a similar time the northern border would be safe for time, from all invasion.

THEY COME HOME.

Two Young Duluth Girls Who Thought to See Life.

Among the passengers who came in on a St. Paul train this morning were Lottie Blanchard and Louise Egan, two misses of good families respectively aged 15 and 16, who know a little more than they did yesterday morning. A St. Paul paper this morning says of them: "They are both well-dressed, innocent looking and bright girls. They were taken up whilst strolling on the street yesterday morning by a policeman and turned over to Relief Agent Hutchins, who placed them in the care of the jail matron until their friends can be communicated with. They live in Duluth and started out for a lark Sunday night. One of them seemed very repentant and wept when asked about her escapade. The other appeared less concerned but both are willing to return home."

Lottie Blanchard is daughter of Conductor Blanchard, while Louise Egan is stepdaughter of Police Clerk Force, and has formerly resided in Minneapolis. They were detained and brought back at the request of relatives.

Preparing for a Plan.

President Monfort, of the World's fair commission, is preparing a plan for raising St. Paul's portion of the $100,000 wanted to put into Chicago, and will submit it to the business men of the city. It will probably differ from the one adopted in Minneapolis, where two notes have been made out and about 400 business men selected to indorse them. Steps will soon be taken here in Duluth to see what may be done in the matter of raising the $7300 wanted from here. It will probably be by two notes with endorsers.

Governor Merriam is sending out letters to prominent men through the state urging them to interest themselves in securing the necessary funds for the World's fair exhibit. The time is rapidly approaching when funds will be needed, and it is with a view to stirring up individual interest in the matter that the governor is making personal appeals to individuals. Several Duluth men have received letters.

A Whaleback Disaster.

That you cannot tell one moment where you may be the next is an old saying, the truth of which was yesterday demonstrated to the captain of the 107 in a very thorough manner. While the skipper and a companion were rowing their boat came in contact with a tug. Thinking to avert the threatened catastrophe the skipper rose in his boat and made a herculean effort to push the tug to one side. The effort proved unavailing, whereupon the captain slid head foremost into the water. Perhaps the saddest part of the story is the fact that the captain's companion, with wonderful presence of mind, remained quietly seated during the enacting of this exciting episode and escaped without a wetting.

A Bank for Grand Rapids.

C. M. Hastings, of Minneapolis, proprietor of the Windsor hotel and Mr. Sheldon, of Prince, Sheldon & Co., bankers of Cloquet and Stillwater, have completed the organization of a bank at Grand Rapids. It is called the Lumbermens Bank of Grand Rapids, and will probably start with $25,000 capital. C. M. Hastings is president and Frank Sheldon cashier. The bank is to be located on Kindred avenue, adjoining the Beckfelt block. The only bank in that section at present is that at La Prairie, in which several Duluthians are interested.

A Mixed Relationship.

Standford, the sort of step-father-in-law of Capt. S. B. Barker, who tried to shoot the Captain Sunday, is believed to be insane. He is the alleged husband of the mother of the woman with whom Barker now lives, Stanford having married her four years ago in St. Paul. Had it not been for a poor pistol and poor cartridges, Stanford would not have a step-son-in-law.

"Where God's Thunderbolts Have Struck."

An opportunity of a lifetime. This lecture of Dr. Hastings at the Pilgrim congregational church tonight will be beautifully illustrated by the stereopticon showing the literal fulfillment of phophecy in the desolation of Egypt, Babylon, Ninevah, Lyre, Petra, Jerusalem and Rome. Dr. Hastings has consented to give an additional lecture Wednesday evening at the same place on "Spiritualism." Admission, 25 cents.

A New Single Saw Mill.

A company has been organized at Ironwood for the purpose of erecting a saw mill on the Montreal river. The supply of timber will be secured from along the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway. The capital stock is $30,000. Several Milwaukeeans are interested.

In the Southern Sphere.

Capt. Harris of the barge works, says according to reckoning the Wetmore must be about opposite the La Platte river off the South American coast in her trip around the Horn. He thinks she was far enough south to escape the recent heavy gale.

Real Estate Record.

Miss Nellie Orton's Daily Real Estate Record made its first appearance yesterday. It is yet in an emhryo state, but is printed on good paper in a neat and tasty style. Miss Orton expects to include in the sheet, transfers and realty news on both sides the bay.

The management had failed to get the thing in good working order, but the company overcame all these obstacles and gave a good entertainment. Burglars in Saloons

Last night burglars entered three saloons on Central avenue. In each case they opened the back door with a chisel. At the Lenox they secured about $5 in change and some liquor and cigars. At the Bodega they got nothing but liquor and cigars, but at the Tremont, they took a watch, revolver, and what change there was in the drawer. An attempt was made to enter the house of J. Sullivan on Second street north but the thieves were driven away.

WHY HYDE IS ALONE.

Why the Settler on the Rich Hyde-McDonald Tract is Before Secretary Noble Without a Lawyer.

W. T. Bailey Has Advanced Him $15,000 But Can't Stand Forever Against Rich Companies.

So Hyde Sells His all and Makes a Last Break for What he Discovered and Owned.

"I have met about 50 people during the past 24 hours or since The Herald announced he was there," said W. T. Bailey, "who have asked me why at this moment I have allowed Hyde to go to Washington and plead his own case instead of paying for a lawyer for him. They evidently don't know what I have spent in this case and how expensive lawyers are. A few weeks ago when Knute Nelson was sent to Washington by me to look after Hyde's interests he had to have a retainer of $500. When he got there the case was postponed until last week for some reason or other and he had to return home. If he had gone back to Washington last week I would have been compelled to pay him another $500 and it would have been money thrown away as I would have had to pay still another $500 on account of an adjournment until yesterday.

"I have spent $15,000 in helping Hyde in the contest, and I'm not in it with the big mining corporations, whose backing is millions.

"Yes, Hyde went down there single handed to fight those big lawyers, whose retainers amount in one or two cases to $10,000. He sold every dollar's worth of goods he had in order to reach Washington, and only yesterday I received a telegram from him telling me that he must have $10 to get out of the city."

There is great interest manifested throughout Duluth in the hearing before Secretary Noble. Comment on the fairness of the secretary in allowing Hyde every opportunity to prove his right to the land, even to throwing down the bars of formality which usually exist in land office hearings at Washington, is very common here. Everybody seems satisfied that the secretary will give each party interested, the greatest opportunity possible to show his claims, and that when a decision is reached it will not be very far from the right. There is some hope that the contest will now be speedily settled.

At Washington yesterday afternoon Hyde told the secretary that the tract that he claimed was settled upon by him as a pre-emption; that he now found himself juggled out of it. He did not know how. It was pretended that R. D. Mallett had his relinquishment. Further than this, it was not likely that he would dispose of his rights for a song, as he had been offered $75,000 for his rights. The material point is whether the Chippewa half-breed scrip can be located by the purchaser or by the half-breed to whom it was issued.

At the Depot.

The floors of the Union depot building have been cleared off preparatory to laying the tile, and the work of tiling has begun in the barber shop. The floors of the building will be in red tile laid to represent brick, so that the floors and walls of the room, to the height of a man's head, will be of red pressed brick. Above that height they will be frescoed. The ceiling in the main waiting room is completed and presents a beautiful and massive appearance. Every day now changes the appearance of the building, so rapidly is the work being pushed.

Use Bed ord Stone.

The Duluth public building affair was settled at Washington yesterday and the work will proceed under the contract first awarded. The matter was settled by a letter from the chamber of commerce, saying that prominent people of Duluth had been considering that it would be better to allow the original contract to stand. They believed that the building would look better if constructed from a different stone than that generally used. Secretary Thompson said that the general opinion is that the stir was created by the local stone men, who were disgruntled at not getting their stone used.

Marine Notes.

The whaleback barge 135, which was recently ashore on Topsail island, St. Mary's river, is in the old basin of the Ship Owners' dock, at Cleveland. It is stated that she is worse damaged than the 102, which left the same dock only a few days ago, and the repairs on which amounted to $3500.

The Ira Owen, which has not been in Duluth for a year and a half, was chartered for a load of grain from here yesterday.

There were no clearances from Two Harbors yesterday.

A raft of logs containing 3,000,000 feet, which left Ontonagon Saturday morning for Nester's Baraga mill, in tow of the steamer Schoolcraft and tugs Cotton and Hebard, went to pieces 22 miles out. It will be impossible to pick them up this fall. The loss to the Nester estate will probably be in the neighborhood of $40,000. The distance from Ontonagon to Baraga is 200 miles, going around Keweenaw Point, and in order to get the raft safely over it would take six days of continuous calm weather, which cannot be depended on at this time of year on Lake Superior.

SALES ARE VERY LARGE

Duluth Wheat Handlers Sell and Work for Direct Export to Europe Large Quantities of Wheat Today.

Posted Receipts of Grain at Duluth Nearly Equal all Other Western Points Combined for the Day.

Prices, After Holding Well for a Time, Fall Off About Two Cents a Bushell all Around.

With posted receipts of 634,000 bu here 308,000 bu at Minneapolis, and a little less than 600,000 bu at all other Western points, and wheat moving forward rapidly from the country, while the weather was all that could be desired, there was a large amount of wheat to come out on this board today. There were numerous sellers. Van Dusen, Ames, McKindley, Birch, Carter, Turle, Paine, Canning, Linton and all other receivers were offering freely at the opening at about last night's prices. Van Dusen had an immense amount of wheat for sale. There was a steady feeling, however, for a long period, as the demand from New York and the East generally was excellent while there were some orders here for the other side. Sawyer had big orders and worked 20 loads for New York and abroad. Spencer, Moore & Co. and Thomson also did a good business in the shipping line and all these firms bought liberally of cash, October and November. A great deal of wheat was sold to be delivered the first half of November at about October prices. Bailey was a heavy buyer of cash.

Car receipts here and at Minneapolis aggregated 925, against 1060 reported yesterday. The weather west this morning was very fine and threshing has been resumed. A large amount of wheat seems to have been turned this way from Southern Minnesota. A Lacrosse miller wired Chicago that receipts on the Southern Minnesota line were increasing rapidly.

Cables came in lower this morning. There was considerable inquiry from abroad for our wheat and export sales were good. France was said to be again a buyer. Receipts at the seaboard were 579,000 bu and clearances were 277,000 bu. Wheat on passage decreased 1,144,000.

Cash wheat sold early in cargo quantities. No. 1 hard opened unchanged at 95¼c, afterwards sold at 95½c, broke and closed at 93c. No. 1 northern opened at 94c, held steady for a time, then weakened and closed at 92c, early a few cars to arrive sold at 93¾c. No. 2 northern opened at 89c and closed at 87c. No. 3 opened at 84c and closed at 82c. Rejected opened at 70c and closed at 68c.

October No. 1 hard opened at 95¼c and closed at 93¼. No. 1 northern opened at 94c, sold off ¼, held steady, then broke and closed at 92c.

November No. 1 northern sold at October prices early, for deliveries the first half of the month and 1c lower for regular November.

December No. 1 hard opened ¼ lower at 94¾c and closed at 93¾c. No. 1 northern opened unchanged, first sold ⅜c up at 93⅜c, sold down to 91¾c and closed at 91¼c.

May No. 1 hard opened at $1.03 and closed at $1.00¾. No. 1 northern opened at $1.00¾ and closed at 98½c.

The Northern Pacific also had 3 cars flax and 5 of barley the Eastern Minnesota, 2 of flax, and the St. Paul & Duluth 19 of flax. Inspection out—Barge 116, 81,750 bu 1 hard.

In the Crop Year to Date.

So far this crop year Duluth has received over 13,000,000 bu of wheat and manufactured about 120,000 bbls of flour, and not two months have yet passed. Duluth is great and there is no mistaking it. Last week Minneapolis received more wheat than Duluth, but it was the first week of the crop such a thing has happened, and if Jupiter Pluvius will only let the Red River valley alone for a while, it will not be likely to happen again very soon.

The Close Elsewhere.

Minneapolis—December, No. 1 northern opened at 90⅝c, closed at 89¾c; May opened 97⅜c, closed 96¼c; on track No. 1 hard, 90c; No. 1 northern, 89c; No. 2 northern, 85@86c.

Chicago—Close: Wheat, December, 94⅛c; May, $1.01⅛. Corn, November, 48⅝c; May, 41⅝c. Oats, November, 28¼c; May, 30⅝c. Pork, December, $8.57½; January, $11.21¼; May, $11.47½. Lard, November, $6.25; December, $6.30; January, $6.35; May, $6.65. Ribs, November, $6; December, $5.80; January, $5.70@82½; May, $6.15.

New York Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Money 3@3½ per cent. Exchange steady. Trading in stocks this morning was even less active than during the same hours of yesterday. In fact the morning's business was smaller than for a long time past. In the two hours to noon the sales only aggregated 43,000 shares. Outside of New England, Burlington, Atchison, L. & N., Northern Pacific preferred, Adams and a few others there was nothing done. The market at noon was dull but steady at opening prices.

Week's Flour Business.

Below is a statement of the production and movement of flour at Duluth for the week:

	Production.	Shipments.	In store.
Imperial mill	14,876	3,673	14,106
Duluth Roller mill	2,495	2,130	2,105
Total	17,371	5,803	17,300
	Receipts
St. Paul & Duluth	54,650	16,440	97,149
Eastern Minnesota	39,714	16,516	64,088
Northern Pacific	24,700	550	24,150
Omaha	7,570	1,025	10,897
Total	126,643	40,334	212,583
Previous week	104,398	77,589	127,654
Last year	86,212	73,137	52,280
Production last week			17,132
Production week last year			10,900

The large amount in store here is due to the blockade at the Sault. One noticeable feature of the report is the large receipts by the Northern Pacific, which come from Northern Minnesota and Dakota mills. Shipments from these mills to the East have never been so heavy as during the present season.

WANTS BIG DAMAGES.

A Suit in Which a Peculiar Incident Occurs Early.

P. F. Conger vs. the Northern Pacific was called for trial in United States circuit court this morning. This is a personal damage case for $10,000 brought by a fine looking old business man of West Superior and this morning he decided to raise the demand to $25,000. He claims that he broke his hip by falling from the West Superior depot platform while assisting Mrs. A. McDonald, of Duluth, to board the train, and that the train started too soon. There was something of a sensation when the defense pointed to a loudly-dressed woman sitting not far from Mrs. McDonald, and said that she and not Mrs. McDonald was the woman. It promises to be the most interesting suit of the term. Larrabee, of Minneapolis, is attorney for plaintiff and Chris O'Brien, of St. Paul, for defense.

The suit for damages against the Chandler Iron company was non-suited for lack of evidence.

Sold to Leech Lake Indians.
